ENT' MUSIC IVAL A SUCCESS

"THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON"

Caloca-Institute Will Present a J. M. Barrie Play

"The Admirable Crichton," by J. M. Barrie, will be presented by Calocaganthian and Institute literary societies at the Colonial theater a week from next Friday or Saturday evening.

This play, which is considered by dramatic critics to be the best Barrie ever wrote, has never been given before in this country outside of New York, and a large royalty was necessary to secure it. The play is a comedy full of amusing situations with just enough tense moments mixed in to keep the audience continually alert.

Rehearsals, which are in charge of Professor J. P. Ryan, are being held three and four times a day, with the result that the cast is rounding into shape very rapidly.

Mrs. David Paul went to Newburg Saturday evening for a short visit with relatives.

GRINNELL IS CHOSEN

For Centennial of Odd-Fellowship in 1919 at Convention Held Friday

ALL NEW OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR FROM GRINNELL

A Large Delegation From Local Lodge Attends the Convention in Marshalltown

Grinnell was chosen as the meeting place in 1919 for the celebration of the centennial of the founding of Odd-Fellowship, at the business meeting of the Central Iowa Association I. O. O. F., held Friday afternoon in the Central church in Marshalltown. No other city was suggested, as it was felt that Grinnell was the logical meeting place for this district, especially in war time, when it would be particularly hard to get special train service.

New officers for the association were elected, all of them being from Grinnell. W. J. Nelson was chosen for president; John Jantzen, first vice president; J. S. Rollins, second vice president; James Marsden, third vice president; Mrs. Margaret E. Decatur, fourth vice president; George F. Falgout, secretary, and F. P. Marvin, treasurer.

The local lodge plans to make the 100th anniversary a noteworthy one in the history of the order. The Central Association includes Marshall, Jasper, Poweshiek, Mahaska, Monroe, and Johnson counties. A large attendance may be expected.

Grinnell Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were strongly represented at the 99th

HON. JOEL STEWART IN 1901

All Grinnell Mourns Death of Joel Stewart

There will be sincere regret by all who have ever known him to learn of the death Sunday evening of Ex-Senator Joel Stewart at the ripe age of 85 years. It was but a few days ago that Mr. Stewart was on our streets, strong, active and cheerful, with his warm-hearted greeting which endeared him to all.

The funeral services occur this afternoon at the Congregational church, conducted by Hermon Lodge No. 273. Rev. E. M. Vittum will offer prayer. O. N. Wagley, Custodian of the Grand Lodge of Iowa, of Newton, will deliver the Masonic address, and President J. H. T. Main, representing Grinnell College, will make a short talk. Amon Dorsey Cain, of the School of Music faculty, will sing. Blinds will be drawn in every store and place of business in Grinnell during the hour of the funeral. The casket will be open at the church from one o'clock until the hour of the service.

Joel Stewart was born on March 15, 1833, in Catskill, Green county, New York, and spent his early youth in the east. About 1849 or 1850 he started for the gold fields of California, going from New York to Colon by ship, walking across the Isthmus of Panama and again taking boat for San Francisco. He spent three years at different points in California, returning to New York, where he went into business.

On September 6, 1856, he was married to Anna Marie Buch Haber, and in 1867 came west to Joliet, Ill., where he remained about a year and then came on to Grinnell.

He first located northwest of Grinnell, near where Newburg now is, where he secured about 1,600 acres of mostly unbroken land, but soon moved to the farm he owned so many years nearly six miles northeast of the city. Here he became known far and wide as a successful farmer, shrewd, careful, genial and influential. A democrat of the old school, he was always interested in politics and took a leading part in the policies of the party in county and state; a man whose advice was worth having and whose influence was great.

In 1883 the party nominated him for the lower Iowa house. He was made the fusion candidate and was elected, defeating Hon. Charles H. Spencer in a republican county. He served the county in the winter of 1884 in the 20th general assembly.

In 1885 Mr. Stewart was nominated for the senate in the Tama-Poweshiek district, but was defeated by Senator (afterwards Lieut. Gov.) Poyneer. In 1889 he again became a candidate for the senate, being supported on a fusion ticket. Poweshiek was then in the same district with Keokuk county, and Senator Stewart was elected over Hon. C. F. Craver, and served in the 23d and 24th general assemblies.

Mr. Stewart was always interested

Philip Hutchinson Describes Iowan Who Met Death in France

"Harvey A. McPeak, the hero who recently died from the effect of a bursting shell," Phil Hutchinson writes The Herald, "was a business friend and customer of the writer at Kanawha, Hancock county, Iowa. He sold his business there to enlist soon after our break with Germany. He was a young man who stood well in the community in which he lived. He was an athlete and a wrestler with some reputation in northwestern Iowa and one of whom it was said after he had enlisted that he would never be shot in the back.

