

7—2505.7(17A,22) Consent to disclosure by the subject of a confidential record. To the extent permitted by law, a person who is the subject of a confidential record may have the portion of the record concerning that person disclosed to a third party. A request for such a disclosure must be in writing, identify the particular record or records to disclose, identify the person or class of persons to whom the record may be disclosed, and state when and where the disclosure should be made. The lawful custodian may require the requester and, where applicable, the person to whom the record is to be disclosed to provide proof of identity and may, when necessary, impose additional obligations for special classes of records. Except where legally prohibited, a request by a person's attorney is presumed to be a request by the person to disclose records about that person to the attorney. The attorney making such request may be required to show proof of representation.
