All street lights in outlying districts are to be put on an all night moonlight schedule.

Free current was voted for the office of the mayor, clerk and the residence of the superintendent.

North Main Street Kensington

One of the most brilliant and enjoyable social functions of the spring season was the one presided over by Mesdames J. W. Cory and Chas. Howe, Friday afternoon and evening. They received about sixty of the guests during the afternoon and about an equal number in the evening. The afternoon company was received first at the inviting home of Mrs. Howe, little Miss Dorothy, her daughter, acting as door tender. Pink and white carnations enhanced the beauty of the house. By needle work and spirited conversation a couple of hours quickly sped by, not a dull moment finding a place with any guest. By request the company then repaired to the nearby Cory home, where numerous tables beautifully spread invited the guests to search for their appointed places. Dainty embossed place cards bearing pertinent dinner quotations were received with interest. The main table in the dining room was decorated with a miniature May pole. The evening

Large Concourse Attend Obsequies at M. E. Church

The people of this community and the entire county were made anxious by the report, about the middle of last week, that Hon. W. H. Webb, our representative in the Thirty-sixth General Assembly was very dangerously ill, and day after day reports were less hopeful for recovery, until Saturday afternoon, May 2, 1914, he passed into the great beyond.

William Henry Webb was born in Armstrong county, Pa., Oct. 7, 1849. When he was about six years of age he removed with his parents to Linden, Wis., and later to Riverside, a nearby town. In 1874 they moved to Clear Lake, Iowa.

In 1875 he was married to Miss May Goodwin, to them were born two children, Roy G. and Ann Grace, the latter dying in 1900, the former being a resident and prominent citizen of Spencer, the wife dying July 26, 1906. They came to Clay county in 1877 and settled on the farm three miles north of town. He spent a few years in South Dakota, where he held large land interests as well as in Clay county. He returned to Spencer about 1903. He was a prominent and valued member of Grace M. E. church, which was named for his daughter, Grace, who died.

He was also a member of the Masonic Fraternity, having recently been elevated to the degree of Knight Templar. The Sir Knights marched in procession from the home to the church and thence to the cemetery. The Blue Lodge and Eastern Stars also attended in a body. The services were held at the M. E. church at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, the auditorium, lecture room and galleries being filled to their utmost. The services were in charge of Rev. O. M. Bond. After devotional services led by Rev. Dainty embossed place cards bearing pertinent dinner quotations were received with interest. The main table in the dining room was decorated with a miniature May pole. The evening company found partners for the luncheon by matching spring quotations and their authors, the first course of the repast was a funny story concealed in the napkins. Instrumental music was enjoyed by the evening company from Misses Ewing and Mary Anderson and vocal selections by Misses Dingfelder and Blunt. The serving of the afternoon company was done by the Misses Cheeney, Elder, McGuire and Anderson. At the evening gathering the two hostesses were assisted by Mrs. T. H. Johnston. A three course luncheon was served to each company.

Reception For Pastor

The members of the Baptist church gave their pastor, Rev. Williams and family a second reception in their church parlors last week Friday evening. The early part of the evening was spent in the audience room where a large number of invited guests were assembled. The address of welcome was given by Rev. O. M. Bond, responded to by Rev. Williams. Instrumental music was rendered by the Misses Lou Walker, and Myrtle Cuttall. The program was in charge of Mrs. N. R. Robinson. The company was invited to the parlor below, which presented a most inviting appearance, rocking chairs, cut flowers, plants and rugs, all combined to give one a feeling of comfort and good cheer. Ice cream and cake was served, after which a social hour was spent in getting acquainted.

settled on Clay county in 1877 and settled on the farm three miles north of town. He spent a few years in South Dakota, where he held large land interests as well as in Clay county. He returned to Spencer about 1908. He was a prominent and valued member of Grace M. E. church, which was named for his daughter, Grace, who died.

He was also a member of the Templar. The Sir Knights marched in procession from the home to the church and thence to the cemetery. The Blue Lodge and Eastern Stars also attended in a body. The services were held at the M. E. church at 2:30 p. m. yesterday, the auditorium, lecture room and galleries being filled to their utmost. The services were in charge of Rev. O. M. Bond. After devotional service led by Rev. Norman McCay, the pastor introduced Hon. Edward H. Cunningham, Speaker of the House, at last session, who paid a high tribute to the deceased, telling that when he asked him what committees he desired to be on, he said: "I desire nothing but to render the best service to the state of Iowa and those who sent me here." The speaker's words were replete with compliments and a tribute to the worth of the deceased and honored member. After this address the pastor spoke helpfully and comfortingly to the large audience. Other members of the legislature present were Senator L. E. Francis of Spirit Lake and Representatives L. L. Bingham of Emmet, F. W. Jones of Dickinson and D. E. Kulp of Palo Alto. After the service the Sir Knights preceded the body to the cemetery, which was also followed by a number of friends.

