SEN. SHANGLE'S FUNERAL WAS HELD THURSDAY

Many State and Local People Were Present

BURIAL, FOREST CEM.

Death Occurred Late Monday Night At His Home—Had Spent Active Day At His Office

State Senator L. T. Shangle of this city died of heart failure at his home Monday night. He had been affected with heart trouble for several years but this did not prevent his activities nor prevent him from doing a great deal of hard work.

He was what is termed a self made man. He was educated in the public schools of the county and attended Penn college. He studied law and was admitted to practice in 1889. He was a farmer, a teacher, an editor, a lawyer and a law maker and made good at these various lines of work.

His life was spent in Iowa except for five years that he spent at Grand Island, Nebraska. He was a man who cared nothing for popularity, was modest in his way of living and cared nothing for society. He was a friend of the common man and woman and devoted his time willingly and freely to those who needed advice or service with no thought of ever receiving pay or a financial reward.

He was a plain man who despised deceit and hypocrisy and while never insisting that his position on questions was correct he held his ideas and opinions until he was convinced that he was in the wrong. His greatest success in life was his ability to make and retain his friendship of the common individual. His election to the state Senate in the eve tide of his life meant nothing to Senator Shangle except the chance to serve the interest of the common men and women of his home county.

The three years that he spent in the State Senate was never regarded by Senator Shangle as outstanding years in his life but were viewed from the standpoint that they were years of hard work which had not returned the results that he had expected to receive. He had confided to his close friends that he did not expect to be a candidate for a second term but stated that the position should be held by some younger and more active man whom he said he would be willing to support.

Senator Shangle was a man of positive opinions and was always ready to fight for his ideas and opinions. Like all men of positive opinions he made either life-long friends or positive opposition. There was no middle course or policy methods in his make-

He was prominent in club and civic work, and was also president of the school board of this city.

Mr. Crumbaugh was still a young man with bright prospects ahead of him. He was a hard worker and a man who refused to spare himself as a professional worker and had just changed his office location in order to increase his business.

COUNCIL HOLDS SHORT SESSION TUESDAY

Allow Regular Semi-Monthly Bills And Make Commission Appointments

At a short and snappy session of the city council, adjourned from Monday evening to Tuesday afternoon on account of Monday's being Labor Day, Mayor called the board to order, with Councilmen, Berry, Carr, Cook and Loos in attendance.

The regular semi-monthly list of claims was read and ordered paid. A workmen's compensation policy was negotiated by the city with Markey and Butler. The cost of the policy for the year, City Clerk W. J. Ireland stated that while the city had as yet had no workman's injury in the past three years that would have allowed compensation under the policy, there was no telling how soon a very serious workman injury might happen, and it was well to have this protection.

A motion to publish notice for a sale of another lot of the sewage disposal plant bonds already authorized was made and passed, bids on same to be opened Friday, Sept. 13 at 2:30 o'clock.

Mayor Burdock announced the appointment of William Goehse as a member of Police and Fire Commission in place of Ed. Farnsworth, resigned; and Seth Thomas as a member in place of Wm. Gallagher whose time had expired. The council approved both appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gorsuch an Eva Gorsuch visited with relatives and friends at Waterloo.

Miss Elsie McBurney has returned to her home in Rogers, Neb. after a visit to the city and stay at the city relatives.

$800 Worth Of Stock Stolen From Leighton Hardware Store

Thieves broke into the Leighton Lumber and Hardware Company's store at Leighton Monday night and carted away every gun and revolver in the establishment. They also carried away all the loaded shot-gun shells and cartridges found in the store and the owner of the business estimated his loss at from 700 to 800 dollars.

The store was entered some time after midnight. The city has a street lighting contract which runs to midnight. After that time the lights are turned off for the rest of the night.

The robbery is thought to have occurred some time between midnight and two o'clock in the morning. The sheriff was notified as soon as the discovery had been made that the store had been entered but no clues were to be had and no one had seen strangers around Leighton Monday or Monday night.

The officers have the case under investigation and developments may start any time. The thieves entered the store by way of the front door. Officers are working on the case and the indications are that the thieves who entered the store were well acquainted with the establishment. They were well informed in regard to when the lights were turned off. They knew just where the guns were kept as well as where the ammunition was stored. An expert who inspected the store Tuesday morning said that this is another neighborhood job and that is just what the officers declared when they were called into the case.

