MAJOR CHENEY

Major A. H. Cheney who died last week at his home in Hollywood, California, and who will be buried here Friday, was a pioneer settler of this community and a man who numbered his friends by his acquaintance. He was a good feeler and loved a joke.

The writer recalls that eighteen years ago, we met the Major on the streets late in an afternoon. He stopped and said, "I am seventy years old today, and I have walked up and down this street looking for a man I could not lick and have found none." We replied, "Well Major, this is the first time you have met us." "I will wait till I am a hundred and will take you on that day," he said. For years after that, the Major would remind us that he was still looking forward to his hundredth birthday.

always willing to help. He accomplished much in his life time. A good man has been called to his reward.

Mrs. Susan Reynolds

Susan Winn Reynolds, daughter of Warner W. and Catherine Colglazier Winn, was born near Salem, Indiana, August 8, 1843. In 1867 the mother died, and soon after the father and children came to Linn county, Iowa, making the trip in covered wagons. Here they lived until 1871, when they came to Clay county, taking a homestead north-east of Spencer.

In October, 1872 Susan Winn and E. J. Reynolds of Spencer were united in marriage. To this union one child, Katherine, was born. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds made their home in Spencer at 625 East 3rd street. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Reynolds continued to live in the home until May 2, 1925, when she passed to the great beyond.

The residence of W. G. Heikens six miles north and three miles west of Spencer, one of the finest farm houses in the county, was burned to the ground early yesterday afternoon.

The fire started in the attic and was believed to have been caused by a kerosene lamp used to warm a seed corn tester. It spread so rapidly that only about half of the furniture and other contents of the house could be saved.

Mr. Heikens last night said his loss was between $12,000 and $15,000 partially covered by insurance—$6000 on the house and $2000 on the contents. The insurance was in the Farmers Mutual of Clay county and John Gram, president of the Farmers, went to the Heikens farm yesterday afternoon to see about the adjustment.

The Heikens family found temporary shelter with neighbors. Mr. Heikens said that his old house across the road from the one that was burned would be put in shape for habitation this summer but he had not had time to make any further plans. The house destroyed yesterday was built in 1917.

A.H.Cheney Dies in California

Mrs. Susan Reynolds, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings, Mrs. Wm. Beck and Mrs. Clifcorn, Pass Away

Several old residents of Spencer and this county have passed away in the last week. The list includes Major A. H. Cheney, a pioneer settler here; Mrs. Susan Reynolds, Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings, Mrs. Sophia Clifcorn and Mrs. William Beck.

A. H. Cheney

Word has been received by Spencer friends of the death of Major A. H. Cheney, a pioneer resident of Clay county, at his home in Hollywood, California on Friday afternoon at five o'clock.

A. H. Cheney was born May 12, 1838, in Brookfield, Vermont and made that his home until 1866. He received the advantages of the schools of Brookfield and later became a teacher. When the south seceded and war was declared, he was teaching school but at once resigned and enlisted as a private in the 10th, Vermont but subsequently was appointed 5th Sergeant and within six months afterward was the Orderly Sergeant of his company. In October 1863, he was promoted to First Lieutenant, and in October, 1864 he was advanced to the rank of Captain. In March 1865, he was commissioned Major. After the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox he was sent to Texas where he remained for several months and on September 30, 1865 he was mustered out of the service at Edinburg, Texas. Major Cheney was in 27 hotly contested battles and was wounded four times in four different battles. Upon receiving his discharge he visited his Vermont home for a brief period and then came to Buchanan county, Iowa, where for two years he engaged in farming, and then engaged in the Agricultural Implement business. In 1871 he came to Clay county, where he again entered the same line of trade and which he continued until 1877. In 1877 he moved to California. She was the oldest of ten children, five of whom, with the mother, preceded her in death. She leaves to mourn her departure a daughter, Katherine, two brothers, Chas. and Jared Winn, of Spencer, two sisters, Mrs. Kitt Anthony, of Beulah, N. D., and Mrs. Eliza Melendy, Coggon, Iowa; a niece, Mrs. Kate Bueghley, who has made her home in the family since the death of her own mother in 1875, and several other nieces and nephews.

She was devoted to her home and family, and considered it a privilege to do anything she could for them, thus proving her unselfish loyalty.

She was given to hospitality and loved to open her home to her friends, and though for many years she was a sufferer, she was so patient and uncomplaining, and so interested in others, that she kept the same hospitable spirit, so that her many friends still enjoyed her home.

While she will be greatly missed, we would not call her back.

When a young girl Mrs. Reynolds united with the Christian church at Salem, Indiana, and several years ago she transferred her allegiance from the Christian church to the First Congregational church at Spencer. She has been a member of the Woman's Relief Corps at Spencer for many years.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock, in charge of Rev. B. J. Trickey. Interment was made at Riverside cemetery.
