

875—217.5(91D) Determinations of “fair value.”

217.5(1) Procedure. The procedures governing the making of determinations of the “fair value” of board, lodging, or other facilities for defined classes of employees and in defined areas under the definition of wage shall be the same as that prescribed in rule 875—217.4(91D) with respect to determinations of “reasonable cost.”

217.5(2) Petitions of interested persons. Any petition by an employee or an authorized representative of employees, an employer or group of employers, or other interested persons for a determination of “fair value” shall contain the information required under 875—subrule 215.3(23) and, to the extent possible, the following:

- a. A proposed definition of the class or classes of employees involved;
- b. A proposed definition of the area to which any requested determination would apply; and
- c. Any measure of “fair value” of the furnished facilities which may be appropriate in addition to the cost of such facilities.
