One of Funniest in Years Opens Sun. at Empress

Columbia Pictures' "You Can't Run Away From It," starring June Allyson and Jack Lemmon in CinemaScope with print by Technicolor, opens Sunday at the Empress theater.

One of the funniest movies in maybe 20 years, according to Hollywood, "You Can't Run Away From It" is the story of the socialite and the reporter who sang, danced and romanced during a cross-country chase with a joy that is completely infectious.

Told hilariously, romantically and with a wink in its eye, "You Can't Run Away From It" presents Miss Allyson in a zestfully light-hearted type of characterization and Lemmon as a footloose reporter who stumbles on the major story of his minor-league career. Charles Bickford co-stars in the zany new comedy with music in which Miss Allyson plays a socialite whose romance with an international playboy is viewed by her Texas oil king father with jaundiced eye. The father kidnaps her but she escapes and, in disguise, starts a bus trip from California to Houston, Tex., to rejoin her polo-playing fortune-hunter. Aboard the bus is ebullient Jack Lemmon.

Lemmon recognizes June but promises to respect her anonymity in return for her exclusive story. As they bounce and jostle through California, across Arizona and down into Texas, however, they encounter a series of bitter-sweet experiences which set the love light ablaze in their eyes.

Assessment Increased Homes Built Since '50

If you're the owner of a home built in Mills county since 1950 you can expect it to take on an increased value.

Straight across the board the Mills county board of equalization raised a flat 15 per cent the assessment on all houses built since 1950.

This was probably the greatest change the board effected before it closed its deliberations this week.

In boosting the assessment on new homes the board felt that these homes had been under-assessed, Marvin Moore, assessor, said.

Also, the board took of the size of towns assessments. They let towns alone, increase a couple of others, and assess on the county.

Moore said the small towns had been in comparison with a property that probably more than $6.00 a small town would get for $12,000, Moore explained.

The towns the board left alone in leaving alone, Pacific Junction and Henderson. Malvern were raised "under-assessed" Glenmore than the rest.

In another action, versed Assessor Moore asked for an assessment of $5,000 on the Platten. They raised the bid, only $5,000.

Moore has asked of $500,000 on the B-road bridge, and was made. The rate is taking the mat Moore said.

Altogether, the board 10 days but had no persons in to complaints.

ALBERT WRIGHT TURNER

Great Grandpa Albert came to the United States in 1853 aboard the SS Indian with his mother and some of the children. They landed in New Orleans and went north to join his father who had evidently, with the other children, came about two years earlier, settling in Mills County.

Albert Turner Family

His mother, Elizabeth Neal Turner, died in 1853/54. His father, George Frelove Turner, then married a German woman, Sophia. They had two sons, George and Charles. He died prior to February 1857, the date of sale of his property by Sophia to Peter Sarpy, husband of Albert's older sister Ann.

Albert was born in Grimsby, Lincolnshire, England August 21, 1843. He lived in Mills County from 1853 to 1862. He left St. Mary's Township and hitched up with a Mormon oxen team commanded by Captain Canfield and went to Salt Lake City in 1862.

The 1870 census shows him in Mills County again. He married Serena Gowens, daughter of James Gowens and Luvisa Jackson Gowens, December 31, 1871. Nine of their eleven children lived. Oliver Frelove, Lewis Collier, James Albert (child), George Walter (mine), Clarence Calvin (infant), Fredrick Fletcher, Alfred Cleveland, William Clyde, Augusta Adella and Stella Luella (twins) and Anne Elizabeth. My grandfather, the fourth child, was born in Glenwood, December 13, 1877.

Many wonderful stories have been passed down from children to grandchildren. My favorite is about how his children, when he was up in age, could throw a coin into the air and he would hit it with one shot. I would say that is pretty good.

My cousin, Frances Gorman Osler of Council Bluffs, says she can just see the redheaded imp driving a stagecoach across the plains, hair flying in the wind, with a violin over his back, a bottle of whiskey beside him and a song in his heart.

Possessiveness and quick temper was evident when, at his son's dance hall in Nebraska, he knocked a man down a flight of stairs for asking his wife to dance. I wonder what else the man said.

The Gowens girls were very pretty as the Turner boys noticed and three of them married three of the girls. Daniel married Susan, Frelove married Elizabeth and Albert married Serena. Smart move by the boys.

Being proud of my heritage (which includes farmers, merchants, carpenters and clerks) I am including seven generations of my direct lineage. Edward Turner b? married Isabella Frelove, George Frelove Turner born 1801, married Elizabeth Neal, Albert Wright Turner born 1843, married Serena Gowens, George Walter Turner born 1877, married Hester May Bevington, Earl Albert Turner born 1905, married Ora Avis Mathews, Walter Earl Turner (me) born 1932, married Margaret Katherine Harlan and Walter Eugene Turner (my son), born 1965.

