COMPUTER SCIENCE WORKGROUP REPORT PUBLISHED

The Department of Education has published a report on the recommendations of the Computer Science Work Group that was established in FY 2017 by SF 274 (Computer Science Act). The Work Group met four times between May and October 2017. The recommendations address the following topics:

- Allowing a computer science course to satisfy graduation requirements for math and science.
- Integrating high-quality computer science courses into career and technical education pathways.
- Finding appropriate settings for computer science courses, including traditional high school settings, concurrent enrollment classes, and online.
- Setting guidelines for appropriate scope and sequence of computer science instruction at each grade level.
- Using the Computer Science Professional Development Fund to meet the goals of the law.

The full report is available here.
