

Standard Form For Members of the Legislature

Name of Representative Hayes, James Nicholas Senator _____

Represented Dubuque County, Iowa

1. Birthday and place 7 Feb 1897 Dubuque, Iowa

2. Marriage (s) date place

Marian Nickham 16 Sept 1922

3. Significant events for example:

A. Business _____

B. Civic responsibilities American Legion;

C. Profession Insurance

4. Church membership Catholic

5. Sessions served 43rd 44th General Assemblies 1929, 1931

6. Public Offices

A. Local Deputy county auditor

B. State _____

C. National _____

7. Death 17 Oct 1940 Illinois, buried Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Dubuque Iowa

8. Children James Jr.; John; Marian; Joan; Marjorie; Robert Mc Day

9. Names of parents James A. and Philomena (Candy) Hayes

10. Education Educated at St. Mary's School in Dubuque, Iowa

11. Degrees Campion College, Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin

12. Other applicable information Democrat

- Military service - Three Years - U. S. Navy
- After serving in the legislature, he entered the insurance business
- Later he was a member of the Iowa State Highway Patrol and later an insurance inspector used during the drawing—were in the custody of selective service officials.

Once the initial ceremonies are over, officials estimate that the drawing will proceed at the rate of between 700 and 800 numbers an hour. From start to finish, the lottery is expected to require a minimum of 12 hours.

Draft Boards Ready

With few exceptions, local draft boards were believed to have finished the job of shuffling, numbering and posting the serial numbers of almost 17,000,000 registration cards. Unfinished details were to be cleaned up Monday.

Selective service headquarters, busy with last-minute queries, Sunday enunciated the board principle that the conscription program would not be allowed to interfere with the national drive to force weapons of defense.

Production Gets Priority

"At this state," said Draft Director Clarence A. Dykstra, "material procurement is paramount. Therefore, where two requirements—military manpower versus production—conflict, production should have priority."

National selective service headquarters, he said, was vitally interested in keeping key men in essential jobs. He emphasized, however, that all occupational deferments would be decided on an individual basis and by local boards.

Iowa Mobilization Plans Completed

Des Moines, Ia.--(U.P.)—Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl returned Monday from Washington and said Iowa is all ready to take its part both in connection with selective service and induction of the National Guard into the regular army.

At the same time, Col. Robert L. Fulton announced that complete reports have been received at state selective headquarters from all of the 120 local draft boards in Iowa.

Tuesday, he said, the state board will start work on the setting of percentage quotas for the local boards. The figures will be used later to determine how many men each board will be required to furnish for army training.

By the first of next week, questionnaires will be sent out to all men whose numbers are called in the national lottery tomorrow

buque County Board of Supervisors, Supervisor Joseph M. Baule, Recorder Donald J. Whelan, and County

DEATH CLAIMS JAMES N. HAYES

Local War Vet and Former Legislator Succumbs

James N. Hayes, 43, representative in the state legislature for Dubuque County from 1929 to 1933, died Sunday morning at 5:40 o'clock in the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital at Hines, Ill.

Seriously ill since last Labor Day, when he was stricken while on a fishing trip, Mr. Hayes became a patient in Hines Hospital on Sept. 13.

Mr. Hayes was born in Dubuque on Feb. 7, 1897, the son of the late James A. and Philomena Coudy Hayes, members of families of the earliest settlers of Cascade Township. His father served several terms as district court clerk and later established the James A. Hayes Insurance Agency.

JAMES N. HAYES

Served in Navy

During the World War Mr. Hayes served in the U. S. Navy

100-Year-Old Civil War Vet Is Dead Here

James Harrison Jackson, who observed his one hundredth birthday anniversary on March 2, 1940, and who was one of Dubuque's three surviving veterans of the Union Army in the Civil War, died Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Welsh, 490 West Locust Street.

The body is at the Bennet Ashworth Funeral Home, where funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Burial will be in the British Hollow, Wis., cemetery, where military burial services will be held.

The death of Mr. Jackson leaves but two veterans of Grant's army of Blue still living in Dubuque—E. Keen, 670 Cleveland Avenue and Frank Quade, 1652 Launda Avenue.

