Timothy Crynes, an old time resident of Independence up to a few years ago, and later of Jesup died at the County Home last Wednesday of paralysis. Mr. Crynes practically succumbed to old age being in his 84th year. Twenty-five years ago he knew and was known by almost everyone in this section. He was a tailor by trade, a great reader and intensely interested in politics and would leave his shop at any time for the sake of a political discussion. He failed to lay by against old age and finally became a ward of the county. The body was taken to his former home in Jesup and the funeral was held at the Jesup Catholic church Friday. # HON. C. E. BOIES DIES IN CHICAGO HOSPITAL

Funeral Services Held Monday From M. E. Church

Hon. C. E. Boies, Representative in the State Legislature of this District, died Friday, July 2nd at 11 A. M. at Columbus Hospital in Chicago. He went there at the time of the Republican Convention, remaining for treatment for appendicitis. An operation was deemed necessary and his daughter, Miss Inez, was called from here. The news of his death came as a great shock to the multitude of friends and acquaintances.

Charles E. Boies, the fourth son of William D. and Sarah C. (Hugby)

Boies was born on his father's farm in Boone County, Ill., on January 15th 1859. At the age of fourteen he came with the family to this county, where they purchased a tract known as the Hatch farm near Quasqueton. His education was completed in the High School of Sycamore, Ill., and when 21 years of age he began farming on his own account, renting land from his father. He was identified with agricultural pursuits continuously until 1873 when the family came to Iowa. In 1890 he removed to Rowley, where he embarked in the hotel, livery and livestock business, which he conducted for six years. In 1896 he went to Quasqueton, where he engaged in buying cattle and horses until 1902. He then removed to Independence where he continued the same business south of the city, in Sumner township. In 1880 Mr. Boies was united in marriage to Clara I. Miller. Three a good many moons since the old Con. came out with eight pages, and with any kind of luck it will be a good many more.

HON. C. I. CRAWFORD VISITED HERE SUNDAY

Hon. C. I. Crawford of South Dakota, a boyhood resident of Buchanan county who began the practice of law in Independence over thirty years ago was a visitor here Sunday. We do not recall any other Buchanan county boy who reached the prominence attained by Crawford. He went from here to South Dakota, where he built up a successful practice and entered republican politics. He was elected to the United States senate from that state and served his term with more than ordinary distinction, but went down for reelection in one of the political reversals for his second term. Like most men who are honest in politics, he came out poorer than when he went into the game, and has since devoted himself to the practice of his profession with a great deal more profit. He was called back to this county to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, D. H. Flickinger, who passed away at his home in Winthrop suddenly Friday night and was buried Monday. Senator Crawford came up to Independence to visit the graves of his parents and five brothers and sisters, who rest in Oak Grove.

EDITOR OF CONSERVATIVE TAKES SHORT VACATION

Mrs. E. J. Smith entertained forty guests in honor of Mrs. Hill and daughter, Gertrude of McKeesport, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Webster of Waco, Tex., Mrs. Miriam Webster Ellzey of Dallas, Tex., Miss Helen Main of Cedar Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hall of Milwaukee, Wis. The ladies enjoyed a social afternoon after which a favorite dish luncheon was served with the gentlemen as guests. It was a reunion of former members of the Baptist church.

Eugene McDonald of Louisville, Kentucky and Major T. F. McDonald of St. Louis arrived here Monday night for a visit in the home of their mother, Mrs. T. McDonald. T. F. is practicing law in St. Louis with the firm of Spencer & Donnell, the senior member of the firm being the present United States senator from Missouri. He expects to return to St. Louis Thursday. Eugene is on his summer vacation and will remain for a considerably longer visit.

Last Saturday a committee of the W. R. C., consisting of Mesdames J. B. Lux, J. W. Scott and A. W. Sill and Miss Mary Waddick, accompanied by Walter Hall and Ed. Weepie of the American Legion went out to the State Hospital and paid a visit to the ex-soldiers of the institution. The ladies took along ice cream, cake and magazines, and the Legion boys handed out the cigarettes.

Last Wednesday, June 30th was the regular Memorial Day of the W. R. C. The ladies met at the hall at 3 o'clock and made bouquets, then went by auto to the different cemeteries, where they decorated the graves of their deceased sisters. There are 22 members buried in Oak Grove, 2 in St. John's and one in the Wilson cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hall of Milwaukee, Wis., motored here last week for a visit in the E. J. Smith home. Mr. Hall has returned but Mrs. Hall will remain several months when he will return for a longer visit.

