Utility Improvements — PRF

History and Purpose

This appropriation addresses utility improvements of Department of Transportation (DOT) facilities at various locations throughout the State. The improvements include upgrading existing electrical systems that are being used beyond the original load design for the facilities. The existing electrical systems were not designed for the power requirements of new equipment and tools for processes such as brine operations. The DOT typically tries to upgrade six facilities per year.

State Funding

Funding for this appropriation comes from the Primary Road Fund (PRF) and has remained static at $400,000 over the last 10 fiscal years.
