Think of her still as the same, and

Jonas D. Buser Rites
Friday At Conesville

Funeral services for Jonas D. Buser, Conesville, will be held at the Evangelical and Reformed church in Conesville at two o'clock, Friday afternoon, in charge of the Stephens Funeral home of this city.

The sermon will be by the Rev. Edward W. Norman, pastor of the Conesville Methodist church with the committal service in charge of the Masonic lodge.

Mr. Buser, prominent for many years as a business and political leader, was found dead about five o'clock Monday evening, March 5, 1951, at his home one half mile west of Conesville, where he had lived alone for some years. It was thought death had occurred some hours previously.

Jonas DeMoss Buser, was born in Louisa county, January 15, 1867 and was the son of the Rev. John Hanson and Margaret DeMoss Lenox Buser. He was aged 84 years, 1 month, and 17 days.

Later the family moved to Conesville where his father established and built the present Reformed and Evangelical church.

Mr. Buser spent his entire life in the Conesville community. He attended the Conesville school and later attended the Iowa City Academy and the University of Iowa.

He was united in marriage to Rebecca Jane McKee, January 7, 1895, who preceded him in death in 1928.

Early in life, in addition to his farming activities which he never relinquished, he taught school several terms and then took an active interest in politics. In 1900 he was elected assessor of Orono township, a position he filled for 11 years; he was then elected township trustee for two years and in 1913 was elected to the Muscatine county board of supervisors, a position he held for 8 years, four years of which he served as chairman of the board. In 1919, he was elected to the state senate from the Muscatine-Louisa district, serving eight years, during which time he was recognized as one of the outstanding leaders of the state legislature.

He retired from active participation in politics in 1928 and three years later in 1931, was elected president of the Louisa County National bank, in this city, a position he retained until the time of his death.

He was a man of honest, rugged individuality, a tireless worker, and a champion of the foundation principals of the republican party with

Schrader Is Found Guilty At Wapello

Jackie Ray Schrader, 23 year son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schrader Grandview, has been found guilty manslaughter in the death of Clarence Dudley Adey, 41, who lived 2904 Columbia street, Burlington.

The verdict of guilty was returned by a Louisa county jury at 10:45 m. Tuesday, just 6 hours after it to the case.

Schrader will be sentenced in Louisa county court house at 11 m. March 17th by Judge E. O. Nell.

The young man, it is understood still faces another manslaughter count in the death of Nolan O. Courtney, Grandview, who was riding with him when the accident occurred which led to Schraders indictment and trial.

County Attorney, Robert F. Reedy, ably and impartially presented the evidence and prosecuted the case. Attorney Edwin Hicklin, veteran Louisa county attorney, was lawyer for the defense.

During the progress of the trial jurors were taken to the scene of the accident, last Friday.

Six state witnesses testified that Schrader, 23, was driving on the wrong side of the highway.

Seven witnesses were called Friday, for the defense, including Schrader's mother, Mrs. Ray Schrader. Schrader himself also testified in defense.

Employee-Employer Banquet Planned

Arrangements are being completed for the first Employer—Employee banquet and program ever to be held here.

The affair is being sponsored and promoted by the Columbus Junction very active B. I. W. club.
