

641—38.12(136C) Requirements for formal education. Formal education has to meet the following minimum requirements:

38.12(1) General radiologic technology formal education must be recognized by the ARRT to allow students to qualify for the general radiography examination.

38.12(2) Nuclear medicine technology formal education must be recognized by the ARRT or NMTCB to allow students to qualify for the nuclear medicine technology examination.

38.12(3) Radiation therapy formal education must be recognized by the ARRT to allow students to qualify for the radiation therapy examination.

38.12(4) Radiologist assistant formal education must provide training to allow students to qualify for a department-approved radiologist assistant examination.

38.12(5) Limited radiologic technologist formal education must meet the minimum standards specified in this chapter.

38.12(6) X-ray equipment operator formal education must meet the minimum standards as outlined in this chapter.

[ARC 0288D, IAB 5/13/26, effective 7/1/26]