Fourth Graders At Library

means to live by, a love of home and family; the desire to worship God; a deep love of country, a knowledge of what democracy means and a readiness to serve; the enjoyment of making friends and keeping them; interest in skills and hobbies, the ability to work skillfully and to take pleasure in it; and the love of the out-of-doors and the skill in outdoor living." Mrs. Peck stated.

She pointed out that membership in the Audubon district is now 130 girls—an increase of 33 members since just last year. There are 40 adult leaders in the program.

The girls are broken into two groups—the Camp Fire Girls and the Bluebirds. This is on an age basis with the Bluebirds being the younger girls.

Each troop of girls meets one afternoon a week but there are city-wide and area-wide programs in which they all participate such as the Mother-Daughter Dessert, the Grandmothers Tea, the Camp Fire Candy Sale, the Christmas Candlelight Vespers, the Dad-Daughters Box Supper, the Area Candy Party, the Council Fire, the May Play Day and overnight camping trips and summer camping at Camp Hantesa near Boone.

Last summer, Mrs. Peck said, 18 Audubon girls attended camping sessions at Hantesa.

The Camp Fire Girls organization receives a total of $600 from the Community Chest this year. This money is well spent on the young girls of our home community, Mrs. Peck said, and added that the Community Chest function is vital to the survival of the group.