The thieves took eight shot guns, store. They also carried away all shells and cartridges in the place.

The officers are making a still hunt for the guns and other material which was stolen and may have something definite to report in a few days.

The loss to Mr. Fred Denburger is a serious one and he is unable to advance any light upon who it was that broke into the store.

A year ago the Bank in Leighton was robbed and the robbers were captured in twelve hours. The small towns of the state are at the mercy of thieves for the majority of them do not have a night watch.

ANOTHER BATCH OF LIQUOR SEALS ARE DISCOVERED

Another batch of five thousand liquor seals was found by the Des Moines police in a house which they raided. The seals were inspected by several printers, including the state printer and no one yet has been found who says that the seals are not original Iowa state liquor seals with the signature of the former liquor commissioner, Charles J. Brown. Since the wholesale indictments started up at Sioux City, a little matter like the discovery of five thou-

SOUTHERN IOWA FAIR HAS BEST DISPLAY IN YEARS

(Continued From Page 1) charge of Barney Oldfield, the auto speed king, and the various free acts in the afternoon; with the entire program of free acts and Thearle-Duffield fireworks at night.

One of the best exhibits on the ground was the extensive display of the Oskaloosa Implement Co, which included the latest in Farmall tractors, McCormick Deering farm machinery, and International Trucks.

The Bremer Attractions on the midway, furnished plenty of amusement for the crowds, while a score of stands and concessions, catered to the hungry multitude, in the way of meals, lunches, hot-dogs, hamburgers, etc. While the corn games, blanket racks, ball-throws, shooting gallery, merry-go-round, Ferris wheel and miniature railway all come in for their share of the business.

Wednesday and Thursday (Oskaloosa Day and Auto Day) were real days at the fair, with good attendance, fine races, generous patronage, and an enthusiastic audience. If the weather had been as propitious on the first two days of the week as they were the last, this year would have been a record-breaker.

Secretary Rowland and his staff of assistants in every department are entitled to much credit for the great show they have made this year.

SEN. L. T. SHANGLE'S FUNERAL WAS HELD THURSDAY

stated that he had donated his services as an attorney more often than he had been paid. He was married to Mattie Fauquier in Oskaloosa in 1902, and his domestic life was a happy and contented one. There were no children and Mr. Shangle often avowed no great incentive on his part to accumulate money, or surplus property. He stated that he had enough to keep himself and wife and that he had no desire to accumulate any large amount of money.

During the World war he was a four-minute speaker and early applied for the opportunity to serve in the field, but he was not called to the colors until November 10, 1918, being scheduled to go to Camp Fremont, California, but was discharged on the following day, Armistice Day.

Mr. Martin married, October 1, 1903, Miss Harriett M. Scholes, of Burlington, Iowa. They have one daughter, Mildred Louise, born August 26, 1904.

JOHN O. WEAVER, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist at Shenandoah, is a native of Iowa, and took up private practice after a long and thorough training in medical college and hospital work.

Doctor Weaver was born at Spirit Lake, Iowa, May 18, 1887. His parents, I. N. and Amy (Gilbert) Weaver, came to Iowa in 1872, and were substantial farmers, at first in Audubon County and later in Clay County, Iowa. Both died in Coon Rapids. His father was born in Ohio, son of William Weaver, a native of Montpelier, that state. The Weaver family came from Germany in the 1700s. John Weaver was born in Pennsylvania in 1725 and had sons named Joseph, George, Abraham, Daniel and John. Mrs. Amy (Gilbert) Weaver was a native of Kentucky, where her father, John Gilbert, spent his active life as a plantation and slave owner. Doctor Weaver's parents were Methodists, his mother being very active in her church affiliations. His father was a Republican. Of the nine children eight are living, Doctor Weaver being the seventh in age.

Doctor Weaver attended school at Coon Rapids, and in 1907 entered the halls of the University of Iowa at Iowa City. He was a student there for seven years, combining his general literary and scientific and medical courses. The Bachelor of Science degree was conferred upon him in 1913 and he graduated M.D. in 1914. Doctor Weaver had an extensive experience as an interne in the Iowa Hospital at Iowa City and in 1916 located at Shenandoah. He was the first physician of Shenandoah to confine his work to the special field of eye, ear, nose and throat. Doctor Weaver has attended many hospital clinics. In September, 1918, he joined the colors, being in training at the Medical Officers Training School at Fort Riley, Kansas, and saw service several months in France during the World war. He ranked as a first lieutenant and received his honorable discharge July 11, 1919.

