make Monday, March 10th school election day and the primary election is our own venture and can be postponed with legality.

Citizens will go to the City Office Monday to vote for two members of the Board of Education. Three men, two incumbents and one newcomer, have filed for the posts. John N. Vander Linden and Ralph Grundman will ask for re-election and Joe Stientjes will be the third candidate. All the terms are for three years. Citizens will also choose a treasurer for the school district. Only one name, that of Kenneth Bean, will appear on the ballot for this post. The candidates are all comparatively young men and parents and all are vitally interested in good schools conducted in a progressive and businesslike manner. The polls will be open from 12:00 noon to 7:00 o'clock p.m.

DEATH CALLED DR. C. ASCHENBRENNER ENROUTE TO COAST

Passed Away While Being Taken to Home in California

The entire community was shocked Monday to hear of the death of Dr. Carl Aschenbrenner. He died enroute from Farmington, Michigan to the family home in Covina, California, while the train was passing through Texas. Mrs. Aschenbrenner and a male nurse accompanied him on the trip.

Few details are available but Mrs. Leonora Scholte received a telegram from Mrs. Aschenbrenner at Pasadena and dated March 2nd saying that the Doctor has passed away on Wednesday, February 26th and that he was buried in Covina, California, Saturday, March 1st.

Some details of the doctor's illness and a tribute to him is contained in the following written by Mrs. Scholte: "We are sorry to hear of the death of Dr. Carl Aschenbrenner who practiced medicine here for many years. The Doctor had been in poor health all winter. Everything was done to restore him to health that was possible. He had the very best of medical care but continued to fail. As a last resort they were to try the sunshine of California—but it was too late.

Tributes from Friends

"Doctor Aschenbrenner will be missed by his many friends everywhere. The poor and needy of Pella have never lost a better friend for he was the one to whom people went to say: 'So-and-so needs help.' 'I'll see what I can do', was always his kind answer. His one dream was a hospital for Pella, which he could not make come true."

George Francis Sadler of Pella, a close friend of the deceased had this to say about him:

"We pause to pay tribute to a noble man. A proof of his genuine goodness is found in the fact that he was greatly loved by all who knew him and his death was understood by those who did not

Tulip Queen and Attendants to Be Chosen Soon

Next week each citizen of this community will be asked to submit the name of his or her favorite candidate for Queen of the Tulip Festival, now not so many weeks away. Last year the first coupon appeared in the issue of the Chronicle dated March 28th but it was the opinion of most everyone that not enough time was allowed for the selection and too much hurry was necessary to complete arrangements for out of town publicity with pictures after the winners had been announced. Next week's issue will therefore carry the first coupon.

Along with the coupon the rule of the contest will be printed and it is probable that several minor changes will be made, principally in the way the Queen is finally selected from the list of those polling the highest number of votes.

For the coming week then Pella folks can be looking over the prospects and making a few inquiries so that they will be well qualified to cast a vote after the coupon has appeared in our next issue. Don't fail to read the rule of the contest when they appear.

Readers will note that but one candidate filed for the office of Mayor, Dr. T. G. Fultz. This was almost an unprecedented circumstance and it seemed to the Committee that interest in the election would lag with no head to the second ticket. Accordingly acting under the powers vested in it the Committee placed the name of James Van Dusseldorp in nomination for the position. Mr. Van Dusseldorp consented to have the committee do so and will make the race.

The same situation is true in regard to the treasurer and park commissioner. In these cases, however, the committee was not stood for the best in all civic enterprises. He hated dishonesty in any person or organization. He loved Pella and always wanted to live here. He called Pella "home" and when he was away he was always anxious to get back. The children loved him and called him "Pop" and Pop he was to all the neighborhood. He was a German by birth but a more loyal American citizen never lived. So in the language that he could so well speak, we will just say "Auf-wieder-sehn."

From Mrs. Scholte come the following facts about the family: "Dr. Aschenbrenner leaves besides his wife, who lives in Covina, two sons, Dr. Zae of Farmington, Mich., and Dr. Fred of Los Angeles, Calif., and two daughters, Mrs. Blanchard of Covina, Calif., and Mrs. Warner Van Spaenkeren of Mesa, Arizona. Two granddaughters, well known here, Mrs. Paul Blommers of Iowa City and Mrs. Doyle Smith of Farmington, Iowa, and nine other grandchildren will grieve because of Dr. Aschenbrenner's going, so soon, on this, his last long journey. This is the first break in the family circle."

Delphi Society Champs in Girls' Intramurals

(From the Central Ray)

The round robin of women's intramural basketball games has come to a thrilling conclusion with the Delphi society as the undisputed champion. This game climaxed a series of exciting games with many girls participating.

Last week, there were two main events in the girls intramurals. The Alethian team took a fast game away from the Independents, while the A. K. A. team won their game from the Delphis.

Now that basketball is through this season, there is a new sport taking the limelight. That game is volleyball. The girls' societies have already chosen their respective teams to represent them in the coming events.

Governor Kirkwood was succeeded in his office by a Marion County citizen. Colonel William M. Stone came home from the battlefield, enclawed with an aura of magnificent courage, and was almost at once nominated and elected to succeed Kirkwood. He had been a spectacular leader of political fields as well as in war. He was in Washington, D. C., on a public errand, and was present in Ford's Theatre the night of the assassination.

He served four years as a conspicuous and honorable servant of the people of Iowa as its first magistrate and retired worse off in a pecuniary way than when he was inaugurated. No question has ever been raised as to his official integrity.

The Spanish American and World Wars afforded the sons and grandsons of the veterans of the Civil War opportunity to display valorous alacrity in coming to the support of the Stars and Stripes and sustaining it in Cuba, the Philippines, on Flanders Field and upon the waters of the Seven Seas.

Marion County, being along the stream of access from eastern Iowa to the forks of the Des Moines, led, of course, Captains of the Cross, first in their brogans, sometimes in moccasins, and finally to the best clothed men of pulpit, and of all Christian faiths.

At the bar, on the bench and in legislative halls, Marion County has never taken a back seat in conference or controversy. She has led conspicuously both legislation and litigation, toward the solid structure of judicature which is a proud tribute of unmeasured character.

In education, the very seeds were sown at the very first, which germinated and grew and flourished in every township. It forms, in 1940, a shapely structure of bold and brilliant character in the mental and physical contests with others of equal population elsewhere.

If you be one who looks toward leadership in industrial, financial or aesthetic fields, you can find today the flag of Marion County borne aloft by a hand, born, reared or inspired in Marion County, Iowa.

If you be inspired or led by the colors of Iowa herself, these were conceived and designed in Knoxville, Iowa, by Mrs. Dixie Cornell Gebhardt, one of the Iowa leaders there.

If you should notice that the correction and completion of the Iowa State capital grounds, in 1913, the writer hereof avers he got the idea in 1912 in Marion County at the fireside of Benton Ruckman carried it to Governor B. F. Carroll, then to Governor George W. Clarke, both of whom approved and officially advocated it. Nothing has better awakened state pride and Iowa self appreciation, for it achieved the most notable retrieval of landscape error in any capital in the United States of America. All hail Marion County!
