John M. Bixler Died Early Tuesday Morning

The death of John Bixler Tuesday morning brought to Adams County the loss of a pioneer who had lived a busy, useful life, which had won him the esteem of his fellow citizens and confidence of the entire community. In spite of the fatal malady which he suffered, he was able to be about until a few weeks before his death. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Highland church conducted by Rev. Bowden of Villisca. Burial was made in the Nod-away cemetery.

John M. Bixler, son of John and Savilla Markley Bixler, was born at Brooks, Iowa, December 23, 1867 and died at his home in Douglas township at three a. m. Tuesday morning, May 26, 1936, aged 68 years, 5 months and 3 days. The immediate cause of his death was sarcoma. Mr. Bixler's childhood was spent in the vicinity of his present home, and the first term of school which he attended was held at his father's home. When the Highland school house was built he was one of the pupils at the first term of school taught in the district. He was studious and obtained what he could from the limited advantages of the country schools at that time.

When he became the required age, he obtained a certificate and taught in the rural schools of his neighborhood, the Quincy school and a school in Mills County. He attended the Western Normal College at Shenandoah for some time, and when O. H. Longwell of that college went to Highland Park Normal College of Des Moines, as its first president when that institution was founded, Mr. Bixler registered as a student in that institution from which he graduated with the first class in 1891. He served as county superintendent of schools from January 1892 until January, 1896. He then moved to his present farm.

March 13, 1892, he was married to Fannie L. Day and to them six children were born all of whom are living, namely: Fannie Fern, wife of Allen Hoskinson of Corning; Mary S., wife of W. P. Johnson of Harlan, Iowa; Marjorie, wife of Andrew Barnard of Selkirk, Ontario, Canada; Carl K. Bixler of Corning; Neal Bixler of Manson, Iowa; and Blanche, wife of Walter Arbuckle of Corning. There are fifteen grandchildren who were his pride and joy. These with his life companion, two sisters and one brother still survive to mourn his departure; also a large family of nieces and nephews. The living sisters are, Mrs. E. L. Hoyt, Corning, and Mrs. Isabelle Markley,

His brother, Jacob Bixler, of Hitchcock, South Dakota, came in time to have a pleasant visit with him and remained at his bedside until his passing.

He was a member of the 41st, 42nd and 43rd general assembly of the State of Iowa representing Adams County and to this work he gave untiring efforts. In the session of legislature which convened in 1897 he was chosen Journal clerk and served the general session and also the special session in 1898 to recodify the laws of the state.

He joined the Methodist church of his community in early youth, and when the Advent Christian church was organized at Highland he became a member and later was a member of the Highland Community Church. He was a faithful and persistent worker in the Sunday School of which he was superintendent, and from which he was absent only the last month. The home has lost a devoted husband and father and the community a valued citizen in the passing of Mr. Bixler.

Heritage

Are we struggling to be worthy
 As along life's road we go.
 If we're having serious problems
 There's a thing we all should know.

Our heritage is not a face,
 We put on or off at will.
 No amount of money bought it,
 No amount, will keep it still.

What we are and what we can be,
 Is an attitude of mind.
 Share life's story with each other,
 Leaving selfishness behind.

When you leave a heritage to others,
 You are planting God's good seed.
 It may help in their life struggle,
 And fulfill your own deep need.

had moved from Ohio about 1883. Their children were Clyde and Fern Fannie. Jacob taught school, farmed and once was sheriff of Adams Co. He died at Carl in 1924.

Jacob M. Bixler, father of Jacob M. Bixler, Jr., was born in Fayette Co., Pennsylvania. (1799-1872) He married Elizabeth Murray about 1821 in Penn. They were the parents of nine children. They moved to Ohio about 1832 and to Adams Co., Iowa in 1856.

Nellie Roberts Bixler was the daughter of Henry and Mary Elizabeth McCune. They moved to Adams Co. from Zanesville, Ohio in 1895. They were also the parents of a son Clark who lived in Mt. Etna until his death in 1979. Wayne Anderson

BIXLER-HILL

We, Velma Grace Hill and Glenn Raymond Bixler were married December 22, 1925, at the home of my parents W.J. and Edith Hill. I was teaching at the Houck school at the time and finished my term and Glenn, son of Sidney and Elsie Bixler was farming north of Carbon. We lived on my folks farm as renters until 1937, when we moved to Villisca, as a partner in the implement business one year, returning to the farm in 1938 after Glenn was seriously injured by an exploding truck tire, that could have taken his life.

