DIES WEDNESDAY

REP. EUGENE H. REILLY

Death came early Wednesday morning to Dubuque's representative in the Iowa Legislature. He was 30 years old.

NATIONAL LABOR BOARD IS 'FAIR'

Both Sides Have Criticised It, FDR States

Washington — (AP) — President Roosevelt's assertion that the National Labor Relations Board is impartial coincided Wednesday with Senate debate over creating an additional board to fix wage and hour standards.

Criticism of the labor board from both capital and labor, he said, is an indication it has been fair to everyone.

The President made known his views at a press conference a day after Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) had accused the board of conspiring with Communist influences to destroy Southern industries.

Board Is Scored

Hugh Johnson, former NRA administrator, recently called the board a "conspiracy" group. Senator Nye (R-N.D.) said "The average man regards it as

Dubuque's Legislator Passes Wednesday; Funeral Friday

State Representative Eugene H. Reilly, 30, one of the outstanding leaders of the Democratic party in Iowa, died at Mercy Hospital Wednesday morning at 3:45 o'clock.

Although it was known that his condition was very critical, his death came suddenly after reports Tuesday that he had rallied and had shown marked improvement.

The state representative was taken to the hospital a week ago Sunday. Physicians found him suffering from inflammation of the pancreas, gall bladder, and other internal organs, the condition of the pancreas, a somewhat rare

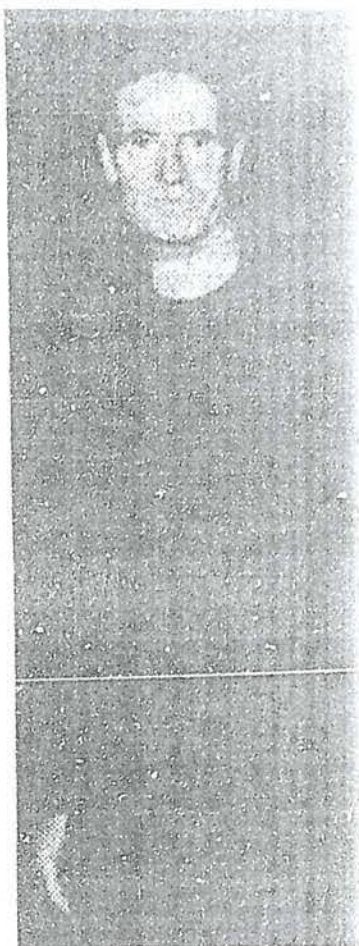

Des Moines. — (U.P.) — Speaker Lamar Foster of the Iowa House of Representatives Wednesday named four Democrats and three Republicans to represent the lower chamber at funeral services Friday for Rep. Eugene Reilly.

HOUSE WIDEN PAY-HOUR

Work Per Week Down to 35 Hours

Washington. — (U.P.) — The Labor Committee Wednesday proposed to broaden the Senate Work Per Week Bill to permit federation of hours down to 35 a week.

The Senate bill which is being debated in the upper chamber sets 40 hours a week as the minimum benefit below which limitation could not go.

The suggested house bill would broaden the wage provision of the Senate measure by permitting minimum wages of 10 cents an hour instead of 7 cents.

The change was approved by the committee after Chairman T. Norton, D. N. J. had

Board Is Scored

Hugh Johnson, former NRA administrator, recently called the board a one-sided "pressure" group. Senator Nye (R-N.D.) said
"The average man regards it as an adjunct" to John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

From other persons, Mr. Roosevelt said, have come assertions that the board was biased in favor of industry.

In reply to a query, Mr. Roosevelt said he did not know whether the Wagner Labor Relations Act could be strengthened by inserting provisions to make unions more responsible in keeping agreements.

He said, however, he believes the act is not one-sided, and expressed the opinion many employers have violated agreements in the last ten years.

Hopes Sink for Youth Hurt In Bellevue Crash

Grave fears for the life of Frederick Eix, 18, injured in an automobile crash Monday night, north of Bellevue, were expressed Wednesday by attending physicians.

The youth suffered internal injuries and partial paralysis resulting from a hemorrhage in the brain. In addition to these complications he had a broken thigh and head injuries. His doctor feared he might not live through the day.

Young Eix and Donald Mander-scheid, 15, both of Bellevue, were riding in an automobile which crashed against the side of a boxcar on a spur track at a gravel pit.
Manderscheid received minor injuries but Eix was taken to Mercy Hospital at once. Dust raised by dition continued to grow worse, physicians decided upon an emergency operation.

Little hope for his recovery was held out by the physicians from the start, but his rallies at different times following the operation gave them some hope that he might be able to survive. Late in the week his condition was considered hopeless by the physirallied, and physicians found a marked improvement. Early Monday evening, however, another re-lapse occurred, and at midnight the physicians who had kept constant vigil for hours, said that the end was near.

His death cut short a predicted brilliant political career. Despite his youth, he stepped into party leadership almost immediately following his arrival in Des dominant party, and during the few succeeding years it was his

Similarly in total acreage planted, Iowa also leads, the figures showing 9,451,000 acres for Illinois as compared to 11,036,000 for its sister state.
When Illinois supplanted Iowa as "corn king" last year, the yield per acre was only 23.5 bushels while for Iowa it was 20 bushels.
As to growing the tallest corn, Illinois' farmers are likely to overshadow the best the Iowans can offer, Surratt declared.

ral fields in this state, he added, and some of them are still growing, with the prospect a height of 16 feet may be reached before maturity.

"Corn just doesn't grow any taller than that," Surratt said. Meanwhile, Gov. Henry Horner, who has become embroiled in a good-natured wrangle with the governors of Iowa, Wisconsin and Nebraska as to which state grows the tallest corn, has acted to settle the dispute. A tall corn contest open to all states in the north will be staged at the State Fair here Aug. 14-22. Prizes will be awarded for the tallest corn exhibited.

MEET TO DECIDE IT

Des Moines, Ia. — (AP) Advance committees on the "corn front" in the states, indicated Wednesday that the governor of Iowa will have something to say to the governor of Wisconsin here Saturday morning.

The meeting promised to decide, at least, add fuel to the controversy over which middlewestern state grows the tallest corn.

Governor Philip La Follette of Wisconsin who began the corn derby with a boast about a nine-foot stalk, will arrive here Saturday to address a progressive meeting.

Iowa has named a 16-foot six-inch stalk to represent Governor Neil O. Kraschel who has asked the Wisconsin governor to meet him at the Iowa statehouse Saturday morning with the "biggest and best" corn stalk Wisconsin grows.

Rumors are already circulating that the 16-foot six stalk may be only a "common" for a 17 or 18-footer being secretly nurtured in some Iowa farmer's back lot.