The next regular meeting of the W. R. C. will be held Tuesday evening, July 12th. There will be initiation of new members and the report of the year's work. The meeting will be followed by serving of light refreshments.

education was completed in the High School of Sycamore, Ill. and when 21 years of age he began farming on his own account, renting land from his father. He was identified with agricultural pursuits continuously until 1873 when the family came to Iowa. In 1890 he removed to Rowley, where he embarked in the hotel, livery and livestock business, which he conducted for six years. In 1896 he went to Quasqueton, where he engaged in buying cattle and horses until 1902. He then removed to Independence where he continued the same business and in 1908 he settled upon his farm south of the city, in Summer township.

In 1880 Mr. Boles was united in marriage to Clara I. Miller. Three children were born to this union, Ethel, now the wife of E. M. Wilcox, Inez and Corporal Burr Boles, who died in France, October 13, 1918, and whose remains will soon arrive from overseas to rest beside those of his father, as requested by him.

His efforts in behalf of the public welfare have been far reaching and beneficial and he has not hesitated to serve the public weal by holding office. Some years ago he served in the office of supervisor for a term of three years. He has served two terms in the State Legislature as Representative from this county being elected in 1916 and was nominated for a third term at the recent primary election. His service in public life has been faithful and of a constructive nature and he will be sorely missed in this field.

Since boyhood Mr. Boles has been an active and beloved member of the Methodist Episcopal church, which church he has served in official capacity for many years. He was a member of the Official Board of the church in this city at the time of his death. He was not a member in name only, but was a sincere Christian. While he was loyal to and loved his own denomination first, he was by no means a narrow sectarian, as may be evidenced by the fact to him belongs the credit of first suggesting that the local M. E. church do something substantial toward helping the Baptists rebuild their church destroyed by fire.

The funeral services were held from the M. E. church Monday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. Rev. Hawkins had charge of the ceremony, Reverend Taylor giving the address. The many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The church was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. The remains were taken to Quasqueton for burial in the family lot. A large crowd awaited the funeral cortege at that place and bore further testimony of his popularity.

The deceased is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. E. M. Wilcox and Inez and two brothers, Horace L. of Quasqueton and William D. of Sheldon. Truly a good and useful man has left us, and not only his relatives, the church and Buchanan County, but the whole state of Iowa sustains a great loss in his departure. It is reassuring to know that "the good which men do is not buried with their bones." A grand life is indestructible; it acts influentially forever.

BOY SCOUTS CAMPING AT THE DEVIL'S BACKBONE

The Boy Scouts started for the Devil's Backbone Tuesday morning on a ten days camping trip. Scout Master Fletcher has charge of the boys and we are willing to venture that he will be a busy man for the next ten days. They boys who went are as follows: Donald Hall, Walker Henderson, Burton Graf, Nevlan Giles, Lowell Schrader, Claude Bender, Raymond Harrison, Frederick Chester, Raymond Till, Bernard VanEtta, Floyd VanEtta, William Luther, Ephraim Leach, Albert Preble, Lloyd Randall, Robert Plane, Albert Roberts, Tom Rogers. They expect to return on the 16th of this month. Unexpected visitors are the ban of a good live boys' camp. Doting parents are not forbidden but Scoutmaster Fletcher asks that the parents make arrangements with him before visiting the camp. The trip over was made in cars.

EX-SOLDIER TO RUN AS INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE

Nomination papers for Edward Weepie as an independent candidate for the office of County Recorder have been circulated and signed by the requisite number of voters and were filed in the office of the county auditor last Saturday morning. Mr. Weepie was a volunteer in the late World War who did his bit to "make the world safe for democracy" and saw his full share of the hardest kind of service overseas. He was also one of the soldier candidates turned down by the republican organization at the primary. He has been induced to become an independent candidate by his friends who do not believe that the voters of this county will deliberately and intentionally turn down a deserving soldier. This puts it squarely up to the voter; likewise it puts it up to the republican organization in an embarrassing form, where the quiet work that was done against the soldiers in the primary campaign cannot be repeated, and if we mistake not will smoke the Scnegambian out of the woodpile.

