

761—611.1(321) Applicability.

611.1(1) This chapter applies to personal information in records pertaining to drivers' licenses and nonoperators' identification cards. In addition to information on current licensees and cardholders, these records include information on individuals who do not currently hold a driver's license or nonoperator's identification card. Operating records and records of driver sanctions are two examples.

611.1(2) Rules regarding personal information about vehicle owners in records pertaining to certificates of title and vehicle registration are found in 761—Chapter 415.
