exercised moderation in his demands.

A caucus of Democratic managers met in Des Moines Tuesday to hold a wake over the Democratic remains. Weaver was there and made a speech for free silver, but a majority of the leaders were of the opinion that the free silver issue must be dropped. There were two speeches on expansion—one by Weaver opposing and one by Jerry Sullivan, of Creston, in favor of it, from which it is seen that the Democratic party is still hopelessly divided.

The Filipinos demand that Spain shall pay them the $20,000,000 which she expects to receive from the United States before they will release the Spanish prisoners they are holding. They need an example of Uncle Sam's fighting abilities. An object lesson is all that will be required.

CHRISTMAS day observance is 1800 years old. It was first celebrated in year 98. Forty years later it was adopted as a general Christian festival, and about 500 years later the day was fixed on December 25th. Before that the day had been set in various months of the year.

Overton Found Not Guilty.

An impressive scene was witnessed at the court room Friday evening at 8 o'clock. After being out about thirty hours the jury announced they had arrived at a verdict. The judge, prisoner and clerk of court were sent for. A crowd of fifty or sixty people had assembled to hear the proceedings. The finding was handed to Clerk Adkins, who read:

"We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

Signed, S. W. PARKER, Foreman.

The silence that ensued after this finding was depressing. The drop of a pin in the room could have been heard. Finally the judge ordered the prisoner released. The accused shook hands with the jury, and received congratulations from his friends, after which he went to his father's home in Jackson township. The verdict was a great surprise to the people generally, but as the defendant is a free man and freed of all accusation, it is befitting that the verdict should be accepted. It undoubtedly is a great victory for the defendant's attorneys, Messrs. Jamison & Park. The prosecution was ably conducted, but the evidence as to who the guilty parties are was lacking. The case excited great interest all over the city.

District Court Notes.

Court adjourned Thursday morning, following is the balance of cases disposed of:

Estate of Chas Howe: Jury returned verdict in favor of plaintiff and State's motion for a new trial is not valid.

Matter of guardianship of Chas and John Brown: Guardian authorized to sell real estate.

Assignment of W H Gardner: De-murrer to apply to amended petition submitted.

In the matter of the application of S E Landis for permit to sell intoxicating liquors: Application refused. Judgment for costs against defendant.

Hon. John McDonough Goes to His Long Home.

One of Clarke county's most upright and influential citizens passed from our midst last Tuesday morning in the death of Hon. John McDonough at his home in Jackson township. He had arrived at the ripe old age of seventy-eight years and it may be said he reached the goal full of honors and with troops of loving friends. His life had been an active and useful one to his family, neighbors and state. It was an example to all of an industrious, intelligent life. His industry was rewarded by the acquisition of a section of land in Jackson township, on which he built one of the finest farm residences in the county. His fatherly, intelligent care of his family was rewarded by his leaving eight grown children, all filling honored places in citizenship, and all of whom feel they owe this to the wise counsel of a loving father.

John McDonough was born in Greene county, July 14, 1820; died December 20, 1898. His death was due to heart failure although he had been so ill with lung trouble and other complications for a year past he had not been out of the house. About ten years ago he was stricken blind, but he maintained a cheerful disposition to the last, retaining a lively interest in affairs of the world, his daughter keeping him informed by reading newspapers and magazines aloud to him.

His early life was spent at Pittsburg, Pa., where he entered a foundry office as clerk at the age of sixteen. At twenty-one he became a partner in the business and so continued until at the age of thirty-five when he moved to Clarke county, Iowa, where he entered land in Jackson township, which remained his home until his death. The deceased was married to Miss Agnes Campbell at Brady's Bend, Pa., April 12, 1847. Eight children were born of this union, namely, James C., of Dakota; Richard S., of Hastings, Iowa; Mrs. Phil Coleman, of Woodburn; Thomas B., of Houston, Texas; John Jr., of Osceola; Chas B., and Anna, of Woodburn and William C., of Chicago. The children were all present at the funeral except Thomas and James

I DON'T CARRY A STOCK OF JEWELRY, BUT I SELL A LOT OF JEWELRY, "JUST THE SAME."

How? From a catalogue which represents a line which it would "break" any jeweler outside the largest cities to carry, and which quotes prices that would "break" half the jewelers who attempted to sell articles of equal value at the same figures. This sounds like big talk, but I can prove every word of it, at the store, if you will put me to the test.

who could not come in time because of the distance.

Mr. McDonough had always been a highly respected citizen of our county. In 1883 he was nominated by the Republican party of this district for state senator and elected, serving the regular term of four years. His voice in all matters of government and citizenship were always found on the side of the right. He believed in justice and a pure, unsullied life, and his life reflected the goodness of his heart and mind. He goes to his final resting place with the esteem and respect of all who knew him.

The funeral services were held at the Catholic church in Woodburn today (Thursday) after which the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery near Woodburn.

Rebellion, when he enlisted in the Forty-eighth Missouri State Militia. He served four years, engaged in fighting the bushwhackers and guerrillas, and in guarding the rights of loyal citizens. He left Daviess County in 1870, when he came to Clarke County, Iowa, and located on his present farm in Knox Township, which contains 160 acres of highly cultivated land, and has since been engaged in farming and stock-raising. He has a good, comfortable residence, commodious barn and out-buildings for his stock. Mr. Conaway was married to Elizabeth Ann Day, December 29, 1864, and to this union have been born seven children—Irwin Edgar, Armilda E., Emma L., Elmer Herman, Nova C., Roscoe and Marcella. Mr. Conaway started in life without means, but by his untiring industry and persevering energy he has made his present fine property, and is to-day classed among the representative men of Knox Township.