Mr. Jackson had enjoyed good health until about two years ago. Since that time he has been confined to his daughter's home.

Born Near St. Louis

Mr. Jackson was born March 2, 1840, near St. Louis, Mo. When he was a young boy, his parents moved from that locality to a farm near British Hollow, Wis., the trip having been made in a covered wagon. He grew to young manhood on the farm near British Hollow and when war broke out between the states he enlisted in the twenty-fifth Wisconsin Infantry Volunteers and served with that organization throughout the war. He was with Sherman in his march through Georgia to the sea, took part in many of the more important engagements of the war, and was with the victorious union army that passed in review before President Abraham Lincoln in Washington, D. C., at the close of the war.

He became affiliated with a Wisconsin post of the Grand Army of the Republic when that organization was formed some years after the Civil War and on coming to Dubuque, about 30 years ago, he became a member of the Hines, Ill. post of the G.A.R. He was a member should have priority.

National selective service headquarters, he said, was vitally interested in keeping key men in essential jobs. He emphasized, however, that all occupational deferments would be decided on an individual basis and by local boards.

Iowa Mobilization Plans Completed

Des Moines, Ia.--(U.P.)—Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl returned Monday from Washington and said Iowa is all ready to take its part both in connection with selective service and induction of the National Guard into the regular army.

At the same time, Col. Robert L. Fulton announced that complete reports have been received at state selective headquarters from all of the 120 local draft boards in Iowa.

Tuesday, he said, the state board will start work on the setting of percentage quotas for the local boards. The figures will be used later to determine how many men each board will be required to furnish for army training.

By the first of next week, questionnaires will be sent out to all men whose numbers are called in the national lottery tomorrow night.

After the questionnaires have been filled out, the boards will determine which men shall be called in for physical examinations.

Czech Arms Plant Bombed by Britain

London—(U.P.)—The Air Ministry Monday reported that for the first time since the outbreak of the war British bombers had attacked an objective in Czechoslovakia—the famous Skoda arms works at Pilsen.

The attack was carried out by a small force of British bombers, the ministry said, and it was "successful."

British bombers have made propaganda leaflet raids over Czechoslovakia occasionally but had not before bombed military objectives in that region.

on Feb. 7, 1897, the son of the late James A. and Philomena Coudy Hayes, members of families of the earliest settlers of Cascade Township. His father served several terms as district court clerk and later established the James A. Hayes Insurance Agency.

JAMES N. HAYES

Served in Navy

During the World War Mr. Hayes served in the U. S. Navy, being assigned to the Naval Training Camp at Charleston, S. C.; the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill.; the Naval Operating Base Hospital at Hampton Roads, Va.; and the USS Georgia. He was a member of the American Legion and the Forty and Eight Society.

Mr. Hayes received his education in St. Mary's School, and at Campion College in Prairie du Chien, Wis. He married Florence Wickham on Sept. 6, 1922.

Elected to House in 1929

After the World War, Mr. Hayes served as a deputy county auditor under Auditor Cletus Brietbach, then in 1929 he was elected to the Iowa lower house of the state legislature from Dubuque County. He served until 1933, when he entered the insurance business in Dubuque. Later he was a mem-

Look for ONE on Page Two but two veterans of Grant's army of Blue still living in Dubuque—E. Keen, 670 Cleveland Avenue and Frank Quade, 1652 Laurel Avenue.

Mr. Jackson had enjoyed good health until about two years ago. Since that time he has been confined to his daughter's home.

Born Near St. Louis

Mr. Jackson was born March 1840, near St. Louis, Mo. When was a young boy, his parents moved from that locality to a farm near British Hollow, Wis., the move having been made in a covered wagon. He grew to young manhood on the farm near British Hollow and when war broke out between the states he enlisted in the twenty-fifth Wisconsin Infantry Volunteers and served with that organization throughout the war. He was with Sherman in his march through Georgia to the sea, took part in many of the more important engagements of the war, and was with the victorious union army that passed in review before President Abraham Lincoln in Washington, D. C., at the close of the war.