"On 'No Man's land,' he, with a companion, was struck by a German shell, and while he was engaged with a spade in uncovering his companion, he was approached by five German soldiers who were going to take him prisoner. He killed three of them with the spade and two took a hike."

GERMAN IS DROPPED

Grinnell Schools Comply With Request of State Superintendent A. M. Deyoe

THE NEW ORDER WENT INTO EFFECT YESTERDAY

German Had Already Practically Been Eliminated Because Pupils Failed to Take It

The teaching of German was dropped from the Grinnell public schools yesterday upon the request of State Superintendent of Schools A. M. Deyoe, and a course in English History has been substituted in its stead.

With the beginning of the second semester this year the subject was practically eliminated by the action of the pupils in not taking the courses. There were three very small classes left, the students taking the study mainly for the college credit needed. The state colleges have now agreed to accept other work to fill the entrance requirements, and no reason remained for continuing the study.

The seed should be planted about one inch deep and four inches apart in a firm, well-prepared seed bed. The rows are the same width as for corn and can be planted with a hand drill or a corn planter with special plates. Two pounds of seed per acre is sufficient. Due to the small amount of seed necessary everyone can afford to get the best possible grade of seed of the above-mentioned varieties.

The ground should be prepared ahead of time so as to allow the weeds to germinate before planting time. The ground should be harrowed just before planting and the weeds should never be allowed to smother the young plants.

All interested should get in touch with the County Agent concerning the location of mills and the securing of seed.

in Grinnell and soon after moved to this city. Here he showed his kindly and generous spirit by offering to build and donate to the city a public library. The ground on which it was built was donated by the Congregational Church Society and Stewart library soon became a reality. This library has been ever since a special object of his solicitude and in many ways he has shown his generosity and love for it by contributing to its improvement.

In 1901 Mr. Stewart removed to Brookfield, Mo., where he lived about 12 years. Here his wife died, her body being brought to Grinnell for burial.

December 8, 1908, Mr. Stewart was married to Miss Helen J. Patrick, a relative of his deceased wife, who had made her home in the family for several years. To this union one son was born, Joel Stewart, Jr. Miss Sarah Lamme, daughter of Missouri friends, has also made her home with them since they came to Grinnell.

During his residence in Missouri Mr. Stewart made frequent visits to Grinnell, for here were all his heart interests.

He became a loyal friend of Grinnell College and many gifts were made to its endowment fund, until the total aggregated over $60,000.

The an enthusiastic working democrat, Mr. Stewart placed what he considered national duty above party spirit and, believing as he did in a gold standard for currency, he gave his support to Palmer and Buckner, but contributed liberally to the republican campaign in 1896.

Aside from his large farming interests, Mr. Stewart built the Stewart Block in Grinnell, now owned and occupied by C. A. Blair & Co. He was one of the organizers of the Grinnell Savings Bank and was for years a director and vice president. To his sagacious advice and financial backing much of its early success was due.

Mr. Stewart's contribution of a large Missouri farm made the Grinnell Foundation possible, and it was used, without liquidation, to build up a new and substantial system of financing the college in its "Greater Grinnell" improvements.

Mr. Stewart's remarkable gift of Stewart library to the city, and his continued interest in it and all other things relating to Grinnell development, have marked him as a Grinnell

Mr. and Mrs. Dale are doing their part to win the war. Mr. Dale wanted to do a little more, however, so yesterday morning he filled a market basket with candy and distributed it among the boys who were to go, before the train pulled out.

In all, 34 men left for the national service and 17 of them were from Grinnell. In addition to the quota of 29 men, of which 13 were from Grinnell, four men from this city, Elwood Allbee, Thomas Burroughs, Basil Talbott and Shirley Elchhorn, left on the same train to report for duty in the navy, and Roscoe B. Thomas, of the college, who volunteered last week for special service with the engineers, was ordered to go at the same time.

John M. Saysell, one of the alternates for this quota, took the place of Leoland Carter, who is in California and could not get here in time to go with his quota. Carter will go on May 10 in place of Saysell.

Ten minutes before the train was due to arrive the whistles were blown and the stores closed to give everyone a chance to be at the depot to say good bye to the boys. As the train pulled out from the station the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner," and another proud group of Poweshiek county boys were on their way to serve their country.

OBITUARY

Enoch L. Royce

Enoch L. Royce passed away at 6 a. m. Sunday, April 28, 1918, at his home, 500 South Broad street, Grinnell, Iowa, in the 84th year of his age.

E. L. Royce was born at Shafford, Vt., June 18, 1834, and moved with his parents to Racine county, Wis., in 1838. Five years later they removed to Rock county, Wis. In 1860, he came with his parents, three brothers and one sister to Poweshiek county, Iowa, and located on what was known as the Royce Section, one of the choicest square miles of farm land in central Iowa. Here he remained engaged in farming and stock raising until 1901, when he retired and moved to Grinnell, where he has since resided.