Albert Wright Turner is loved by all of his descendants and remembered with great respect. Submitted by Walter Earl Turner

TURNER-GOWENS-DOSH

George Frelove Turner was born December 3, 1801 at Wrangle, England. He grew up, met, and married Elizabeth (Neal) Turner on October 19, 1823. Elizabeth was born on January 7, 1809.

Frelove Turner

George and Elizabeth and their family came to Mills County, Iowa, about 1853 by way of New Orleans and settled in St. Mary's. Some of the children stayed in England. Those that came were: William, Daniel, Frederick, Alford, Albert and Frelove. Elizabeth died soon after and George married a German girl named Sophia by 1855. George soon passed away as he died intestate in July, 1856. They had lived in Section 13, Township 73, Range 44. He was a farmer most of his life. Their gravemarkers have long since been washed away by the Missouri River.

Frelove Turner was born November 10, 1839 at Grimsby, England. He married Elizabeth Ellen (Gowens) Turner at Glenwood on November 19, 1859. Elizabeth was born on March 17, 1838 in Gallitan County, Kentucky. Her parents were James and Maryann Gowens. James was born June 9, 1810 and Maryann was born December 11, 1816. Their birth places are unknown. Other children of James and Maryann were Allisa, Suanna, Lavinna and George James. Maryann died and James married Luvica (Jackson) Gowens about 1844. James moved his family to Mills County about 1856 as he bought land in Section 28, Township 73, Range 43 by the middle of that year. James and Luvica had several children including Serena, who married Frelove's brother, Albert.

Frelove and Elizabeth had eight children in all: Mary Francis, Frelove, Dora Luvica, George William, Clara Romana, Alice Suanna, Carl James and Eva Loreign. Most of them were born in Mills County. Frelove moved his family to Plattsmouth, Nebraska Territory, at the start of the Civil War and enlisted in the Nebraska Volunteers, 2nd Cavalry Regiment, Company H on November 3, 1862 and served until December 8, 1863. After his service he moved back to Mills County where he bought land in 1869 in Section 33, Township 73, Range 43 and settled. In 1880, Elizabeth Ellen and son George William died of typhoid fever. Elizabeth died on September 27, 1880 and both are buried at the Gowens/Turner Cemetery located in Section 28, Township 73, Range 43.

Mary Francis Turner was born March 8, 1861 in Oak Township. She was married on February 7, 1881 to Ebenezer Netherton Dosh in Glenwood. Ebenezer was born August 10, 1859 in Cass County, Nebraska Territory. His parents were Joseph and Lucy Ann Dosh.

Joseph Dosh was born April 14, 1816 at Strausburg, Germany. He came to this country as a stowaway, made his way from Pennsylvania to Indiana where he met and married Lucy. Lucy was born April 6, 1825 in Clark County, Indiana. Their children born in Indiana were Isaac, George, Lyman, Thomas and Lillie. Joseph moved his family to Mills County about 1859. Their children born in Mills County were Adelia, Albert and Otheo. Joseph was a farmer and also the First United Brethren minister in the area.

He bought land in 1871 in Section 2, Township 73, Range 40 and also in Section 30, Township 72, Range 41. Joseph died sometime about 1874. Lucy died January 19, 1908. Both are buried somewhere in Mills County.

Ebenezer and Mary soon moved down to Coleman County, Texas, along with a couple of her sisters and their grandfather, James Gowens, his wife Luvica and several of their children.

Frelove Turner remarried after Elizabeth Ellen's death. He married Mary Baker Gowens. They had one known son, Benjermin. Frelove stayed near Mills County, living with his son in Council Bluffs his remaining years. He died on December 29, 1922 and is buried in the Glenwood Cemetery. Submitted by Greg Bennett Gladys worked in a hardware store until September of 1953 when she went to work as a dietician at the Veterans' Hospital in Iowa City. She worked there until 20 November 1965 when she moved back to Glenwood where she still resides at this time.

John and Gladys had four children; Naomi Pauline, 21 July 1918, died 17 October 1965, married Donald Deitchler, 18 October 1917, died 1 July 1983. They have two sons, Lloyd and Ronald (see Donald Deitchler story).

Margery Louise, born 27 June 1922, married Rolfe Stiles, Jr., born 27 November 1922, they have three children, Michele, Douglas and Laurel.

Virginia Lavina Ann, born 26 September 1926 married James George born 16 November 1925. They have four sons: James, Jr., Harry, John and David.

Donald William, born 28 November 1934 married Ruth Ann Graham born 27 July 1935. They have two daughters; Debi and Kathy.

John Ulm adored his children and devoted his life to his family. Gladys worked hard all of her life caring for her family, sewing all their clothes, always raising a large garden and canning, etc. Besides her own children she helped care for 30 others during her lifetime. Now Gladys enjoys crocheting and is active in the First Christian Church where she had been a lifetime member. Submitted by Merrilee Deitchler
