SWORN IN

Des Moines—AP

Gov. Harold Hughes Monday administered oaths of office to his two controversial appointees, Robert Barry of Dan and Corbin Crawford of A. Sworth.

Barry, named to the Highway Commission, and Crawford, appointed to the State Board of Control, met separately with the governor in his State house office.

During the last legislative session, the Republican Senate refused confirmation of the two Democrats for regular appointments.

After the session, the Democratic governor gave the two interim appointments, effective Monday.

However, Republican Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman ruled the appointments invalid and said that the present job holders could continue in office.

Crawford, a farmer, was named to replace Walter Conway, Muscatine Democrat whose term on the three-member Board of Control expired Sunday. Conway at first had said he would not resign his $9,250-a-year post, but later indicated that he would not re-qualify.

Terms of three of the five members of the Highway Commission expired Sunday, and they have indicated that they would not remain in office. They are Robert Keir of Spencer, Jo Stong of Keosauqua and William Nicholas of Clear Lake, all Republicans.

A highway commissioner is paid $7,000 and also is allowed up to $500 a year to maintain an office in his home town.

Crawford went to work immediately Monday at the State Office Building here. Barry, an auto dealer, will be present for the Highway Commission meeting this week.

The Board of Control Monday elected Jim O. Henry, Medonia Republican, to replace Conway as chairman. As senior member Henry was in line for the post. Conway did not appear in the board offices Monday morning.

U. S. Expels Red Envoy For Spying

Washington—AP

The United States has ordered expulsion of a Russian diplomat on grounds that he was engaged in a form of espionage, informed sources said Monday.

The State Department called in the ranking Soviet diplomat here this morning, presumably to inform him of the ouster.

The man involved in the purported espionage was not identified.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey declined comment for the time being. He said an announcement is expected later today, but declined to say what it would be.

The ranking Soviet diplomat here, Georgi M. Kornienko, counselor and presently charge d'affaires, was summoned to the office of Richard H. Davis, acting assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Kornienko stayed in Davis' office less than five minutes. He told newsmen afterwards that he had no comment at this time.

No further details about the case were immediately available.

Kornienko is charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, now vacationing in Russia.