BAPTISTS WILL BEGIN TO BUILD ABOUT AUGUST 1ST

It is expected that work on the new Baptist church will be started by Aug. 1st or possibly a little before that time. The brick have been ordered and will be here in about twenty days. The plans for the new church are being drawn by Harry Netcott, of Waterloo, formerly of this place. The location on the lot of the new church will be slightly different. It will be placed twenty-eight feet in from the north sidewalk and twenty-one feet from the side walk on the west of the lot. This will be a great improvement, putting it on a line with the Methodist church and giving some lawn at the front.

On the 13th of June, 1882, Mr. Smith was married to Miss Theresa Nolte, a daughter of George and Mary (Death) Nolte, natives of Prussia. The parents came to America and settled in New York in 1852, the father there securing employment at the blacksmith's trade. After three years, however, he removed westward to Indiana, and a year later came to Iowa, settling in Fayette county, where he purchased two hundred and twenty acres. This he developed and improved, and upon the farm spent his remaining days, dying on the 1st of June, 1891, while his wife's death occurred ten years later, on the 15th of May, 1901. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the parents of an only child, Mary M. They are Catholics in religious faith, and Mr. Smith is a democrat in his political views.

CHARLES E. BOIES.

Charles E. Boies is one of the extensive landowners of Buchanan county, his possessions aggregating eight hundred acres. Of this he is personally cultivating a farm of one hundred and sixty acres and in addition buys and ships cattle and horses, the extent and importance of his business connections making him widely known. He was born in Boone county, Illinois, January 15, 1859, and was a nephew of Governor Boies of Iowa. His father, William D. Boies, was a native of Aurora, Erie county, New York, born August 24, 1819, and his life span covered eighty-six years, his death occurring in September, 1905. He always followed farming and upon his removal from New York made his way to Boone county, Illinois, where he took up his abode upon a farm in 1847. In early life he engaged in teaching school for twelve dollars per month and walked four miles to the schoolhouse. His wife was also a schoolteacher. In pioneer times in Boone county he had to market his wheat and other farm products in Chicago, hauling his grain with ox teams to that city. In Boone county he remained until 1873, when he came to Buchanan county and purchased a tract of land known as the Hatch farm, near Quasqueton. With characteristic energy he began its further development and resided thereon until 1895, when he took up his abode in the village, spending his remaining days in the enjoyment of a rest which he had truly earned and richly deserved. His business affairs were most carefully conducted and his investments judiciously made. At one time he was the owner of twelve hundred acres of land near Quasqueton and in connection with general farming conducted an extensive dairy business, having a large herd of cattle. He engaged successfully in the manufacture of cheese and all of the products of his dairy found a ready sale upon the market.

William D. Boies was also active as a factor in the public life of the community. While in Illinois he served as county supervisor for twelve or fifteen years and after coming to Buchanan county filled the office of justice of the peace in Liberty township for several years, his decisions being strictly fair and impartial. In early manhood he wedded Sarah C. Bugby, who was born in Vermont in 1821, and they became the parents of six children, of whom C. E. Boies is the fifth in order of birth. Three of the number have passed away, while three yet survive. One brother, H. L., is a resident of Quasqueton, while W. D. Boies, of Sheldon, Iowa, is now upon the bench as district judge.

Charles E. Boies completed his education in the high school at Sycamore, Illinois, and when twenty-one years of age began farming on his own account, renting land from his father, under whose direction he had become thoroughly familiar with the best methods of tilling the soil and caring for the crops while he assisted in the work of the home farm. He was identified with general agricultural pursuits continuously until 1873 and came with the family to Iowa. In 1890 he removed to Rowley, where he embarked in the hotel, livery and live-stock business, which he conducted for six years. In 1896 he went to Quasqueton, where he engaged in buying cattle and horses until 1902. He then removed to Independence, where he continued in the same business, and in 1908 he settled upon his farm south of the city, in Sumner township. Here he owns and cultivates one hundred and sixty acres of rich and productive land and still buys and ships cattle and horses. As the years have gone on he has added to his holdings until he is now the owner of eight hundred acres of valuable farm land in Buchanan county. The soil is naturally rich and productive and he derives a gratifying annual income from his property.