He leaves to miss and lament for him, one son, Roy G., two brothers, J. B. Webb of Spencer and John of Waterloo, and one sister, Mrs. L. B. Peeso. His friends were numbered by the hundred. The county is in mourning. We shall all miss him and we have all lost a friend. He was laid to rest at Riverside to await the resurrection morn. He has done work in Clay county and Spencer that will live.

Accident Sunday

We were sorry to learn that Ole Running had the misfortune to severely break his leg Sunday, by falling down the stairs of Ole Kundson's Taylor shop. He was taken to the Wayne hospital.

WATTS, BLANCHE

F735

Blanche Watts

Miss Blanche Watts was born Dec. 23, 1883, in Clay County, the daughter of John and Mary Watts. She received her education in Spencer and taught school a few years. Miss Watts was valedictorian of her Spencer High School graduation class of 1902. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Morningside College and her masters of arts in library science from Columbia University. As a practicing librarian for some fifty five years, spanning most of this century, Miss Watts contributed a great deal to the development of professional library service in a number of states, through her distinguished services in the fields of library education, public librarianship, and academic librarianship.

Miss Watts was a librarian in Cleveland, Ohio for 26 years and also taught at the University of Iowa summer school. She served with distinction as librarian at Morningside College in Sioux City from 1957-1958. She served as librarian at the Spencer Public Library from 1958-1969. In her latter position she was largely responsible for the development of a library collection in which the entire community can take considerable pride. Miss Watts also worked diligently to realize the dream of a new library for the Spencer area, and the fact that this dream was realized is due in no small part to her efforts.

She was a member of the Spencer Woman's Club, the American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Woman, the Iowa Library Association, the Clay County Historical Society, the Wesleyan Service Guild, and was active in Grace United Methodist Church of which she was a longtime member.

Miss Watts was the recipient of numerous honors for her library work throughout her career. The final honor came in May, 1969, when she was presented the Spencer Education Association's Distinguished Service Award for outstanding contribution to the community over a ten and a half year period.

Miss Watts died while taking a boat trip down the Mississippi River on the the "Delta Queen", the last sternwheeler on the river and to be the last voyage. Miss Watts was accompanied by Miss Edna Walter, a close friend. They left St. Paul, Minnesota Oct. 22, 1970 and were to arrive in New Orleans on Nov. 2nd, when they were to fly back to Spencer. Miss Watts died Oct. 29, 1970. She is buried in Peterson, Iowa.

WEBB FAMILY

F736

William and Anna Stephen of Cornwall, England had three daughters. All married English husbands and all came to America. Only one, Grace, found her way to Spencer by way of Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Clear Lake. She was born 8-23-1826 and arrived in Spencer 1866. Her husband, Henry Webb was born July 8, 1823. Henry died in Spencer in 1884. Grace died 1903.

They were the parents of eight children, four of whom attempted to plant their roots in Clay County. William Webb was born in 1849 and he married May Goodwin, daughter of James and Anna Goodwin, also a pioneer family. Will and May farmed just west of the North Y. They raised Percheon Horses and Shorthorn Cattle. Will was a very successful farmer, acquired considerable land, was elected to the Iowa Legislature and served in the 35 General Assembly. He died while in office in 1914, May died in 1906. They had two children, Grace who died in 1900, Roy who was active in the community, the Masonic Order, helped organize the Clay County Fair and was it's first president. The home of the Parker Historical Society was the former home of Roy Webb.

Jabez Webb married Ella Baker and they farmed just north of the North Y for many years. They had no children. They were good neighbors, always ready to help wherever needed.

A daughter Etta married Silas Taylor who was a widower and had a son Mark. They started farming just east of the present town of Royal. In giving birth to a daughter Etta died. The child was named Etta after her mother and grew up in the home of her grandfather Webb. She finished High School in Spencer and later married William Thomas who taught in a college at Aberdeen South Dakota.

Flora was the youngest daughter of Henry and Grace Webb, born in 1866. She taught school for a time, then married Louis Peeso in 1896. Louis Peeso came to Spencer in 1870 with his parents M.M. and Lana Peeso. Louis and Flora farmed just at the northeast edge of Spencer and ran a milk route in town until moving to 1012 North Grand in 1907.

