LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 17.—

Raymond Meigs, 22 years old, who graduated from West High school, Des Moines, in 1918, a freshman at the University of California, was drowned in Alamitos bay, when the sailboat in which he and three other university students were riding, capsized.

Early in the afternoon, Meigs and his fiancee, with two friends, went for a sail in the lower end of the bay.

A stiff breeze sprang up suddenly and the outing party rather anticipated a wetting. An attempted turn to head the boat back toward the dock caused the small craft to capsize.

Clothing Bore Him Down.

Meigs, an excellent swimmer, being pulled off his trousers and as soon as he hit the water, the sodden garments clung to tightly.

With his arms entangled in the folds of the heavy blue naval blouse he was wearing, Meigs frantically strove to save himself.

Struggling frenziedly, Meigs sank and failed to reappear on the surface. His body was not recovered.

Friends Are Rescued.

His three friends, in an exhausted condition, reached shore safely, where a lung pump was at once set to work to revive one of them who lost consciousness.

Meigs was a member of the freshman track squad at the University of California. He attended Long Beach High school for three years, but left in 1917 to return to Des Moines, his former home.

He went to West High for one year prior to his graduation.

ENTOMBED UNDER WALL, IS CRUSHED TO DEATH

(Evening Tribune Special.)

RANDOLPH, Ia., June 17.—

Mrs. E. M. Johnson was killed by a falling wall during the progress of a fire here.

She, with other spectators, was watching the fire which was destroying the O. R. Harder garage.

A barrel of oil exploded and blew out a brick wall, which fell on her, as she was unable to escape. No others were injured.

She was planning on going this week to Lincoln, Neb., with a daughter who was to enter college there.

here are discharged. "The reason for being first was because my state acted first," Mrs. Lucas says. But a closeup acquaintance will disclose other reasons. Mrs. Lucas is on her toes politically. She credits Hays with the republican platform which she hails as a masterpiece of words without meaning.

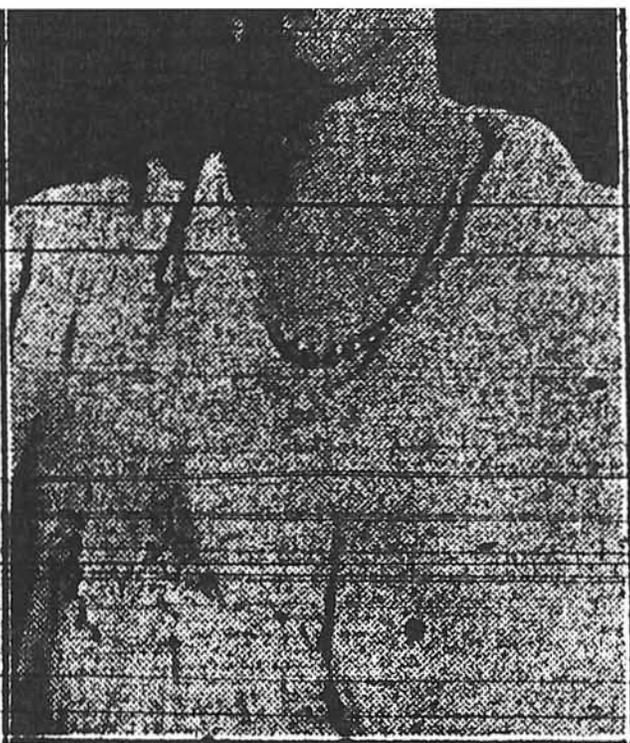

In the outcome of the Chicago convention she sees the democrats' opportunity.

Senator Robert L. Owen is her choice for president.

"He is the only real American running," she declares, "as he is one-eighth Indian."

She cites the federal reserve act as an indication of Owen's capability in accomplishment.

HARDING CAMPAIGN NOT TO BE ONE MAN AFFAIR

Nominee Announces He Will Want Advice of Every Republican Leader.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17

Senator Harding formally announced today that his campaign as the republican presidential candidate would not be a one-man affair; that the aid and advice of every republican leader would be sought. He declared that this would be his policy, not only during the campaign, but later, should he be elected president.

"I will ask every republican and republican look alike to me," said he.

Besides his own announcement the senator authorized Robert Armstrong, his publicity representative to say that the "policy of the senator will be to receive and invite the opinion and advice of every republican, regardless of what part of the party he belongs to."

"The senator desires not to be a one-man candidate any more than he desires to be a one-man president if elected," said Mr. Armstrong. "Throughout the pre-election campaign that policy will prevail without change."

TO BE HELD SUNDAY

JOHN L. BLEAKLY.

News of the death of John L. Bleakly, former state auditor, Thursday, was a shock to his many friends and acquaintances here and over the state. But few knew of his illness as he had gone to the hospital only three days before. His death followed an operation for the removal of gall stones. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Trinity Methodist church.

Since his retirement at the end of his third term as auditor, January, 1915, he has been active in business life and was president of the National Fire Insurance company and of the Pyramid Portland cement company at the time of his death. He was also head of a building and loan association.