Glenn and Velma (Hill) Bixler

We lived with my folks and had a married hired man living in our former home for four years, until we moved to a farm we bought. Glenn was a very progressive farmer keeping up with new things. After 1942 we retired from active farming and continued with renters, Wayne and Georgia Goodvin and son Max, for 21 years. Our present renters are Glen and Mary Lou Roberts and family, with livestock lease, this being their 20th year of farming north of Carbon, the last eight years in partnership with me, alone, as Glenn passed away in June 7, 1975, and is buried at Quincy Cemetery. He was born January 15, 1902. A stillborn son July 9, 1932, and his parents and my parents preceded him in death. He was survived by Ma and six brothers and sisters Violet, Erle, Beth, Harold, Gene and Max and nephews and nieces.

Glenn and I are 4th generation descendants of pioneers, John Bixler and John Houck. They along with our grandparents have biographies in Adams County History Book published in 1892.

Glenn loved the land and worked to leave it better than when he acquired it. He operated a maintainer and a grader six years building roads. He was a coon hunter all his life and was widely known as a breeder and trainer of coon hounds. He wrote a column "Iowa Trails & Tales" for Fall Cry Magazine for 16 years and enjoyed the friendship of many hunters from other states.

He was always interested in Community Betterment and active in Republican Party and served in township offices and responsibilities. We were members of Carbon United Methodist Church, attended country schools, graduated from Corn- ing High School. He attended Grand Island Business College, and I took summer classes in Creston and taught three years. I love farm homemaking, reading, fishing, travelling and antiques and pet dogs. In childhood I enjoyed a foster brother, Billy Hill and foster sister Phila Hill, my grandmother Houck and aunts and uncles and cousins.

Glenn and I saw Depression, World Wars, Korea and Vietnam but thought we had a wonderful life in Adams County. Submitted by Velma Bixler

JACOB BIXLER

Jacob Bixler was born 20 Apr. 1796, in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, son of Joseph Bixler, who was born either in Penn. or New Jersey, most likely Penn.

Jacob Bixler

He married Elizabeth Murray, also from Fayette County, Penn. b. 5 Jun. 1796. dau. of Robert and Margaret (Jackson) Murray. Robert Murray was a native of Ireland.

They had 9 children; Robert, Mary (Norris), Lydia (Hommon), John, Charles, William, Joseph, Jacob Jr., and Margaret (Aldridge). The Bixlers moved to Ohio about 1831 and to Iowa in 1856. They settled in Quincy Twp. with their children, William, Jacob, Jr., Lydia and Margaret. Three sons had already settled in Quincy Twp., John, Joseph, and Charles. Their daughter Mary (Norris) stayed in Indiana and their son Robert in Ohio.

In early life they were members of the Lutheran Church. On coming to Iowa they joined the Methodist Church.

Jacob died 7 Oct. 1871, and Elizabeth died of typhoid fever 7 Oct. 1859. Both are buried in the Quincy cemetery.

They saw hard times because of the ravages of the prairie fire in the fall of 1856 which destroyed feed, grass, chickens, outhouses, and the stables. The winter of 1856-1857 was the great snow which the wind drove into the hollows till the hills were not much higher than the low. Some places the snow was thirty to fifty feet deep. There came a thaw followed by severe cold which left a solid crust on these drifts which became traps for deer and wild turkey. A herd of deer would break through the crust and they would flounder in the snow and die or be killed by wolves or hunters.

In August 1857, there was so hard a frost that no corn matured and the settlers had to haul corn for bread and seed from Missouri. Submitted by Louise Brown

JOHN BIXLER

John Bixler was born in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, 4 Mar. 1823, son of Jacob and Elizabeth Murray Bixler. John was about 9 when he moved with his parents to Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

John and Savilla Ann Bixler

There he was reared on a farm and received a common school education.

On 26 Nov. 1846, he was married in Tuscarawas County to Savilla Ann Markley, b. in Harrison County, Ohio, 25 Jan. 1827, dau. of Jacob and Margaret (Wallace) Markley, natives of Washington Co., Pennsylvania. Her parents moved to Appanoose Co., Iowa in the 1850s or 1860s.

John and Savilla Ann left Coshocton Co., Ohio in the spring of 1853, stopped in Owen Co., Indiana where they resided until 1 July 1854, when they resumed their Westward trek. Here they left buried their youngest child, Margaret Ann. The family then consisted of themselves, Burr (5), Elizabeth Jane (3), brother Joseph Bixler undertook the journey to Iowa with ox teams, grazing the oxen at nights and Sundays. On the 15 Oct. 1854, they stopped at Henry Reese's in eastern part of Adams Co. Here they camped until the men explored farther west meeting the Pottowattomie tribe of Indians at what is now Nodaway and saw them pull out for their Western home from which they would periodically return to camp and visit their burial ground west of Brooks where several skeletons were unearthed in the construction of the railroad.

The three brothers John, Charles, and Joseph settled on the middle Nodaway River. John lived one mile west of Quincy. Then he moved to Nodaway Twp. and to Jasper Twp. where he was in the sawmill business at Brooks. He lost his eye there from a file piercing it in 1860 so he was considered unfit for the Civil War service. In 1874 he settled on an 80 acre farm Sec. 34 in Douglas Twp.

BIXLER-ORME

Robert Arthur Bixler, son of Robert Allen and Helen Strait Bixler, was born November 28, 1899 in Adams County, Iowa, the youngest of 11 children.

Robert Arthur and Vera Bixler, Dorothy, Robert, Anieta, Frances

On June 22, 1919, he married Vera Pearl Orme, (date of birth October 24, 1898) daughter of Fred and Lillie Maude Bullock Orme of Adams County. After their marriage they farmed for several years in Adams County and Wisconsin. Later they were engaged in various business and self employment enterprises in Villisca, Iowa; Lincoln and Scottsbluff, Nebraska; and Concordia, Kansas. During those years they were blessed with the birth of four children: Dorothy Virginia — March 25, 1920, Robert Arthur Jr. — July 27, 1921, Anieta Berniece — September 17, 1922, and Frances Aileen — January 27, 1927.

Mr. Bixler was raised in a strongly religious environment. As a youth he was active in church activities, in Loyal Workers, and served as Sunday School superintendent. As an adult he and Mrs. Bixler were active in church activities wherever they lived. Therefore, it was no great surprise to family and friends when in 1948 he was called into the full time Advent Christian Ministry, first serving the Brays Church, Iberia, Missouri. Reverend and Mrs. Bixler (a loyal, dedicated and active pastor's wife) later served churches in Collettsville, North Carolina; Houston, Texas; Mt. Ayr, Iowa; and Stone Mountain, Georgia. Their assignments in Houston and Stone Mountain were with Mission Churches requiring Rev. Bixler to exercise his talents in planning, development, building and improving church property.

The Bixler's retired in 1970 and built their retirement home near the Advent Christian Village, Dowling Park, Florida. The Village was founded in 1913 by his brother the late Reverend Burr A.L. Bixler. It serves many needs of orphaned children, and of retired Ministers, Missionaries and lay people. Rev. Bixler's retirement was short lived when on the first Sunday after moving to Florida he was asked to supply the pulpit at Perry, Florida. He preached there for three years. On October 23, 1977, he preached his last sermon in the Bixler Memorial Church, Dowling Park, which is named in honor of his brother Burr.

Reverend Bixler lost a 13 year battle with cancer when he died on January 31, 1978. Mrs. Bixler remains active in activities of the Advent Christian Village at Dowling Park. She enjoys visits by and to the families of the four children who reside in each of the four time zones of the continental United States: Dorothy Fryer, Villisca, Iowa; Robert Arthur Bixler, Jr., Aurora, Colorado; Anieta Clayton, Daly City, California; and Frances Rademacher, Damascus, Maryland. By Mrs. Vera Bixler