JOHN McDONOUGH is a native of Greene County, Pennsylvania, born July 14, 1820, a son of Richard and Ann (Mellon) McDonough, both natives of Ireland, the father born in County Fermanagh, in 1791, and the mother in County Tyrone, in 1790. They were married in New York about 1814, and to them were born ten children, of whom John was the fourth. They located in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, about the year 1816, but shortly after went to Greene County, where they remained five or six years. They then returned to Pittsburgh, locating on Charrens Creek, in the suburbs, about 1824. Both died in Allegheny City, Pennsylvania, the father February 1, 1840, and the mother surviving till May 28, 1863. John McDonough, the subject of this sketch, was reared in Pittsburgh and Allegheny City, receiving his education in the schools of the latter city, but on account of the limited circumstances of his parents his facilities were not very good. At the age of seventeen years he began working in the foundry of Kingsland, Leightner & Co., and remained with that firm and their successors sixteen years, and in the meantime availed himself of the night schools, where he received a fair education. He had not been in the employ of the firm long before he was taken into the office, and was gradually promoted from post to post until January 1, 1851, when he was admitted as a partner, the firm being then known by the name of Bollman, Garretson & Co., iron founders. He remained with this firm till January, 1853, when he started a foundry in Allegheny City under the firm name of McDonough & Stewart. He sold out his interest in this foundry June 1, 1854, to John D. Kilgor, and in the same month visited Iowa. He was so taken with the country that he entered a section of land in Jackson Township, where he now lives. He then returned to his home, but in the spring of 1855 came with his family to Clarke County, where he found the house which he had contracted to build, lying flat on the ground. The family were obliged to camp in wagons, and although they endured many hardships they stuck to the place through the pioneer days, and are now living in comfortable circumstances, having a most beautiful home. Since coming here Mr. McDonough has devoted most of his time to farming and stock-raising, in which he has been very successful, owning at present about 500 acres of choice land, and at times has owned much more. The quiet life of a farmer has had charms even for one who has been raised among the "madding crowd" of a great city, and engaged among the noises of manufactories. April 12, 1847, Mr. McDonough was married at Brady's Bend, Armstrong County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Agnes

Campbell, who was born in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, February 24, 1823, a daughter of James and Mary Campbell, who were both natives of Scotland, they coming to America about 1819. Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. McDonough, all of whom survive—James C., of Dakota, was born March 1, 1848, and married to Electa J. Hamilton in April, 1880; Richard S., of Hastings, Iowa, was born February 7, 1850, married June 18, 1879, to Kate Duval; Mary, at home, born August 11, 1852; John, Jr., born September 12, 1854, living at home; Charles B., at home, born March 30, 1858; Thomas Benton, at home, born June 8, 1860; Ann Mellon, born June 26, 1862, and William C., born October 7, 1867. Mr. McDonough has for a number of years past been an energetic advocate and worker in the cause of education. After coming here he was elected school director, next justice of the peace, which office he filled a number of years. He next served as county supervisor two or three terms, then was a trustee of the Iowa Agricultural College at the time of the contract for the present building. During the late war he was Captain of a company of home guards in the Southern Border Brigade. He was president of the Clarke County Agricultural Association, having purchased their fair grounds at a sheriff's sale, selling it in stock shares to residents who made it one of the very best in Iowa. He helped organize the Old Settler's Association of Clarke County, and was its first president. In the fall of 1883 he was elected Senator of the fifth Senatorial District (Clarke and Decatur) to the twentieth and twenty-first General Assembly, and is still serving as such, and is on record as a staunch supporter of temperance, and of woman's rights and suffrage. Mr. McDonough is extensively engaged in stock-raising, giving particular attention to horses. Few men in Clarke

County are more widely known or more generally respected than John McDonough. He has been active in the support of every movement calculated to promote the general welfare of his township and county, and has won the confidence and esteem of all who know him. In his political views Mr. McDonough formerly affiliated with the Whig party, but since the organization of the Republican party has voted that ticket. Mr. McDonough is an active member of the Catholic church, and took a prominent part in the erection of the first Catholic church in Clarke County, at Woodburn. Though a staunch believer in the doctrines of his church he has freely contributed for the erection of other churches, regardless of color or creed.

WYATT is one of the wealthy pioneers of Franklin Township. His first house was a rude cabin, 18 x 20 feet, built of logs on 160 acres of land, on section, 22, purchased from John Jackson, in April 1854. Commencing in this small way, he has made rapid progress, and is now one of the leading agriculturists in the township. His farm of 284½ acres is devoted to stock-raising, for which it is especially adapted. It consists of prairie up-land, natural meadow and timber-land, and the main branch of the Chariton River runs through the farm, giving a water frontage of three-quarters of a mile. Mr. Wyatt was born in Indiana, near Terre Haute, September 7, 1820. After the age of one year he lived in Edgar County, Illinois. He was early inured to farm labor, and the lessons of his youth were never forgotten. December 3, 1846, in Edgar County, Mr. Wyatt married Miss Eliza Jane Scott, who was born in that county, January 21, 1826. They came to Wapello County, this State, October 25, 1853, and to their present
