Here-n-There

by J. R. D.

Saturday, May 23rd is the annual sale of poppies by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary. The little red poppy, made by disabled war veterans, honors the war dead of both World Wars plus the boys who have given their lives in the Korean conflict.

In addition to honoring the deceased veterans, you also help the living disabled veterans when you buy a poppy. The little red paper flowers are made by hospitalized veterans and the money raised from the poppy sale is used to aid disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

In case you're missed by one of the ladies selling poppies... which we believe is an impossibility... you can stop in at the J. & W. Hardware store, headquarters of the drive Saturday, and Mrs. Carl Nelson, the poppy day chairman, will sell you one.

A fellow up in our end of town says there's a lot of smart kids in the neighborhood. Only trouble is they don't smart in the right place.

Understand the oats market has spurted this week since demand has jumped for the grain with the opening of the race season at Omaha.

This community lost a good citizen with the passing of Harry Greene this week. Harry was always interested in Avoca, one of the first to donate to a worthy cause, and had the best interests of this community in mind when he represented the county in the legislature and later as a member of the highway commission.

We counted Harry as one of our friends. When we first came to this community, he gave us a warm welcome. Although we differed politically, Harry was always tolerant of our views on matters.

Teachers are glad... mothers are sad. School will be out next week.

Then there's the woman that said there's nothing like a dish towel to take the contented look off a husband's face.

patrons have been the salient features in winning him the liberal trade which is accorded him.

Mr. Keller, in 1877, was married in Belvidere, Illinois, to Miss Flora Sellerd. He belongs to the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and has filled all of the chairs in lodge No. 606, at Council Bluffs. In politics he is independent, voting for men and measures rather than for party. In religious faith he is a Congregationalist and is serving as one of the trustees of the church, in which he holds membership. His prosperity is well deserved, as in him are embraced the characteristics of an unbending integrity, unabating industry and energy that never flags.

LEWIS CASS GREENE.

Lewis Cass Greene is a highly respected and leading agriculturist of Knox township, deriving his income from a valuable property of two hundred and ten acres on section 27. He was born in Ashtabula county, Ohio, November 17, 1858, a son of H. S. Greene, whose birth occurred in New York in 1828. He was only about two years of age when, in 1830, he was taken by his parents to Ohio, where he spent the days of his boyhood and youth under the parental roof. After he had attained his majority he engaged in teaching school for several years. He married Miss Sarah J. Wood, a native of the Empire state, born in 1829. They resided for a number of years in Ohio and in 1870 left that state for Iowa, settling in Pottawattamie county. Here Mr. Greene purchased two hundred acres of land in Knox township, upon which his son, Lewis Cass Greene, now resides. With characteristic energy he began the development and improvement of the farm and continued to engage actively in its cultivation until his life's labors were ended in death in 1886. In the family were four children but only two are now living, the younger being Woody D., who is located at Ashtabula Harbor, Ohio. The mother still survives and is yet living in the Buckeye state.

Lewis Cass Greene was reared to the occupation of farming, which he has always followed, and he is indebted to the public school system of Ohio and of Iowa for the educational privileges he enjoyed. He has always followed farming and remained at home, working for his father until twenty-three years of age, after which he rented and for one year cultivated his father's farm. On the expiration of that period he purchased the homestead property of two hundred and ten acres lying on section 27, Knox township. He is quite well known because of his live-stock interests, making a specialty of raising shorthorn cattle and also Percheron horses and roadsters. He has owned and sold some fine stock, both horses and cattle, and is an excellent judge thereof, being seldom, if ever, at error in his estimation of the value of live-stock. He is, moreover, a man of keen business discernment and strong purpose, who is meeting with success in his chosen field of labor and well merits the prosperity which has come to him.

In 1881 Mr. Greene was united in marriage to Miss Martha E. Martin, who was born at Green Castle, Jasper county, Iowa, a daughter of James J. and Catharine (Given) Martin, who were natives of the Buckeye state. They went to Jasper county, Iowa, at an early day and later came to Pottawattamie county, the father trading two old mares and a colt for eighty acres of prairie land located on section 12, Knox township. There he built a log house with puncheon floor, puncheon door and puncheon roof, and in true pioneer style the family began life on the western prairie, being closely associated with the early development and progress of that part of the county. The family numbered nine children. The father is now deceased, while at this writing the mother makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Greene. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Greene has been born one son, Harry Martin, who is a graduate of the Avoca high school and of the law department of the State University of Iowa. He was also admitted to the bar and is recognized as a man of strong intellectual force. He possesses superior oratorical ability and the consensus of public opinion says that he has no equal in this regard in the locality in which he lives. Undoubtedly a bright future awaits him.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene are people of culture, widely and favorably known in the locality where they reside. They enjoy the hospitality of the best homes and the circle of their friends is a very extensive one. In his political views Mr. Greene is a democrat and has served as township trustee but otherwise has never sought nor held office, preferring that his time and energies should be devoted to his business interests, whereby he is meeting with success that enables him to provide well for his family.