Doctor Weaver is a member of the Page County, Iowa State and American Medical Associations, the Sioux Valley Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Academy, the Omaha and Council Bluffs Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Society, and the American Academy of Oto-Laryngology.

He married in 1916 Miss Loraine Vollertsen, who was born at Charter Oak, Iowa, and was educated in the high school at Battle Creek, Iowa, and in Iowa State College at Ames. They have two children, Julia, born in 1920, and John, born in 1923. Doctor Weaver is a trustee of the Presbyterian Church and his wife devotes much time to church work. He is a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner and a Republican in politics.

CHARITON PUBLIC SCHOOLS. The school system of Chariton represents an institution in the aggregate of which the community is justly proud and provides educational opportunities for about 1,500 students. Of these approximately 500 are in the high school department, and about a hundred are graduated annually, ready to go on to college or take up practical careers. The high school building was erected in 1922, at a cost of about $250,000. The high school is fully accredited, being a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools. The Chariton school system employs fifty-six teachers. Since 1927 a two year junior college has been in operation, and it is also fully accredited by the state's higher institutions of learning.

LOUIS T. SHANGLE has for over forty years been a member of the Mahaska County bar. His home is at Oskaloosa. His professional career has been worked out in the same Iowa locality where he was born and reared and where his people were early settlers.

Mr. Shangle was born in Mahaska County March 18, 1863. The Shangle family lived for many generations in the vicinity of Strassburg, and were of German stock. In 1743 one branch of the family came to America and settled at Morristown, New Jersey. Amos L. Shangle, father of the Oskaloosa attorney, was born in New Jersey, and when he was fourteen years of age the family moved to Ohio and when he was twenty-three years old he came out to Oskaloosa, Iowa, and was a pioneer educator in the county. He also held a number of township offices. Amos L. Shangle married Mary W. Tuttle, who was born in Morris County, New Jersey, of English ancestry.

Louis T. Shangle was educated in district schools, and completed his education at Penn College and for many years has been one of the loyal workers among the list of graduates of that splendid institution. He graduated from Penn Academy in 1879 and from Penn College in 1883, following which for four years he taught school. He began the study of law in the office of Bolton and McCoy, and after two years was admitted to the Iowa State Bar, in the spring of 1889. Since that date he has been continuously in the work of the law, enjoying a large general practice, and his reputation as a lawyer extends out over the state. Mr. Shangle has always found civic interests to absorb part of his time and energy. He has been a writer and public speaker, and is one of the leaders of the Democratic party of Mahaska County, being secretary and treasurer of the County Central Committee.

His interest in education has always been profound and for eighteen years he served as secretary of the Oskaloosa School Board and for many years has been a member of the Board of Trustees of Penn College and is now treasurer of the college. He is affiliated with the Knights of Pythias and Improved Order of Red Men.

Mr. Shangle married, June 4, 1902, at Oskaloosa, Miss Mattie Fauquier, who was born in Mahaska County and is of French ancestry. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shangle have been active in the social and civic life of their home community.

VERNON C. RAMSEYER, manager of the Ramseyer Hatchery, is one of the aggressive young business men of Oskaloosa, and one whose public spirit is proverbial. A veteran of the World war, he not only did his duty during the war period, but upon his return to civilian life took up the burdens of reconstruction, and has achieved a prosperity that is all the more to his credit, in that he has made his own way in life. He was born at Pulaski, Iowa, August 15, 1894, a son of John H. and Elizabeth (Brenneman) Ramseyer.

The birth of John H. Ramseyer occurred in Switzerland, and in the early seventies he came to the United States, locating in Davis County, Iowa. The Ramseyer family is a well known one in Iowa, and his brother, Hon. C. W. Ramseyer, is representing the Sixth Congressional District of Iowa in the National Assembly. Mrs. Ramseyer was born in Davis County, Iowa.

