The board said it wants to install hard-surfaced parking lots, but hasn't budgeted for them and can't afford them at this time.

The board said it would agree to a council suggestion that asphaltic driveways be installed at Jensen and would do the work next summer. It-said-it also would install asphaltic drives at the high school if permanent locations for drives are established by the City the year. Fiat is one of several Council next summer.

An Urbandale City ordinance job. requires installation of hard-surfaced parking lots at all business and public places.

In other business Tuesday night, residents objected to a gasoline bulk storage tank and pump on school property at 7101 Airline ave.

They also objected to a plan for parking school buses at the site, which is west of the school administration building and immediately south of Olmsted Elementary School.

The board voted to delay installation of the gas facility for two weeks so it can determine whether installation will affect fire insurance rates for. nearby residential properties. The School Board appeared before the Urbandale Board of Adjustment Monday night and was given permission to install the gas facility.

The Urbandale School Board will hold regular meetings on Nov. 14, Nov. 27, and Dec. 11. It has been holding some of its meetings on Tuesday nights instead of Monday nights because of conflicting activities.

In January, meetings are return consistently to 7 p.m. on names Pfizer, American Cyanathe second and fourth Mondays of the month at 7101 Airline.

GEORGE J. VAN BUREN. One of the fine farm estates of Jones County is that owned and managed by George J. Van Buren, who is the present representative of the county in the State Legislature. He has stood exponent of progressive policies both as a citizen and industrialist, and his loyalty to his native state stands in evidence of his appreciation of its manifold advantages and attractions. Mr. Van Buren has had much of leadership in advancing the standards of agriculture and live stock industry in the Hawkeye State. He served one year as director of the Jones County Farm Bureau, of which he was thereafter president one year, and he has been specially prominent in the councils and campaign work of the Republican party in his home county. His loyal progressiveness is being distinctly manifested in his constructive service as a member of the Lower House of the Iowa Legislature.

Mr. Van Buren was born in Hardln County, Iowa, on the 3d of January, 1882, and was child of two years at the time of his paren removal to Western Kansas, in 1884, and in 1689 the family returned to lowa, by means of term and old-time "prairie schooner," the home at this and old-time prairie scholart, the future at the time having been established on a farm in Black-hawk County, where the subject of this review duly profited by the advantages of the public schools. In 1901 he was graduated in Epworth Seminary, and in 1904 he was graduated in an other of the admirable educational institutions of Iowa, Cornell College. In 1904-06 he was an instructor in the high school at Wilmington, Illinois, and during the spring and summer of the latter year he was in service as a civil end neer for the Rio Grande & Sierra Madre Railroad in Mexico. After thus assisting in construction work on this line of railroad he returned to lowa in the fall of 1905. He mext gave about a yea of service as teacher in the high school at Tus of service as teacher in the high school at Tus-cola, Illinois, and during the ensuing year in functioned as instructor at Drury College, Springfield, Missouri, where he likewise served as football coach. During the mext two years he was principal of the high school at Tuscols. Illinois, and he then amplified his success in the pedagogic profession by assuming the professor-ship of higher mathematics in the State Teachers college at Kearney Nebraska where he te College at Kearney, Nelbraska, where he re-mained four years and where he simultaneously served as coach of student athletics. After leaving this institution Mr. Van Buren passed a year on a farm near Ottenville, Missouri, and in the spring of 1915 he returned to lows and established his residence on his present fine farm estate in Jones County. Here he has a well imestate in Jones County. Here he has a w proved farm of 220 acres, devoted to diversified agriculture and the raising of excellent types of live stock, and in all particulars he exemplifies scientific and progressive methods and policies in the directing of the various operations of his farm.

Mr. Van Buren has serwed as chairman of the Republican central committee of Jenes County, and in 1928 he was elected representative of the county in the State Legislature, iin which he is according characteristically loyal and constructive service. He was director of the Monticello Farmers Mutual Creamery two years and also served one year as its vice president. The Masonic affiliations of Mr. Van Buren include his membership in the Order of the Mastern Star, and he has served as patron of his Chapter since 1925, his wife having been its matron in 1927. The religious faith of the family is that of the Presbyterian Church.

