July 20, 1938, Duane Edward King was born who was then followed by Betty Darlene King on June 7, 1944. Before she and Ted retired in 1978, Pauline worked as a meat cutter at the Bedford Locker Plant for Elvin Beemer and Jim Wilson as well as the never ending job as a farmer's wife. Her family will always have fond memories of her love of flowers, gardening, the Charleston, the family trip to Disneyland, garage sales, and having cookies or cake on hand for the neighborhood children and great grandchildren. She held great pride in her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren always being sure that she made a favorite dish for each at the family meals. She also made sure to have hot rolls on hand for her nephew, Mike Benson, who would stop because he knew she would always have baked them every Sunday.

Pauline died on August 11, 1997 at her home in Bedford at the age of 83 years. She was preceded in death by her parents, Bessie and P.J. Newberry; one sister, Una Alice Williams; and five brothers, Woodrow Wilson Newberry, John Rosco Newberry, Kenneth Doyle Newberry, and Carl Wilkerson Newberry.