Growing to vigorous young manhood amid healthful surroundings, Vernon C. Ramseyer attended local schools and later Bluffton, Ohio, College, from which he was graduated in 1919 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He was a student of the law department of the University of Michigan, and also of the University of Chicago. In the meanwhile, however, he gave his country a military service, in 1918 being inducted into the army for the World war, and was a member of Company E, Three Hundred and Fifty-first Infantry, of which he was ranking sergeant. Sent overseas to France, he saw service at the front, and was honorably discharged after his return to the United States at Camp Dodge, Iowa. While in France he was given intensive training in the Officers Training School La Valbonne. Following his discharge in 1919 Mr. Ramseyer went to college and continued his education as already stated.

From 1919 to 1922 Mr. Ramseyer was superintendent of Bureau Township schools, Princeton, Illinois, and during 1923 to 1924 he was superintendent of the schools of Pulaski, Iowa. In 1923 he, his father and two brothers, Harry W. and Obern B., the latter of whom has since died, launched the Ramseyer Hatcheries, Incorporated, thus entering the baby chick industry at Pulaski, Iowa. This enterprise has proven a great success, and expanded to such an extent that in 1925 a branch was established at Washington, Iowa; and in 1926 a fine plant was opened at Oskaloosa, and since then the home office has been at Oskaloosa, but all three plants are operated. Each year approximately 1,000,000 chicks are hatched, the output in season averaging 50,000 per week. These chicks are sent to every state in the Union. There are fifteen varieties produced, known as the Ramseyer Master-Mated chicks, and they took grand champion award at Iowa State Chick Show at Ames in 1928, 1929, and 1930, besides winning sweepstakes in Kansas and Michigan. For several years Mr. Ramseyer of this review has been general manager of the corporation, and is devoting himself to the further expansion of the business.

In August, 1920, Mr. Ramseyer married at Berne, Indiana, Miss Florence Lehman, born in Indiana, a daughter of J. F. and Elizabeth (Neuenschwander) Lehman, of Swiss parentage, but both born in the same state as their daughter. Mr. Lehman is a banker and poultryman. Mr. and Mrs. Ramseyer have a daughter, Jacqueline Rose. Both Mr. Ramseyer and his wife are Mennonites, but there being no church of their faith at Oskaloosa they are associated with the First Presbyterian Church of this city, and he is superintendent of the Sunday School. He belongs to the Kiwanis Club, Gamma Eta Gamma of the University of Chicago; is president of the Iowa Poultry Improvement Association, also chairman of the Iowa Poultry Council; president of the Mahaska County Red Cross; and is a member of the Iowa State Sunday School Executive Council. Mr. Ramseyer is regarded among his associates and fellow citizens as a man of high moral and business character, and the few years he has resided at Oskaloosa have been a period of constant and honorable advancement in the business and social relations of life.

BLAIR ALLEN PHILLIPS is president of the White-Phillips Company, investment bankers, with offices in the First National Bank Building at Davenport and 39 South La Salle Street, Chicago, with connections in the financial world throughout the Middle West.

He was born on a farm nearly Albany, Illinois, May 22, 1888. His parents, Benjamin Franklin and Mary (Rosenkrans) Phillips, are still living on the old farm at Albany. Mr. Phillips is of Welsh ancestry in the paternal line, while his mother's people were originally German and Dutch. One branch of the family produced Gen. William S. Rosecrans, one of the great Union leaders in the Civil war, who spelled his name slightly differently. The Phillips family has been in America for nine generations.

Blair Allen Phillips was educated in the common schools of an Illinois agricultural district. His home was on a farm until he was eighteen, at which time he became a student in Brown's Business College at Davenport. After leaving college he became associated with George M. Bechtel & Company in the bond business, later became vice president of the company, and had the reputation of being one of the largest single producers in the bond and investment field in the State of Iowa. In 1919 he and George White

He retained some connection with the Burlington Railroad during the time from 1887 when he became its general agent in Des Moines until his death, sometimes as confidential business agent in matters of assessment and taxation. He was a man of keen judgment in business, and was a good judge of human nature. Of late years his mind was a storehouse of interesting facts of political and business affairs in Iowa. He was Chesterfieldian in dress and manners and was a distinguished figure in Iowa and national political conventions for the last forty years.

