

State Park, Forest, and Recreation Area Visits — CY 2019

Numerous outdoor opportunities exist in Iowa. The Department of Natural Resources' Guide to Iowa State Parks includes information on the following outdoor attractions:

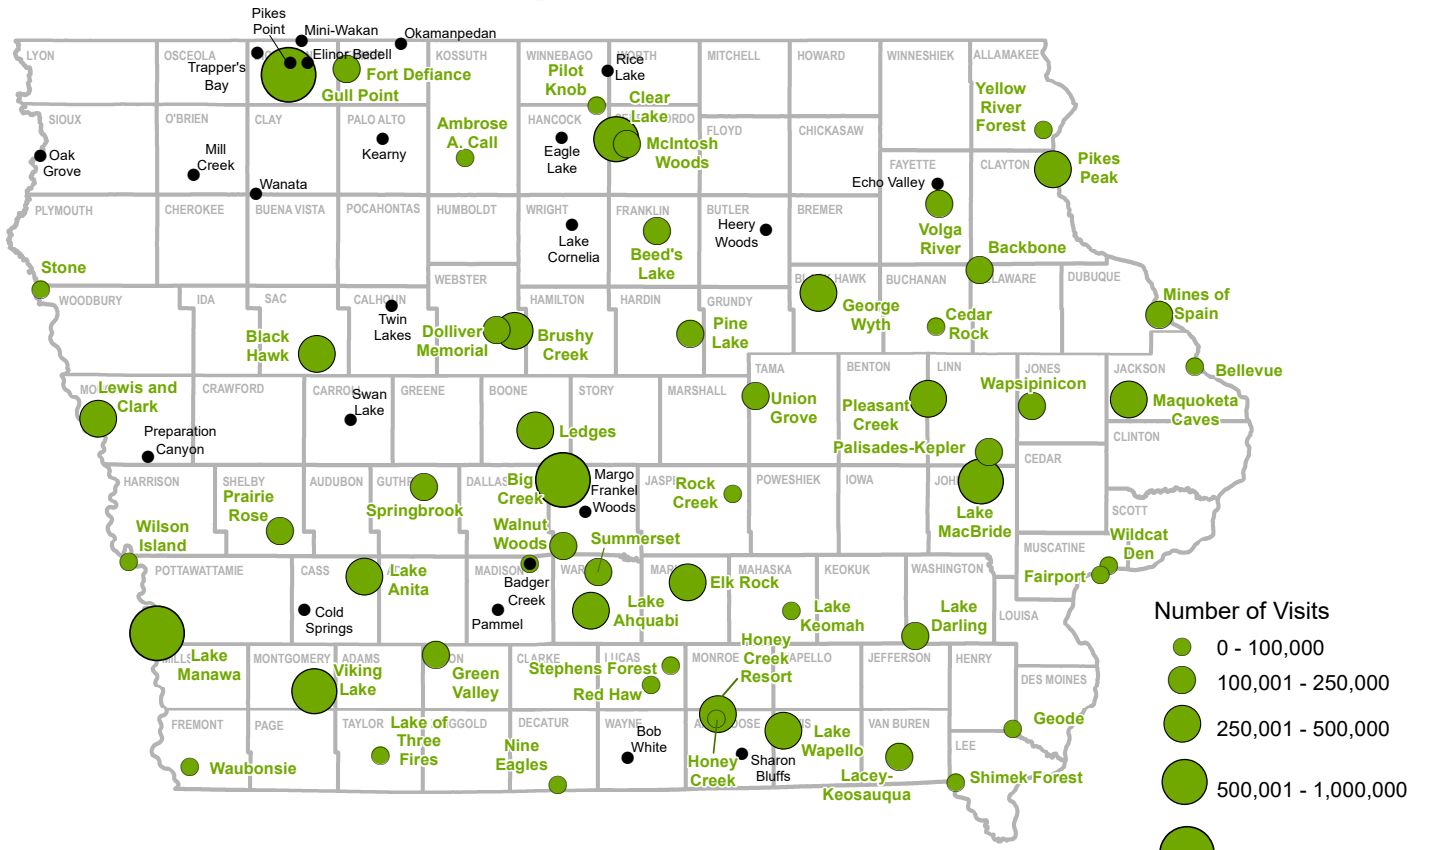

- State parks and recreation areas, which offer camping, hiking, hunting, fishing, and other outdoor activities.
- State forests, which offer hiking, hunting, and camping.
- State preserves, which have fewer recreational activities but feature unique biological natural resources, geological sites, archaeological finds, historical areas, or scenic views.
- Distinctive facilities such as the Springbrook Conservation Education Center* and Honey Creek Resort, which provide educational and recreational outdoor activities for groups and classrooms.

10
State Forests
with Over
45,000 Acres

69
State Parks
with Over
41,000 Acres

19
State Recreation
Areas with Over
16,000 Acres

*Due to current budget reductions, the Springbrook Conservation Education Center has discontinued educational programming at this time, but educational programs are still offered at Springbrook State Park.

Source: Department of Natural Resources
LSA Staff Contact: Rodrigo Acevedo (515.281.6764) rodrigo.acevedo@legis.iowa.gov