The deceased was married Jan. 8, 1873, to Mary G. Nutting, who with two children, Mrs. Ida M. Burch and Elmer L. Royce, survives. A brother, Leonidas Royce, of Malcom, and a sister, Mrs. George L. Nutting, of Buckeye, Iowa, also are left to mourn the irreparable loss of a true husband and a kind and indulgent father and an affectionate brother. He lived and died according to the counsel of the poet Bryant: "So live that when thy summons comes to join that innumerable caravan that moves to that mysterious realm of shade, where each must choose his chamber in the silent Halls of Death: Thou go not like the quarry slave at night, scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed by an unflinching trust approach thy grave as one who folds the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Funeral services were held at the Harpster undertaking parlors this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at the Ivy Hill cemetery, Malcom.

Mr. Royce has been one of the tried and fire-tested men who have made this county what it is.

and a smile on his face, and certainly did the match up fine. Smith won the first two rounds, and the third round "Bill" failed to appear in the ring. Amjd cheers, yells and congratulations, Kenneth Smith was proclaimed Malcom's champion boxer.

The carnival was put on the benefit of the Red Cross society. Charley Hubbert refereed the matches expertly and the exhibition netted about $200 for the Red Cross.

WAR GARDEN NOTES, No. 8
Barberries

The uppermost topic in garden circles at this moment is the destruction of the Common Barberry. The black stem rust of wheat is one of the three rusts which seriously damage the wheat crop. This rust lives from April 28 to Aug. 7 on the Common Barberry (Berberis vulgaris) and the Purple Leaf Barberry (B. vulgaris atropurpurea). The spores produced on the barberry leaf are blown over on the grass or wheat and there produce the destructive disease. The fungus has other means of propagation. The eradication of the barberry will not wholly eradicate black stem rust, and will not affect all the other two rusts.

Denmark eradicated the barberry some ten years ago, and has not had an epidemic of this rust since doing so. North Dakota has a law requiring the eradication of common barberry. Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin are eradicating it through the action of the Public Safety Committee. In Wisconsin, property owners are requested to destroy the barberry, and complete surveys have been made by local authorities aided by high school students. As soon as the disease is discovered upon any remaining barberries, these bushes will be destroyed at the expense of the property owner, by authority of a law against dangerous plant diseases. Professor Melhus and other authorities in Iowa are urging that the plant be wholly eradicated in this state also. In view of the national emergency, and the very large acreage of spring wheat in Iowa this year, it seems advisable to join the crusade. The writer feels obliged to say that personally he is not convinced that the barberry is a dangerous plant in this region. However, yielding to the weight of professional opinion, he is recommending the destruction of common barberries, and expects to have cleared his own property before this gets into print.

Do not destroy the Japanese Barberry (Berberis Thunbergii). If you have any doubt about the kind on your place, send a specimen a foot long, with self-addressed return postcard, to someone who knows; for example, Mr. Hamlin or Mr. Rieker of the City Park Commission, Mr. Skinner of the Grinnell Nursery, or the undersigned. Do not phone. We must see the plant.

Spectacles Once a Sign of Wealth.
Spectacles were invented in Italy about 1285. They were at first very expensive, so were worn only by wealthy persons or noblemen and so came to be regarded as a mark of rank. The larger the spectacles the higher the rank, and so the glasses grew to prodigious size. There are two or three busts extant of Italian gentlemen wearing "specs," and in one of these cases the lenses are three inches in diameter.

GROW SORGHUM CANE

Will Help Meet the Sugar Shortage by Providing a Good Substitute

ONLY NEEDS A SMALL AMOUNT ON EACH FARM

This Industry Returns an Excellent Profit to the Grower—Directions to Farmer

Our country and its allies are facing a serious sugar shortage. Iowa can help meet the situation by growing sorghum for sirup making. A small amount of cane grown on each farm would greatly lessen the demands for sugar by providing a substitute. This industry although not so important in Iowa as formerly, returns a good profit. A yield of from one hundred to one hundred and fifty gallons per acre is not uncommon and at present prices sorghum is a profitable as well as much needed crop.

The two most important varieties for sirup making in Iowa are the Early Amber and Early Orange. The Amber does well throughout the state. The Orange requires a longer season for maturity and hence is recommended for the southern half of the state only.

Sorghum does well on most types of soil, the difference being noted more in the quality. A clay loam or sandy loam produces an excellent quality of sirup of a lighter color. On heavy bottom land the yields are excellent, but the sirup is not of the best quality. Sorghum is distinctly a warm weather crop and should not be planted until the soil becomes thoroughly warmed. The latter half of May is advocated for planting in Iowa.