They had only one child Lana, who graduated from the University of Nebraska, taught school for awhile and then took the job of the first director of Social Services in Clay County. She married Robert Keir, a farmer southwest of Spencer. They had three boys and adopted an Austrian girl. Flora died in 1943, Louis in 1952 and Lana Keir in 1960.

WEBER, WILLIAM A. FAMILY

F737

Will and Christina Weber, wedding, March 22, 1905.

A worthy representative of the agricultural interests of Sioux Twp. was William Albert Weber (1880-1964). His father, Otto A. Weber, who was a native of Germany, came to the State of Iowa in 1866, first living in Clayton County in eastern Iowa, where he was married to Alberta Ziemann of rural Guttenberg, and where William, their oldest son, was born on August 22, 1880.

In October of 1892 the Weber family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Weber, William, Rudolph (1883-1966), Clara (1885-1964), and Cora (1887-1981), moved to Clay County where Mr. Weber had purchased some land in Sioux Twp. six miles northeast of Spencer. Another daughter, Jessie (1894-) was born here and it was on this farm that the Weber children grew up. Otto Weber was a man who loved animals and William and his brother Rudolph learned very early in life how to feed and care for cattle and also horses. Good care of horses was very necessary in the early years while on the maternal side he is a representative of one of the old families of the Keystone state. His parents, coming to Iowa in early life, were married in Akron in 1873, the father having arrived in Iowa in 1858 when a youth of eighteen years.

In the public schools of his native town Fred W. Sargent began his education, which was continued in the State University of South Dakota at Vermillion. Later he entered the State University of Iowa at Iowa City and completed a course in the law department with the class of 1901. He then went to Sioux City, Iowa, where he opened an office and entered upon active professional work, remaining there for eleven years, or until 1912, during which period he won a large and growing clientage that connected him with many important litigated interests. He also served as city attorney of Sioux City from 1906 until 1910, making a most creditable record in office through the faithful discharge of his duties and the ability which he displayed in protecting the city's interests. In 1912 he removed from Sioux City to Des Moines to enter upon the duties of attorney for the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad Company, representing the interests of the corporation in Iowa. He has made a close study of law affecting railroads and, moreover, he has natural discrimination as to legal ethics and an analytical mind that enables him to readily determine the points of law applicable to the questions at issue.

On the 9th of January, 1902, in Flandreau, South Dakota, Mr. Sargent was married to Miss Matie Minier, a daughter of the late Friend Minier. They have two sons: Minier, who was born January 13, 1908; and Haskell E., born February 20, 1910.

He and Mrs. Sargent hold membership in the Congregational church. Mr. Sargent has always been a republican in politics since age conferred upon him the right of franchise. He is a chapter Mason and a Knight of Pythias and endeavors to exemplify in his life the beneficent spirit upon which those orders rest. He belongs also to the Des Moines Club, the Grant Club, the Golf and Country Club and the Chamber of Commerce, and with the membership of those organizations is popular and prominent. He has also attained an enviable position in professional circles, his fellow members of the bar bearing testimony to his ability in the profession, particularly along that line in which he specializes.

HON. WILLIAM HENRY WEBB.

Hon. William Henry Webb, of Spencer, was representing his district in the general assembly of Iowa when death terminated his labors and left a community in sorrow, for wherever he was known he had friends and his life exemplified the spirit of the Emersonian philosophy that "the way to win a friend is to be one." There were many sterling traits in his character, for added to untiring industry and well directed perseverance there was unsullied integrity and unalloyed public spirit.

Mr. Webb was a native of Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, born on the 7th of October, 1849, and was of English lineage. His father, Henry Webb, was a native of England and in that country spent his boyhood and youth. There he wedded Grace Stevens, an English lady, and in 1848 they sailed for the United States. Mr. Webb spending six or eight years as overseer of mines in Pennsylvania. The opportunities of the west, however, attracted him and he removed to Wisconsin, conducting a mercantile establishment in Linden, that state, for a number of years. He afterward removed to Lafayette county, Wisconsin, where he continued business until 1874, when he came to Iowa, settling at Clear Lake. He passed away in Spencer in 1884 and his wife, having survived him for about nineteen years, died in the fall of 1903.

