Rites Here Wednesday For Gustave Alesch

Former State Legislator Dies at Home Late Saturday at Age 80 Years

Hundreds of friends from over the immediate area and many from over the state attended funeral services at St. Mary's Catholic church Wednesday morning for Gustave Alesch, 80, Remsen's top political figure and former state representative, who died in his home late Saturday night after a long illness. The requiem High Mass was sung by St. Mary's pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis Schultz.

Mr. Alesch had been in failing health the past year; hospitalized for three weeks last spring for surgery and again in July and August for medical care.

His decline since August was steady and since his last period of hospitalization he had the care, besides his wife, of his daughter, Mrs.

Olivia Beeson, a professional nurse, of Battle Creek, Mich., who was with him to the end.

Mr. Alesch fell into a state of semi-coma the last few days and passed away a few minutes before midnight, Saturday. His wife and daughter were at his bedside.

Dr. S. Fideler to Airforce Service

Dr. S. Michael Fideler, 1957 graduate from the Dental college at Iowa University, is leaving today to report for active duty in the army at Montgomery, Ala.

He will receive three weeks of instruction at Gunter branch School of Aviation medicine at the airforce base, then report to the airforce hospital at Amarillo, Texas.

Mrs. Fideler and Debra Ann will remain here temporarily with the Fideler family and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pottebaum at Alton and will join Dr. Fideler at Amarillo.

Community Co-op Preview Meeting

The Community Co-op Oil Co. of Marcus, affiliated with Consumers Co-op., and represented in the Remsen area by Wm. C. Krekow, held a preview to its annual meeting, at the Sioux City auditorium Tuesday evening. Several hundred attended, with 65 from the Remsen area and all customers of Mr. Krekow. After an elaborate banquet, the company presented a program centering on the industry in general and stressing the work of the various local cooperative units.

Major McGovern in West Germany

Writing from Frankfurt, Germany, Major John E. McGovern writes to have The Bell-Enterprise held back until he has a permanent address, saying there is a possibility of several changes.

Major McGovern was at Fort Riley, Kansas, until leaving for his second stretch in Germany some time ago. He says it seems "good to be back in Germany but things have changed much since I left here in 1946; West Germany appears quite prosperous and there is much building and other activity.

Ray Stelchen of Tappen, N. D., was in Remsen Saturday, visiting with the Erichsen family. He is out to buy cattle. Mr. Stelchen has dealt extensively in cattle for years.

Have Some Venison at Travelier Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stelchen returned home Friday from Douglas, Wyo., where in company with Sioux City friends they enjoyed visiting and the men spending their time hunting deer and antelope, bringing home seven animals.

With the Stelchens on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schwelzer of Sioux City and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Badger of Sioux City, Nebr.

Brought home were four deer and three antelope, some of which will be served at the Traveller club Sunday night, free to all comers, as advertised. Archie Jackson of the Waeside, LeMars, will be in charge of the kitchen. The Traveller is under the management of the Stelchens' son-in-law, Tom Rosburg.

Meanwhile Mr. Stelchen at his nearby Midwest service station is again offering flashlights free to purchasers of 10 gallons of Frontier gasoline this week-end, plus extra gifts on a plan outlined in his big special ad in The Bell-Enterprise today.

Fire Threatens Erichsen Home

Fire on the Henry Erichsen farm south of town shortly after midnight Saturday morning did much damage to the dwelling. The Remsen fire department answered the call, as did neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Erichsen were found their room smothered in smoke and found fire in an adjoining room used for storage. It is thought com-

Ray Steichen of Tappen, N. D., was in Remsen Saturday, visiting and on business, and placing an ad in The Bell-Enterprise saying he is out to buy cattle. Mr. Steichen has dealt extensively in cattle for years and had frequent such business transactions with farmers in this area. He lists prices in his ad. The visitor is a half-brother of Remsen's Arnold, J. Steichen.

Fire on the Henry Erichsen farm south of town shortly after mid- night Saturday morning did much damage to the dwelling. The Rem- sen fire department answered the call, as did neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Erichsen awoke to find their room smothered in smoke and found fire in an adjoining room used for storage. It is thought com- bustion caused the fire. There was considerable woodwork damage by scorching, and damage and total loss of clothing by flame, smoke and water.

Olivia Beeson, a professional nurse, of Battle Creek, Mich., who was with him to the end.

Mr. Alesch fell into a state of semi-coma the last few days and passed away a few minutes before midnight, Saturday. His wife and daughter were at his bedside.

Born in Luxembourg
Born January 25, 1877, in Frie- singen (Esch) Luxembourg, Mr. Alesch came to the United States in 1895 at the age of 18 years di- rectly to the Marcus-Remsen area and for several years worked as a farm hand.

Married in 1902
He married Justine Kass at St. Donatus, Iowa, on January 28, 1902, and the couple came to Marcus, settling on a farm north of there and living there four years. Then they moved to Kingman, Kans., where they owned land, lived there three years and returned to spend one year on a farm north of Marcus and in 1910 bought the farm six miles east of Remsen where they lived until their retirement to Rem- sen in the fall of 1941.

Was Civic Worker
Always keenly interested in af- fairs of the day, in his home com- munity, the state and in the nation- al affairs of the land of his adop- tion, Mr. Alesch gave many years of public service.

While on the farm Mr. and Mrs. Alesch were members of Holy Name Catholic parish in Marcus and for 15 years Mr. Alesch served as a member of the advisory board of that parish. For eight years un- til his retirement from farm life he was director of the Remsen Rural board of education.