The seed should be planted about one inch deep and four inches apart in a firm, well-prepared seed bed. The rows are the same width as for corn and can be planted with a hand drill or a corn planter with special plates. Two pounds of seed per acre is sufficient. Due to the small amount of seed necessary everyone can afford to get the best possible grade of seed of the above-mentioned varieties.

Mr. Stewart was cosmopolitan and patriotic in spirit. He believed in and loved the human side of life for its own sake. Often he remarked that if we could not contribute both heart and money to make others happy, there was little here to live for. Consistent with this thought he gave much to make others comfortable and followed the injunction not to let the right hand know what the left hand doeth.

Few men have been more companionable. Few men scatter the good cheer which marked Mr. Stewart's welcome; and none have shown greater love for their home town and its people.

Athletic Carnival Is Staged There for the Benefit of The Red Cross

BOXING AND WRESTLING MATCHES ARE STAGED

"Kentucky Bill," of Brooklyn, Quits in Third Round to Kenneth Smith, of Malcom

The Athletic Carnival at the Auditorium Friday evening was an exciting affair, it being the first of the kind ever put on in Malcom. The opera house was crowded to its utmost capacity. The athletes who took part had had good training and were in fine shape when they "stepped into the ring."

First was the wrestling match between Harrison Hornback, "city cop," and Dick Van Baren. Both being good sized men, it looked rather hard to decide who would be the better man. The "Cop," being the stronger man, threw Van Baren twice and defended his title, so Mr. Hornback, "city marshal," is "Malcom's champion wrestler."

Two preliminary wrestling matches were put on by Clarence Stephen and Wendell Carpenter, and Raymond Johnson and Ellis Burch. The boys were sure dandy little scrappers and gave the audience interesting matches. Both pairs were evenly matched.

The boxing match put on by Kenneth Smith, of Malcom, and "Kentucky Bill," of Brooklyn, was an exciting affair. When they stepped into the ring they were greeted by cheers. Smith was considerably lighter, but having had good training, and determined that Brooklyn should not carry the honor away, he went in with full force and a smile on his face, and certainly did the match up fine. Smith won the first two rounds, and the third round "Bill" failed to appear in the ring. Amid cheers, yells and congratulations, Kenneth Smith was proclaimed Malcom's champion boxer.

Exhibition of Grecian Costumes Given by Students of Grinnell in the College

IS BEAUTIFUL AND INSTRUCTIVE SPECTACLE

Entire Proceeds Went for the Relief of Distressed and Needy Greeks

All who attended the exhibit of Greek costumes given in the auditorium of Grinnell College, witnessed a day evening by the students of Grinnell College, witnessed a full and rarely beautiful spectacle. Entertainment was for the benefit of the distressed Greeks and the receipts went for the announcement. It was under the direct supervision of Prof. E. B. T. Spence. The costumes were absolutely correct in design and material and furnished an excellent idea of the dress of men and women in "the golden age."

The program was made up of dances and tableaux; the latter including well-known examples of Greek sculpture from the famous museums of the world.

Miss Joyce Hartzell in two dances, "At Dawn," set to the music of Grieg, and "At Sacrifice," was especially graceful and charming. The tableaux of "Maidens Playing Ball," by young women, was also charming.

Those who participated in the entertainment were Misses Joyce W. Zell, Anna Lois Clark, Jessie No. Mary H. Spencer, Mary V. Brag Helen M. Robison, Gladys L. J. Anita Klein, Annette Denkmann, Williams, Gwendolyn C. Townsen Lois White, Messrs. Donald W. worth and Paul A. Stewart, and Mrs. John and Edward Spencer.

*Jewel of the

Sesquicentennial
1854 - 2004

The "Jewel Box Bank," designed by Louis Sullivan, is one of Iowa's architectural treasures. Built in 1914 as the Merchants National Bank, it currently houses the Grinnell Area Chamber of Commerce, Imagine Grinnell and Poweshiek Area Development, and is a National Historic Landmark.

The Monroe Hotel was built in 1899 north of Union Depot on what had been the front lawn of J.B. Grinnell's house. The three-story building was surrounded by a wide veranda "that gives the establishment the air of a seaside summer resort," according to a 1905 history. When rail travel declined, the hotel fell on hard times. It was torn down in 1970.

Stewart Library, shown here in 1934, was built in 1901 with funding and guidance from Joel Stewart, a farmer and state legislator who arrived in Grinnell in 1868. The building, a vernacular expression of the Romanesque Revival style, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The elegant house at 1522 Broad Street was built by Jesse Fellows, a partner in the Grinnell Washing Machine Company. Construction lasted from 1914 to 1918. In the 1930s the house was owned by Grinnell College and used as a dormitory. It is now a private residence. (Photo taken in the late 1920s.)
