

671—2.4(305) Availability of the manual. The state records commission shall, through the state archives and records bureau, maintain a current state records manual and shall make that manual available to all agencies. Copies of the state records manual, either on paper or in electronic format, will be available to the public on demand for the cost of publication and distribution. Price information will be available from the state archives and records bureau.