On the 12th of June, 19907, was solemnized the marriage of Mr. Van Burren to Miss Edna M. Cramer, who was born in Delauware County, Iowa, where her parents, Archibsald and Orpha Flizabeth (Smith) Cramer, were early settlers, the former having been born in Ohio and the latter in Pennsylvamia. Mrs. Van Buren is a lneal descendant of Capt. Wilson Cramer, who was a patriot officer of the Continental Line in the war of the Revolution, and on this score she affiliated with Frances Shaw Chapter of the paughters of the American Revolution, in the Ofty of Anamosa. Mr. and Mrs. Van Buren have four children: John, who was born in 1908 and who is one of the progressive young farmers in Jones County, married Miss Vilma Rech, of Central City, Iowa.. Helem, who was born in 1909, was graduated in the State Teachers College at Wayne, Nebraska, and is now a popular isacher in the Buck Creek Consolidated School In Delaware County, Iowa. Ruth, who was born in 1912, is a studient in Cornell College, this tate, and in 1929 had the distinction of winning the Fink-Bein scholarship of $300, which is awarded to high-school students making highest records in their sænior high-school year. Five students are thus awarded the scholarship each ear, and Miss Ruth won by her major standing n English. Paul, youngest of the children, was born in 1916, and is still a student in the public chools of his home county.

EUGENE HENELY. The death of Eugene Henely on September 11, 1928, closed a career of remarkable service as an Iowa educator. Mr. Henely had been a school superintendent for thirty-eight years, all of this time being divided among just three localities. For twenty-three years before his death he had been superintendent of the Grinnell public schools, and that city and community in particular appreciate his unusual qualities as a teacher and man.

He was a native of Iowa, born near Monticello December 15, 1867, and passed away in his exty-first year. He was a son of Michael and Mary Jane (Kirkley) Henely, both natives of Ohio. His parents came to Iowa in a covered wagon in 1853 and settled near Monticello, where his father devoted the rest of his life to farming. Michael Henely died in 1902 and his wife in 1918. One of their sons is William E. Henely, of Clarion, Iowa, amd another is Dr. Edmund Henely, of Nora Springs, Iowa.

Eugene Henely grew up on a farm, attended the grade and high schools of Monticello, and in 1890 was graduated from the Iowa State College at Ames. The first community to which he was called as head of the schools was Oxford, Iowa, where he remained nine years. For six years he was superintendent of schools of Brookyn, Iowa, and im 1905 became superintendent of Grinnell. He gave Grinnell schools an enviable standing among the school systems of the state. As a result of his work Grinnell has a reputation for its public school system as well as for its splendid college, and is an all around elucational center. As a teacher it is said that no slightest detail was ever too small to be missed or slighted by Mr. Henely. Each pupil was known and called by name, and he felt a deep interest in his or her welfare not only in school days but through latter years. His graduates of long ago still consulted him upon their plams and work. Some of the most splendid tributes paid him during his illness and since his death came from former students. He served in warious capacities in the State Teachers Association and in other educational organizations. He was an active member of the Methodist Church for twenty-eight years, was long identified with the Men's Bible Class of the church at Grimnell, and was steward of the church and a consistent member of the Sunday School. Fratermally he was a member of the Masonic frate-nity, B. P. O. Elks, Independent Order of Odd Feelows, Knights of Pythias, Modern Woodmen of America, and was a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Fortnightly Club. He was for twenty years a member of the city library board. and a member of the Social Service League Board from the time of its organization.

Among other organizations that paid tribute to his life of service one was the Board of Control of the Iowa High School Athletic Association, of which he was one of the founders. The board of control said: "Eugene Henely's death came as a distinct shock to all of us. While his health had not been good for some time there was no thought of anything but his ultimate recovery. He left a unique and an enviable record of service. For twenty-three years he served his community, and the splendid school system of Grinnell is a monument to his ability as an organizer and an educator as well as to his tireless energy and industry.

"He served the Iowa High School Athletic Association as a member of the Board of Control for over twenty years, and the scope and influence of this organization is due in a very large measure to his sound sense, his good judgment and his clear vision. His interest in the affairs of the association was unflagging and the amount of time and labor he gave to it was enormous. He was eminently fair, and he abhorred trickery. He was outspoken in his opinions, he truckled to no one. He could have sharp differences but he bore no grudges. There was no rancor in his makeup."

Superintendent Henely married, in 1892, Miss Louise Miller, who was born near North Liberty im Johnson County, Iowa, June 9, 1872. Her father, Alexander James Miller, was a native of Pennsylvania, was brought to Iowa by his paremts in the early 1850s, and the family has lived im Johnson County for over three-quarters of a century. Her father gave his life to farming and stock raising and later became editor and publisher of the Oxford Journal. He died in 1910. He married Mary Louise McColm, of Baltimore, Maryland, who died in 1925. Of their seven children four are now living: Jesse A. Miller, an attorney and former district judge at State of Iowa 1969