In 1901 he was elected a member of the legislature of Connecticut. In 1902 he removed to Humboldt, Iowa, and engaged in the practice of law with Parley Finch as junior partner. In about 1912 Mr. Finch retired from practice and Mr. Housel took over the business of the firm and continued it until failing health caused his retirement. He became prominent as a Democratic leader in his county and the state. In both 1924 and 1926 he was the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, losing in the general election both times to Clem C. Kimball. In 1928 he was the Democratic candidate for governor, but was defeated in the general election by John Hammill. He was influential in local matters at Humboldt, was a member of the Congregational Church and was an able lawyer and public speaker.

His parents were Amos L. and Mary Wick Shangle. He received his early education in public school and was graduated from Penn College, Oskaloosa, in 1883. He followed teaching a few years in public schools in Oskaloosa and began the study of law, reading in the office of Bolton & McCoy, and was admitted to the bar in 1889. From 1890 to 1895 he practiced law in Grand Island, Nebraska, but returned to Oskaloosa in 1895 and practiced there, although his legal work was interspersed with many other activities. He was secretary of the Oskaloosa School Board from 1903 to 1921, and was secretary of the Mahaska County Fair Association several years. He also had farming interests that took his attention.

He was a member of the Board of Trustees of Penn College for years, and for a time was a member of its Executive Committee, and treasurer. He was a ready public speaker and a useful citizen. Politically he was a Democrat and in 1932 was elected senator and served in the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth general assemblies.

His mother having died when he was eleven years old, he soon thereafter accompanied his father, Henry Wallace, in the latter's removal to and settlement on land in Saratoga Township, Howard County, Iowa. Charles received his education in local country schools. He was a student all his life and was a well informed citizen. He followed farming on the original Wallace homestead until his retirement a few years before his death when he removed to the village of Saratoga. He served as a member of the Board of Supervisors of Howard County for nine years, 1909 to 1918, being chairman of the board the last five years, and in 1918 was elected representative and served in the Thirty-eighth General Assembly. Politically he was a Democrat.

For a time he took the agency of an insurance company as a means of taking in some money until he could build up his law practice.

In 1880 he was united in marriage with Josephine Wonn. To this union were born three daughters.

In 1886, Mr. Smith became county attorney of Shelby county, holding this office for two years and subsequently serving as city attorney for Harlan for two terms.

He was president and member of the Harlan School board for one term. He always took an active part in politics and served as chairman of the Republican county central committee for two years.

Later, in 1910, he was elected state senator, and for one term represented the senatorial district of Shelby and Cass counties in the Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth General Assemblies, introducing and backing a number of measures of importance and taking a high rank as a hard working and able member of the state legislature.

Mr. Smith will long be remembered for his physical and mental strength, for his untiring energy in the services of his clients and the best interests of the community in which he lived for more than fifty years. He believed strongly in the moral and spiritual elements in mankind, and, believing in them, he was, in his life and conduct, an example to others in his community. His thoroughly democratic attitude toward his fellowmen and his kindly good humor greatly helped to make for him an enduring place in the history of Shelby county and in the State of Iowa.

Mr. Smith passed away at his home in Harlan, Iowa, on the seventeenth day of September, 1936.

Mr. Smith's passing should not be one of unreasoning sorrow but rather an occasion of pride and consolation in the contemplation of a well-rounded life and a successful career.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That, in the passing of Honorable Thomas H. Smith, the State has lost a worthy and esteemed citizen, and that we extend to his relatives and friends our sincere sympathy; and

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the records of this body and a copy of the same be forwarded to his family.

GEORGE M. HOPKINS,
M. MOORE,

Committee.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

He was united in marriage to Mattie Fauquier at Oskaloosa, June 4, 1902. His wife survives him.

Mr. Shangle was always interested in the affairs of his home town, county and state. For eighteen years he was secretary of the city school board, and had been identified as trustee, member of the executive committee, and treasurer of William Penn College. For years he was secretary of Mahaska County Fair Association, was active in the Ioway Tribe No. 4 of Red Men. He took a great interest in his farm property, and in political activities.

Mr. Shangle was elected to the state senate in 1932 and left the term unfinished. As a Democrat he took an active part in all the deliberations of his party.

Be It Resolved, That in the passing of the Honorable L. T. Shangle, the State of Iowa mourns the loss of one of its honored and distinguished citizens.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be printed in the Journal of the Senate as a commemoration of the life and worth of the deceased, and that an enrolled copy hereof be transmitted to the widow.