In 1880 Mr. Boies was united in marriage to Miss Clara Miller, who was born in McHenry county, Illinois, a daughter of William J. and Elmira (Benson) Miller. The father was born in Illinois in 1826 and the mother's birth occurred in Chautauqua county, New York, in 1833. Mr. Miller became a farmer of McHenry county, Illinois, and in connection with the tilling of the soil engaged in stock-raising. He served for one year as a private of Company I, Ninety-fifth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, during the Civil war, and at the close of his military experience returned to his native state. Later, however, he removed to Iowa, settling in Liberty township, Buchanan county, in October, 1865, so that the residence of the family here covers almost a half century. Mr. Miller was county recorder for two terms, being elected on the greenback ticket. In addition to his agricultural interests he engaged in teaching in the country schools and in Rowley. He passed away in 1895 and Mrs. Miller now makes her home with her daughter in Buchanan county. Mrs. Boies is worthy matron of the Eastern Star and for four years has been superintendent of the household department of the County Fair Association. She takes an active part in church, social and club life in the town and her work and influence along those lines is most valuable and beneficial.

To Mr. and Mrs. Boies have been born three children. Ethel, born in this county, is now the wife of E. M. Wilcox, a farmer of Liberty township. Both are graduates of the Cedar Falls Normal School and at the time of the Spanish-American war Mr. Wilcox went from Montour, Iowa, to the front with the Forty-ninth Iowa Infantry. For four years he engaged in teaching school in the Philippines. Unto him and his wife have been born two children, Marion and Charles. The second member of the Boies family is Inez M., who is a graduate of the Independence high school and of the Cedar Falls Normal School, and is now a teacher in the primary department in Independence. Burr B., born in 1890, is upon the home farm with his parents.

Fraternally Mr. Boies is a Mason and is connected with the Eastern Star. He also belongs to the Modern Woodmen camp, and his religious faith is evidenced in his membership in the Methodist church. He takes an active interest in public affairs and cooperates in many movements for the benefit and upbuilding of this section of the state. He is now a stockholder in the Fair Association. In politics he is a republican and his party has elected him to the office of county supervisor for a term of three years. His efforts in behalf of the public welfare have been far-reaching and beneficial and his life work makes him one of the valued citizens of the county.

ROBERT H. COPELAND.

Robert H. Copeland is a retired farmer living in Independence but for many years was actively and successfully connected with general agricultural pursuits in Buchanan county. He is also one of the veterans of the Civil war and there are in his life history many chapters worthy of commendation and approval. He is now in the seventy-ninth year of his age, his birth having occurred in Albany county, New York, in 1835, his parents being Robert and Mary (De Long) Copeland, the former born in Scotland in 1781 and the latter in New York in 1787. Robert Copeland came to the United States when a small boy and resided in the Empire state until 1837. He then removed with his family to Ohio, settling near New Philadelphia, where he worked at the carpenter's trade and also engaged in farming two hundred acres of land about four miles from the town. He thus led a busy, active and useful life and after his retirement from business affairs he took up his abode in town, where he held the office of justice of the peace for many years, his decisions being strictly fair and impartial. He served as an officer under General Butts in a New York company of militia in the War of 1812. His wife died in 1839 and he passed away in 1866.

Robert H. Copeland was one of the two children born of his father's second marriage. He attended school in New Philadelphia and when seventeen years of age he learned the blacksmith's trade under his brother, who crossed the plains to California in 1849. Our subject worked at his trade in New Philadelphia until 1855, when he heard the call of the west and in company with another young man left home and friends in Ohio, journeying westward by train to Freeport, Illinois. From that point he walked to Quasqueton, Iowa, where he arrived on the 24th of April, 1855. He found conditions similar to those which are always characteristic of pioneer life. There were plenty of Indians, but they were friendly, and there was all kinds of wild game, including deer. Mr. Copeland secured employment as a farm hand but worked in that way for only a few months, after which he located in Independence and secured employment in a brickyard, aiding in the manufacture of the brick used in the construction of the first brick buildings in Independence. In 1856, however, he returned to Liberty township and broke the sod upon a tract of prairie land preparatory to farming. He then carried on general agricultural pursuits until 1864, when he answered the call of President Lincoln for volunteers and enlisted as a member of Company D, Fifteenth Iowa Infantry, with which he served until the close of the war. He was with Sherman on the march to the sea and participated in the sharp fighting at Atlanta and at Savannah, Georgia. When the war was over he returned to his farm and in connection with tilling the soil he worked at his trade until his retirement from active business in 1911. He is