He became affiliated with a Veterans' cousin post of the Grand Army of the Republic when that organization was formed some years after the Civil War and on coming to Dubuque, about 30 years ago, became a member of the Hyde Club post of the G.A.R. He was a mem-

Look for FIVE on Page Two

Oscar Vitt's Contract Will Not Be Renewed

Cleveland—(AP)—President A. Bradley announced Monday that Cleveland Indians "have decided not to renew Oscar Vitt's contract" as manager. Selection of a new pilot, Bradley added, will be made some time in the future.

The decision was announced by Bradley after a meeting of five members of the club's nine directors. The ball club fraternity generally had believed Vitt's days were numbered after a mid-season player reliefsion.

"I am not certain now when a new manager will be selected," said Bradley. "Perhaps the directors will study the applicants and leave the formal naming up to me."

DEWEY SATURDAY DEAL HAS FAILED

Claims FDR Has Blundered In U. S. Defense

Peoria, Ill. —(AP)— Thomas E. Dewey declared Monday night that the present administration "has failed in its highest duty—the defense of the United States of America."

"And so now, we have the result of the blundering of the seven years," the New York prosecutor said in a prepared speech at a rally here.

"We have the frantic speedup, the pretended inspection tours, the desperate last minute effort to cover up the most abysmal of all the New Deal failures."

President Roosevelt, he asserted, "has created this—his worst, and, I hope his last emergency."

Dewey cited what he said were army reports of several years to support his contention that while European dictators were rearming, American defense was lagging.

Senator Refers To Republican Rule

Tekamah, Neb. —(AP)— Senator Allen J. Ellender (D-La) charged Monday the 12 years of Republican rule after President Wilson's administration would go down in history as being "among the blackest years in American history."

Ellender was principal speaker at a political rally here.

Gov. R. L. Cochran also spoke briefly in behalf of his candidacy for the senate.

Monday night Senator Ellender, Governor Cochran and several local candidates spoke at an old-fashioned rally in Decatur.

In Omaha Monday, Ellender charged Wendell Willkie has been "slick as an oiled" and nobody can tell where he stands.

Communists Barred From Election Ballot

Albany, N. Y. —(AP)— The appellate division upheld three to two Monday a State Supreme Court order barring the Communist party from the election ballot.

Italian Troops

DEATH CLAIMS JAMES N. HAYES

Local War Vet and Former Legislator Succumbs

ONE

Continued From Page One

ber of the Iowa State Highway Patrol, and then was an insurance inspector, and associated with the National Safety Council. At the time he was stricken, he had again reentered the insurance business in Dubuque.

He was a member of St. Raphael's Cathedral.

The Survivors

Besides his wife, he is survived by six children, James Jr., John, Marian, Joan, and Florence Hayes, and Robert McVay; one sister, Mrs. Constance Smithwick, of Hartford, Conn.; and one brother, Henry C. Hayes, of Baltimore, Md. His parents and two sisters preceded him in death.

The funeral will be held from the Didesch Funeral Home Wednesday morning to St. Raphael's Cathedral at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Hayes was widely known in semi-professional baseball circles and for many years was a member of the Dubuque White Sox, one of the most famous of semi-pro baseball teams. While a student at Campion College he was also prominent in all branches of athletics.

TWO

Continued From Page One

with Mussolini and the Greek-Italian developments.

(The official Germany news agency reported in a Berlin dispatch that "if no further conferences are held Monday afternoon noon." It also was expected by measures were necessary to meet the perils of the situation."

DRAFT CAPSULE

Lest thieves break in and spoil nationwide conscription lottery, number heavy guard as they were placed in liam A. Julian, second from right, supervised the job. Note Capt. Rich left, with his hand in his gun pocket

"At a time when Greek blows against Albania became more numerous British intrigues in Athens intensified to a point where severe British blows against Greek independence and territory seemed imminent," it continued.

"The entire situation, with British pressure, which attempted to justify her (Britain's) own intervention by alleged Greek pleas for help led to an even clearer Greek renunciation of independence. The

By D news seat to prof det in seat conf port W shor er 1 out