THOMAS G. GREEN.

Thomas G. Green, of the firm of Green & Riker, real-estate and insurance agents, was born in the out-kirts of Council Bluffs, July 27, 1876. He was reared to manhood under the parental roof and received his education in the public schools, from which he was graduated in 1894. He immediately secured employment in the First National Bank, where he remained for two years, and then entered the office of Lougee & Lougee, dealers in real estate and loans, continuing there for nine and one-half years. He was actively interested in every detail of their business and most popular with their patrons. The firm took great interest in giving him the benefit of their experience and he was wise enough to make the best of these opportunities.

In 1905 Mr. Green formed a partnership with Mr. Riker and has been busy since that time in building up an enterprising business. Though the firm has been in existence but two years it has by close attention to business secured a large patronage. His keen eye and instinctive business judgment enables Mr. Green to be a competent judge of real-estate values and his advice on these matters is often sought. In the line of insurance he has

He attended the grade and high schools of Boone and, after graduating therefrom, attended the University of Michigan, where in 1895 he was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Law.

Upon graduation, he returned to Boone and became associated in the practice of law with Richard F. Jordan. Subsequent to Mr. Jordan's death, Mr. Goodykoontz was associated in practice for intervals with T. J. Mahoney, his son Dan E. Goodykoontz, John A. Hull, III, and Paul E. Hellwege.

Mr. Goodykoontz, from the inception of his practice, took a keen interest in the affairs of his community. He was mayor of Boone at the age of 33. He served two terms as State Representative from Boone County, serving in both the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth General Assemblies.

For many years Mr. Goodykoontz served as a director and as president of the Linwood Park Cemetery Association. He was trustee and long-time president of the S. L. Moore Charity Foundation. For a time he was actively identified as a member of the board of directors of two different banks of Boone County.

On December 31, 1900, he was married to Florence Streeter of Cedar Falls, who survives him. He is also survived by three children, Elizabeth Uehling of Mansfield, Ohio; Mary Barnes of Los Angeles, California, and Daniel E. Goodykoontz of Alhambra, California, and six grandchildren. He loved and was devoted to his family. In recent years his grandchildren were one of his chief topics of conversation.

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Fifty-sixth General Assembly of Iowa: That in the passing of the Honorable William W. Goodykoontz, the state has lost an honored citizen and a faithful, useful public servant, and the House, by this resolution, would express its appreciation of his service, and tender its sympathy to the members of his family.

Be It Further Resolved: That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the House and the Chief Clerk be directed to forward an enrolled copy to the family of the deceased.

JOHN T. GREEN

John T. Green (my grandfather), along with two brothers, Will and Del, and two sisters, Mary and Emma, immigrated with their father, Mack F. Green (my great-grandfather), to the United States from Germany in 1885. John was 10 years old at the time. Their mother, H. Jensen, died on the ship coming over. Mack Green raised his five children alone in a river boat on the Missouri River around Omaha, NE.

By 1900, John was a naturalized citizen and had come to Avoca, where he worked as a hired man on the William Peters farm. There he met Della Klindt, whom he married, and they raised seven children in the Avoca area: Leona, my mother, who married Frank Garrison, my father, a mason contractor and meat cutter in Avoca for many years; Carl (single), a cross country truck driver; Julius (single), a self-employed contractor in California; Edward (wife: Naomi Wills) a factory worker and truck driver in California; Viola who married Stuart Browne, an auto mechanic in California; John (wife: Bernice Schueman), a truck driver and rethreader for a tire company in California; and Arlene who married Les Rogers, a Rock Island Railroad engineer in California. Naomi, Viola, John, and Bernice are still living in California. Arlene is living in Las Vegas, NV.

In 1915, John T. Green was working a rented farm south of Avoca, just past the fairgrounds, with the intention of buying it. Just before he could finish paying it off, tragedy struck. He owned one of the first cars in the area, and while
