has been won through his energy and perseverance and the assistance of his estimable wife, for when he started out upon his own account he rented land and today he is one of the extensive landowners of the county.

JAMES PETERS.

James Peters is classed among the well-to-do and extensive farmers and stock-raisers of Dallas county, owning a tract of land comprising five hundred and twenty acres, known as the Standard Stock Farm, and located on section 17, Dallas township. Mr. Peters is a native of Michigan, born in Ypsilanti, February 9, 1858, a son of John Peters, who was an early settler of that state. He removed from that state to Ohio, and subsequently removed to Illinois, while in 1877 he located in Warren county, Iowa, where he spent his last years. He is still survived by his widow, who bore the maiden name of Eliza Donley, and their marriage was celebrated in the Keystone state. Mrs. Peters now makes her home in Perry, Iowa.

James Peters was reared on the home farm, accompanying his parents on their various removals. He acquired his education in the common schools and remained with his father until he reached years of maturity, when, in 1879, he started out in life on his own account and came to Dallas county, operating rented land here for several years. He then purchased a tract of eighty acres in Washington township, and after building a home and improving and cultivating that place for several years he sold it and moved to Dallas township, owning a place of two hundred acres. After improving that tract and making his home on it for nine years he disposed of it and removed to Guthrie county, where he purchased four hundred and forty acres, but after a residence of five years there returned once more to Dallas county and now owns five hundred and twenty acres. He has made many improvements since locating here and now has a fine country residence and many sheds, barns and other outbuildings for the care of his stock and grain, and he has also erected a set of buildings for his son, who assists him in the management of the farm. In addition to cultivating the cereals best adapted to soil and climate, Mr. Peters also raises large numbers of stock, feeding and fattening from twelve to seventeen carloads annually. The success which he today enjoys is due entirely to his own efforts, for he started out in life emptyhanded and through his own energy, economy and perseverance he has gradually worked his way upward until he is now the owner of a valuable farm property.

Mr. Peters established a home of his own by his marriage, on the 13th of July, 1881, to Miss Mary Snyder, who was born in Henry county, Illinois, December 21, 1861, a daughter of James Snyder, who removed to this state from Illinois. He is now living retired at the advanced age of eighty-two years. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Peters has been blessed with six children: Frank, who is married and has four children, and resides on his father's farm; James O., a young man at home; Harry Vernon; Anna Laura, the wife of M. G. Wilkinson, a jeweler of Pomeroy, Iowa; Lena May, who was graduated from the Guthrie county high school and Perry Normal College, and is now engaged in teaching; and Anna E., a young lady at home.

Mr. Peters gives his political support to the republican party but was formerly identified with the democracy. He has never sought or desired office but has been called to fill several township offices, having served as township and road supervisor and as district clerk, and he is also a member of the school board. The family are members of the Methodist church at Yale. Mr. Peters is a Master Mason, belonging to the blue lodge at Yale, while both he and his wife are members of the Eastern Star and he belongs to the Modern Woodmen of During the three decades of his America. residence in the state he has seen much of the wild land converted into valuable tracts, while here and there thriving towns and villages have sprung up. He has assisted in much of the improvement that has here been made along agricultural lines, while as the owner of the Standard Stock Farm he is numbered among the substantial and progressive citizens of this section of the state.

JACOB RITZMAN.

Jacob Ritzman is a prominent agriculturist and an old settler of Dallas county, Iowa, where he has lived since 1872. He was born in Berks county, Pennsylvania, July 24, 1850, and is a son of Michael and Kate (Marks) Ritzman, both natives of Pennsylvania. They had six children, only two of whom survive, Jacob and Gussie. The father of this family passed away in 1868 at the age of fifty-five, while the mother survived him until 1893, when she died at the age of eighty-one. They were hard-working, conscientious people and took both pride and pleasure in rearing their two children.

Jacob Ritzman received the ordinary educational advantages incident to his native county, attending the district school in winter and working on his father's farm during the summer season. He was an ambitious young man, anxious to be independent and to make his own way in the world. At the early age of nineteen, when most boys are just beginning to think of college today, Mr. Ritzman came alone to Illinois and worked by the month for one year in Bureau county. He had from a lad been equal to anything that 'could be done with tools and he felt that along this line he would be glad to cultivate his talent. He accordingly removed to Dallas county, Iowa, and worked at the carpenter's trade for nine years, but his early life on the farm had made him so at home in agricultural pursuits that he longed once more for the work in the fields. In 1878 he bought eighty acres of land and worked it so successfully that he was able to add eighty acres more to his original purchase. It was a matter of pride with him to have his farm one of the best kept in the county and to bring it to a condition where its buildings and its crops would speak of prosperity. He erected a two-story house, which was comfortable in every particular, good barns, corncribs and all the necessary outbuildings. He referced his entire farm, laid three miles of tiling on the place and put it in a condition where it yielded him abundant crops. In addition to general farming he raises superior grades of shorthorn cattle and Poland China hogs, feeding out his grain to two or four carloads of cattle a year. A person cannot pass Mr. Ritzman's farm without the feeling that he lives at home. place is inviting in every detail, for his house, barn and buildings are all modern and up-todate, and the landscape gardening is a model for other agriculturists to copy. Mr. Ritzman has surrounded his place with beautiful shade trees, has set out a splendid orchard and has designed all of his own buildings, which accounts for their unusual artistic features.

Mr. Ritzman was married on January 20, 1886, to Molly Rankin, a native of Muscatine county and a daughter of Burrough Rankin. It was while on a visit to Dallas county that Mr. Ritzman met Miss Rankin, so that their courtship was decidedly a romance. Their union has been blessed with one child, Clifford, born November 22, 1887. He is at home and takes great delight in assisting his father in carrying on the home farm.

Mr. Ritzman has been a life-long republican so far as national affairs are concerned, but has always cast an independent local ballot. He has never sought either the offices or the honors of his party but has preferred to devote his time to his farm and to his family, to whom he is unusually devoted. Mrs. Ritzman is a member of the Christian church, which has always received her generous and hearty support. To those who have known the details of Mr. Ritzman's life it is a matter of amazement and surprise that he has been able to accomplish so much. Beginning empty-handed, he has
