SURVIVES MONS TIMES

London, May 18.—On an ordinary back fence, yowling his love song in the moonlight, Mike wouldn't be considered much of a cat. But in Red Cross auctions so far he has realized $2,880 for wounded soldiers and his mounty powers seem that and his money powers seem good for that much more. Mike is the doggendest, unimpressive cat to look at! Tail, ears, eyes, fur, purr and whiskers are his inventory. He isn't a mouser and he has a lazy predeliction for lengthy snoozes in the sunshine. But he is a hero and that makes him val-But, he is a nero and that makes him val-uable. Mike stuck around in the bitterest fighting at Mons and has been in nine other fierce engage-ments on the western front. Pri-vate Bradley, a kilted Scotch lad, rescued him and brought him to Aberdeen where Mike began being sold back and forth by Red Cross and located in Columbia county, N. Y. He received his education at the academy at Homer, Cortland county, N. Y. He continued to reside with his parents on the farm until 1864, when he came west with seventy families to Dakota, where he remained until September, 1864, when he came to Woodbury county, and purchased forty acres of land in Woodbury township. He worked the land in summer, and taught school in Sergeant's Bluff and vicinity several years. He remained there until 1871, when he purchased 120 acres of land where he now resides, which he has succeeded in getting under a good state of cultivation, and here he raises a general crop of farm produce, and gives considerable attention to live stock, such as Holstein cattle, Berkshire hogs and good horses.

When he came to Liberty township there were about three settlers here. He has witnessed all the improvements in the county from its infancy, and he entire growth of Sioux City. Politically he is a democrat, and has held all the offices of the township. He is a member of the Farmers' Alliance. September 23, 1830, he married Sarah J. Ripley, of New York, and they have three children: Albro, Emma and Ernest. Mr. and Mrs. Foster are members of the Methodist Episcopal church.

James C. Currier, banker, Salix, the senior member of the firm of Currier & Sons, also a farmer and stock-raiser in section two, Lakeport township, was born in Thompson, Orange county, Vt., May 2, 1830, and is a son of Moses and Mary (Carter) Currier, both natives of New Hampshire. Moses Currier was a farmer in Orange county, Vt., until his death, in 1845; his wife lived until about the year 1875, when she died, aged eighty-eight years, a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

James C. was born and reared on a farm in Vermont. At the death of his father he started to learn the carpenter's trade, which he followed about twenty years, thirteen years of which he carried on business in Northampton, Mass. The last contract he took was to build the Memorial Hall at Northampton, at a cost of $60,000. He then engaged in the mercantile trade at Pittsfield, Mass., for five years, and in 1878 came to Woodbury county, Iowa, and purchased 320 acres of land in Lakeport township. He has added to it since, and now owns 500 acres of land, all under a good state of cultivation.

In 1886 he erected a building in Salix and engaged in the banking business. In 1887 he also engaged in the lumber business. Politically he is a republican, and has been township trustee about four years. Mr. Currier was married in 1853 to Sarah C. Harriman, and they have two children: Ethan B. and James W. Both he and wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal church.

JOHN B. Belfrage, farmer, Sergeant's Bluff, is a son of Robert and Ann (McLellan) Belfrage, natives of Scotland, but who lived in London, England, the latter part of their lives. Robert Belfrage was a cabinet-maker and upholsterer, and had the contract for fitting up Buckingham Palace, the Queen's London residence, so moved to London, taking his wife with him. He died there November 5, 1846, and his wife remained near London until her death, which occurred January 23, 1869. Both were members of the Congregational church.

John B. Belfrage was born in Cairngorm, Scotland, June 16, 1837, and was only two years old when his parents moved to London. There he received his education at Maitland Park, also attending Christs Hospital college. He afterward engaged in surveying and the study of architecture, and drew the working plans of the Pompeian Court in the present Crystal Palace at Sydenham, near London, England. July 14, 1855, he took passage for America, and went to nearly all the larger cities in the east, looking for employment in his line, working in various places until the breaking out of the war, when he enlisted for one hundred days in the Thirteenth Illinois volunteers, and afterward enlisted in the 105th Illinois infantry. He was in the battles of Shiloh, Resaca, Dallas, Cassville, Kenesaw Mountain, Culp's Farm, Golgotha Church, Ezra Church, New Hope Church, Peach Tree Creek, Atlanta, Lawtonville, Averysboro, and Bentonville. He was wounded at the battle of Shiloh. June 7, 1865, he was discharged, at Washington, D. C., and returned to Kane county, Ill., where he was when he enlisted.

In 1866 he went to Iowa county, Iowa., and was there eight years, farming. He then went to Guthrie county, where he remained two years, and in 1876 came to Woodbury county, and purchased 100 acres of land in section seventeen, Liberty township, where he has resided ever since. He was one of the early settlers here, and has held many of the township and county offices. He is secretary of the Soldiers Relief Commission, and was member of the legislature from Woodbury county in 1880. He is at present senior vice-commander of G. A. R. Post, No. 22, (B. F. Smith), at Sioux City, a member of the Farmers' Alliance, and in politics a republican.

November 21, 1865, he married Elizabeth J. