Dr. Cole

Dr. E. J. Cole Dead At 101

Special To The Nonpareil

WOODBINE—Dr. E. J. Cole, 101, one of the oldest citizens in Harrison County, died Wednesday at a Council Bluffs hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Heft Funeral Home here. The Rev. J. E. McClellan will officiate. Burial will be at Woodbine Cemetery.

A lifetime resident of Woodbine, he was born on a farm there January 24, 1865. He practiced medicine in the area for 55 years, retiring in 1944.

In addition to his medical practice, Dr. Cole served as president of the First National Bank for over 25 years, having begun in 1918.

He was also state representative for Harrison County three terms between 1922-28.

Dr. Cole was graduated from Rush Medical College in Chicago in 1889 and previously attended Iowa State University. His father was a pioneer doctor here.

Survivors include:

Two daughters, Bernice, Woodbine, Mrs. Helen Longworth, Boone; a son, Clement, Omaha; four grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials be made to the Dr. Cole Scholarship fund at Woodbine High School.

$98,800 For Need Study

AMES (AP)—The Iowa Highway Commission approved Wednesday a $98,800 contract with Ray Jorgensen and Associates of Gettersburg, Md., for updating and maintaining a highway needs and finance study.

The firm is to begin the work July 11 and complete it by Dec. 31.

The Automotive Safety Foundation and Public Administration Service made a study of Iowa highway needs after the 1961 legislative session. The Jorgensen study will make the previous one current.

Judge Threatens Crackdown In DM

DES MOINES (AP) — Municipal Judge Luther T. Ganton threatened Wednesday to recommend five-day license suspensions for motorists who fail to answer charges of moving traffic violations on time.

Court officials said they have arrest warrants for more than 800 drivers who failed to answer charges.