Was Supervisor
In 1920 Mr. Alesch was elected to a seat on the Plymouth county board of supervisors and it was dur- ing his term of service for 12 years (1920-1932) that he came into state- wide prominence.

Legislator
An active member of the Demo- cratic party, Mr. Alesch left the supervisory board to become a can- didate for the state legislature and was elected in 1932 and served through five consecutive terms and two special sessions.

In the lower house his influence was brought to the fore and throughout his tenure he main- tained a prominent position as a lawmaker and a champion of the rights of his constituents and of honesty in government.

His strenuous position and tena- city for what he deemed the right course of thought and action won him many admirers over the state, and a few enemies. He served prin- cipally on agricultural committees and for a time was a member of the appropriations committee and of the important interim committee.

He advocated agricultural re- forms including a graduated land

Krogmans Have 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krogman, residents in the Remsen community since long before their marriage, celebrated their Golden (50th) wed- ding anniversary yesterday, enjoy- ing the company of all of their children and many friends.

Starting the day by attending a Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Mary's Catholic church at eight o'clock in the morning, Mr. and Mrs. Krogman and children had breakfast together in the Krogman home northeast of town.

A reception and open house fol- lowed in the afternoon from two until five o'clock in the Knights of Columbus club rooms. More than 200 friends and relatives called to pay their respects to the esteemed couple.

The family had six o'clock dinner and enjoyed a few social hours at the Traveller club.

Mr. and Mrs. Krogman are still on their farm although not actively engaged at farm work, and have commercial interests in Remsen as well.

They have nine children, all of whom were here for the anniver- sary day. The children are: Clar- ence, Frank, Mrs. Elmer (Marie) Knebel, Henry, Mrs. James (Helen) Morgan, Mrs. Hugh (Irene) Kipper, Mrs. Leo (Florence) Schumacher, Joseph and Mrs. James (Jeannie) Kelley, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Krogman, substan- tial citizens and who enjoy the highest respect and esteem of many friends, received numerous gifts and congratulatory cards besides hundreds of personal good wishes during the day and since.

Word came last Thursday night to the Wm. Henrich family convey- ing the sad news of the tragic death of Jerry Henrich, 18-year-old son of Ted Henrich, formerly of Remsen now of Lovell, Wyo.

The family moved to Wyoming a year ago after years on a farm south of Remsen.

Jerry had been working with a road construction crew which was on a black-topping job near the neighboring city of Greybull. The young man's job was to the "edg- ing" of the black top as it was poured, using an edging machine.

Reportedly he stepped back to avoid being spashed with the mol- ten topping, and tripped, falling in the path of a heavy power-driven roller. The machine passed over him, with fatal results. He died upon arrival at a hospital in Grey- bull.

Funeral services were held in the Catholic church in Lovell, with burial there also. Surviving besides the father are a younger brother, James and two younger sisters, Janice and Judy.

The father, Ted, operates an oil station at Lovell.

Attending the funeral from Rem- sen were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ludwig and Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Galles.

St. Paul's Women Dine 900 Persons

In the neighborhood of 900 per- sons were served the chicken and ham dinner at the municipal aud- itorium Sunday evening by the lad- ies of St. Paul's Evangelical Luth- eran church, at their annual dinner.

The net proceeds, not minutely figured with a few expenses still outstanding, will run to more than $1,000, according to Mrs. Clara Schmidt, chairman of the commit- tee.

Mrs. Schmidt offers thanks to all who patronized and contributed eat- ables, cash and work toward its suc- cess, adding that the proceeds go toward church, charity and mission purposes.

tax in an effort to break up large landholdings.

Retired in 1943

Mr. Alesch retired from active political life in 1943 and spent most of his time in his comfortable home here, but the rumblings of his turbulent political career continued to be reverberate over the state in the form of weekly and daily newspaper articles on questions of the day which he deemed important to the rank and file.

It was a part of the Alesch make-up to gain a chuckle from many criticisms, often vicious, as well as from letters of compliment from those who admired his courage and his tenacious adherence to the things he deemed for the best toward his fellow man.

Following world war 2 Mr. Alesch was one of the organizers of a local committee which raised more than $5,000 in aid toward rehabilitation in his native land, Luxembourg, which had been badly torn by the invading German army.

Visits Old Home

In 1954 Mr. and Mrs. Alesch visited his native home for the first time since his coming to this country 60 years prior. The visit was prompted by an invitation to help celebrate the golden wedding anniversary for a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kremer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alesch spent November and December of that year in Luxembourg. During their visit they were entertained lavishly and were shown many courtesies by officials of the Luxembourg government.

Fraternal Affiliations

Mr. Alesch was a member of the Knights of Columbus 43 years, having joined at LeMars in 1914, with transfer to Remsen when Magr. Schemel council was organized six year ago. He was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters 16 years.

Survivors

Surviving are the widow and 7 children: Leo Alesch, on the home farm east of Remsen; Ray Alesch, also farming east of Remsen; Mrs. Olivia Beeson, Battle Creek, Mich.; Arnold Alesch, farming near Graettinger, Iowa; Mrs. Joe (Mildred) Delaney, Chicago; Nicholas Alesch, San Jose, Calif., and Mrs. John (Rose Marie) Meylor, Los Angeles.

There are two brothers—Joseph Alesch of Marcus and Leo Alesch of LeMars, and the one sister, Mrs. Kremer in Luxembourg.

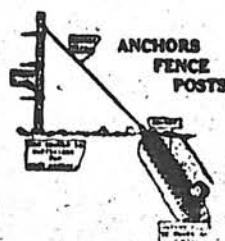

There are 29 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Preceding Mr. Alesch in death were a brother, John, of Remsen and six sisters in Luxembourg and France.
