

281—21.57(260C) Purpose. The purpose of quality instructional centers is to stimulate the pursuit of excellence in community college instruction by promoting the creation or enhancement of high quality, unique, high cost, capital intensive, or highly specialized vocational-technical and occupational programs, which cannot be practically or economically offered at more than a few colleges.