SIXTY-THREE YEARS OLD

He was 63 years of age, having been born in Fermanagh, Ireland, February 17th, 1857. He removed with his parents to Rock Island county, Illinois, in October, 1863, and to Linn county, Iowa, in March, 1872. He attended the public schools in Illinois and Iowa and was graduated from the Cedar Rapids business college. After teaching school for a few years in Linn county he removed to Ida Grove to take a position in the Baxter and Rule bank. Three years later he entered the mercantile business in Ida Grove from which he retired in 1900 on account of ill health. He was elected to the state senate in 1903 and served in the Thirtieth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second assemblies. He was elected auditor of state in 1908 and re-elected in 1910 and 1912.

J. L. BLEAKLY, ILL THREE DAYS, DIES

Former State Auditor Succumbs at Hospital.

John L. Bleakly, former state auditor and prominent in Iowa insurance and financial circles, died at Methodist hospital yesterday afternoon following an operation for gall stones.

Mr. Bleakly was 65 years old and had a long political and business record in Iowa and Des Moines. He came to the state legislature in 1903 from Cherokee county as senator, serving until 1909.

He was elected auditor of state in 1909 and served in that capacity at the state house for three terms, retiring in 1915.

At the time of his death he was president of the Pyramid Portland Cement company, the Iowa National Fire Insurance company, and the Des Moines Building and Loan association.

Mr. Bleakly was in good health up to a few days before his death. He was taken to Methodist hospital on Wednesday, and was operated on for gall stones. He failed to rally from the operation, and died shortly after noon on Thursday.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, Homer, Leslie and John and two daughters, Madge and Messie.

The deceased was born in Fernmanagh county, Ireland on Feb. 17, 1857. He came with his parents to America in 1863, and spent his boyhood on a farm in Illinois near Rock Island.

In 1873 he came with his parents to Linn county, Ia., where he grew to manhood. He attended school in Linn county and at the Cedar Rapids Business college, teaching for several years after graduation from the latter institution. He moved to Ida Grove in 1882, and was a clerk in a bank there for three years. He then entered the mercantile business there, retiring in 1900 on account of ill health.

In 1903 he was elected state senator and served in three general assemblies. He was elected to the auditorship in 1909, and when he had completed three terms as auditor he retired and organized the Iowa National Fire Insurance company, at whose head he remained until his death.

He lived at 4232 University avenue.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Terrifying Moment for of Robbers Bound to Front of an Appro

(By the Associated Press.)

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., June 17.—George M. Underwood, who lost a hand and a leg last night when bandits tied him to a railroad track, today told the story of his experiences and denied that the men had any motive that he knew of except robbery. He said both were strangers to him. He said:

"I was walking through the park to the Wabash station to catch a train for home. A big black touring car stopped near me and two men dismounted. They lifted the hood of the engine and I believed something was wrong with the car."

Underwood was tied face downward on one rail. Just before the train struck him he managed to roll from the rail, leaving only one hand and one foot in the path of the oncoming train. Physicians said today he would recover.

Underwood said he offered assistance when he saw two men stop a large touring car and began tampering with the engine. The men, he said, forced him into the car, took his watch and $70, and took him to the railroad track where he was tied.

purpose, to deny them the protection that the league of nations assures.

"The republican congressional policy," he added, "was more significant for evasion of joint responsibility in grappling with the problems that confront the country than for any moral appreciation of the responsibility itself. Republican leaders in congress cried aloud for the repeal of some of the measures which they well knew protected the people from more serious evils than they would have the country know.

Lever Act Blow to Profiteers.

"The Lever food control act has proved to be one of the most effective agencies in preventing deprivations at the expense of the people than almost any other measure now in operation. Time for repealing it is not yet.

"Republicans chorused a ponderous note of protest against the administration enforcement of the espionage act and some other measures that were of vital necessity during the war. Yet I defy the republicans to prove that the power given the government during the war has ever been unjustly used against the people; that a single citizen has been unwarrantedly punished for any act of aggression or disloyalty against the nation; that any man has been punished for expressing his opinion. I have read charges to the contrary, but in each instance I have had the matter thoroughly looked into and am in position to contest the accuracy of any statement that the rights of a single individual have been unjustly invaded.

More than one hundred and fifty babies were centered.

This year the show will be more elaborate than ever.

A king and queen of the picnic will be selected. They will be judged for beauty alone and the king will be the first prize winner of the boy's contest. The queen will be the first prize winner of the girls' contest.

Not only will the king and queen be honored at the picnic but for all times to come at The Evening Tribune's picnic these same kings and queens each year will act as masters of ceremonies with Kousin Eleanor.

It will not be necessary for mothers to register names of babies until the day of the picnic.

A competent person will be in charge to handle the registration at the band shell.

Tickets for the picnic will not be given out at the office of The Evening Tribune.

Coupons clipped from The Evening Tribune will be presented at gates and a ticket to the park will be given in return.

So cut out the coupon tonight! It means a good time to you!
