Judge Van Oosterhout dies Sunday at 78

ederal appeals court judge Martin D. Van Oosterhout, 78, life-long resident of Orange City, died Sunday night at the Orange City Municipal Hospital following a long illness.

Mr. Van Oosterhout was active in his senior judge status up until the time of his death.

Martin was born October 10, 1900 in Orange City. On June 16, 1928, he married Ethel Greenway in Pleasantville, Iowa.

Services will be held on Wednesday, January 31 at 2:00 p.m. in the American Reformed Church. Rev. Dr. Calvin Rynbrandt and the Rev. Donald Lenderink will officiate.

Interment will be at West Lawn Cemetery with arrangements being made by Van Etten-Oolman Funeral Home.

Capital goes to mail

As of this February 13, The Capital will be distributed to all subscribers by mail. Some subscribers are receiving it by mail, while others in Orange City have received The Capital by carriers. However, starting in two weeks, all subscribers will receive their newspapers via mail on Wednesday.

Casketbearers will be Judge James Kelley, Dr. Edward Grossmann, Sr., Earl Klay, John Te Paske, Robert Dunlop and Charles J. De Vries.

Ushers are Dennis Punt, James Doornink, and Anthony Hasselo.

Special music will be provided by soloist Mr. Eugene Mulder and organist Miss Marcia Schemper. Selections that Mr. Mulder will sing are "Enough to Know" and "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep". The congregation will sing "Abide With Me".

Survivors include his wife Ethel; son Peter of Cleveland, Ohio; three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. L.K. (Marie) Pollard of Toledo, Ohio; and Mrs. Burchard (Cornelia) Ashenfetter of South Bend, Ind.

Mr. Van Oosterhout served 2 1/2 years as chief judge and a total of 25 years as judge on the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, St. Louis, a post to which he was appointed in 1954 by then-President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Prior to that, he was a judge of the 21st Iowa Judicial District for 11 years.

Mr. Van Oosterhout left the circuit court in 1970 when he became eligible for retirement. In January 1972, he was appointed to be one of nine judges on temporary federal bench to hear cases resulting from then-President Richard Nixon's wage and price controls. His duties on that bench ended with the lifting of the controls.

Mr. Van Oosterhout was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1923 and the University of Iowa Law School in 1924. He served two terms in the Iowa House of Representatives, from 1939 to 1943.

He was a member of the American Reformed Church of Orange City. He also was a member of the county, district, state and American Bar associations and the American Law Institute. He also was a member of the Orange City years, during which time he had but one reversal of decision.

Martin D. Van Oosterhout

Blue Lodge at Alton, Iowa; and the Abu-Bekr Shrine and Consistory at Sioux City for 54 years. He also maintained law offices at Sioux City.

Upon the judge's retirement from the circuit court, then-6th District Congressman Wiley Mayne was quoted as saying, "I know Martin Van Oosterhout from personal experience as a lawyer who has argued many cases in his court both the state and federal level, and that his outstanding ability and experience as a jurist were unsurpassed anywhere in the federal judiciary."

Corn belt or iron range?

Is Sioux County's corn-belt status being challenged by the iron mining industry? It could be, according to Stanley Grant, an Iowa geologist who revealed Wednesday that a 90-foot thick vein of iron ore was discovered in the northeast corner of the county.

The Iowa Daily Press Association quoted Grant as saying that a 90-foot-thick vein is located 540 feet underground in the Sheldon/Matlock vicinity. With thinner layers located near the big vein, the discovery is considered fairly significant.

Iron ore was accidentally discovered when the state geological survey drilled deep for water resources. A core sample is being studied, and the state geological survey expects to know conclusive results testing by spring.

No plans have been made for mining the ore, which would have to be done underground.

Grant thinks the new discovered vein may be connected to the Mesabi iron range in northern Minnesota, and that it may run as far south as Okhoma. It does have so state officials excited