William H. Webb accompanied his parents on their various removals but spent much of his youth in Wisconsin and became his father's assistant in the conduct and management of his mercantile interests. He had reached the age of twenty-four when the family came to Iowa. He afterward engaged in farming for a year or two and then completed arrangements for having a home of his own in his marriage to Miss Eva May Goodwin, a daughter of the Hon. James Goodwin, a prominent Iowa citizen, who for some years was actively engaged in business in Spencer. He was also a leader in political affairs and for one term represented Clay and Palo Alto counties in the state legislature. He prospered in his business undertakings and became the owner of several hundred acres of land in Clay county, making him one of its heaviest property holders.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Webb was celebrated at Clear Lake, Iowa, September 30, 1875, and soon afterward Mr. Webb became a merchant of Clear Lake, where he conducted business for a few years. In 1877, however, he removed to Clay county, settling upon the farm now owned by his son Roy. His first purchase made him the owner of two hundred acres of wild land upon which not a furrow had been turned nor an improvement made. He at once began to develop the place and soon plowed ground indicated that he was preparing for later harvests. He fenced his farm and divided it into fields of convenient size. He erected good buildings and added other modern equipments and accessories, making his farm a profitable investment. To his original holdings he added as his financial resources increased until he became the owner of eight hundred acres of very valuable land in Clay county. He continued to direct his agricultural interests until 1899, when he left the farm and removed to Spencer. It was the following year that he lost his daughter, Anna Grace, at the age of fifteen years. In the fall of 1900 he removed to Gettysburg, South Dakota, where he began business, and he also opened a general store at Everts, conducting both enterprises for three years. On the expiration of that period he sold out and returned to Spencer, where on the 26th of July, 1906, his wife passed away. Theirs was a very close companionship and her death brought the greatest sorrow to Mr. Webb. She had many beautiful traits of character which endeared her to all who knew her.

In the later years of his life Mr. Webb gave his attention to the supervision of his business and landed interests in the Dakotas. He owned four thousand acres in Roberts and adjoining counties in South Dakota and his business affairs were ever carefully, systematically and profitably conducted. While living on his farm in Clay county he engaged quite extensively in breeding and selling shorthorn cattle, Poland China hogs and Percheron horses, and was accounted one of the most prominent live-stock dealers in his part of the state.

Mr. Webb was a member of the Masonic fraternity, in which he attained the Knight Templar degree. He belonged also to the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, served on the building committee at the time of the erection of the house of worship and the church was named in honor of his daughter Grace. His donation to the building amounted to almost three thousand dollars and he was ever a generous supporter of the various departments of the church work. Indeed, no good work done in the name of charity or religion ever sought his aid in vain, nor was he neglectful of his duties of citizenship in any particular. He believed not only that every man should have the right of franchise, but regarded it as an obligation to exercise that right and thus work for the best interests of community, state and nation. His allegiance was ever given the republican party and frequently he was called to serve in public positions of honor and trust, being a member of the state legislature at the time of his death. He enjoyed the high regard of his colleagues in the legislature and he never regarded lightly work which came to him as an assistant in framing the laws of the state. Hon. Edward H. Cunningham, who was speaker of the house of representatives during Mr. Webb's connection therewith, paid him the highest possible tribute at the funeral and bore testimony to his unselfish public spirit when he quoted a reply that Mr. Webb had made to his (Mr. Cunningham's) question as to the committee on which he wished to serve. The answer came: "I desire nothing but to render the best service to the state of Iowa and those who sent me here." The friends of Mr. Webb were numbered by the hundred. He had many traits admirable and worthy of all praise, but among his many noble qualities was recognized his capacity for friendship. The universality of his friendships interprets for us his intellectual hospitality and his breadth of sympathy.

S. B. DE PREE, M. D.

Dr. S. B. De Pree, engaged in the practice of medicine at Sioux Center, was born at Spring Lake, Michigan, in August, 1873, his parents being the Rev. James and Johanna (Balks) De Pree, the former a minister of the Dutch Reformed church. The family was established in Iowa in 1880, when the father came with his wife and children and accepted a pastorate at Sioux Center. The father-in-law of Dr. De Pree was the pioneer minister of the Dutch Reformed church in Iowa. The town of Sioux Center had not been founded when the De Pree family arrived in Sioux county, the church being the principal building of the locality. The father continued in charge of the church for thirty years and his influence was a widely felt force for good in his community. On leaving Sioux Center he removed to the state of Washington, where he resided for a year, and then returned to Iowa. He now lives retired in Sioux Center, where so many years of his life have been passed in active service for the uplift of mankind.

Dr. De Pree was but a young lad when the family came to this state, and has lived to witness many changes here as the settlements have been extended and as the work of improvement has been carried forward. He was educated in the district schools, in an academy at Orange City and in Hope College at Holland, Michigan, and thus having gained a broad literary knowledge, he entered upon professional training as a student in Rush Medical College of Chicago, from which he was graduated with the class of 1903. Immediately afterward he came to Sioux Center, where he entered upon the practice of his profession, and in the passing years he has met with substantial and growing success. He now has an excellent practice among the best class of citizens in his part of the state and his ability is widely recognized. He
