

61—35.6(715A) Expiration of identity theft passports. An identity theft passport issued by the office of the attorney general shall be valid for a period of five years from the date of issuance or renewal. The victim to whom an expired identity theft passport was issued may reapply to the office of the attorney general for renewal of the identity theft passport within 30 days after its expiration. The office of the attorney general may renew the identity theft passport in the same manner that initial passports are issued, as outlined in rule 61—35.3(715A).
