Athletes should be aware that chewing tobacco can have a negative effect on their ability to perform in sports events. Don't be misled by TV ads featuring professional athletes and other rugged individuals who promote the use of smokeless tobacco.

Even though smokeless tobacco containers do not have warning labels from the U.S. Surgeon General as do cigarette packages, the use of this product is dangerous to your health.

If you don't chew or smoke tobacco, don't start. If you already do, stop. Various programs to help people rid themselves of their tobacco habits are available in most communities. Your local clinic or hospital are good places to seek help.

Consumer Advisory

A bulletin from
Attorney General
Bonnie Campbell

Pay in Advance? You're Taking a Chance!

On any given day, dozens of different consumer "scams" are active in Iowa, but there is one feature that is common to almost all of them: Successful con-artists get people to pay in advance.

Advance-fee sales are crucial for most schemes. Why? Victims who pay up-front don't have a chance to inspect the product or service in advance. And - once they are cheated - it is very hard for victims to get their money back.

Advance-pay schemes come in many forms

For example, you might receive a postcard stating that you've won a fabulous prize or gift. But it turns out you have to

James Potgeter Services Held
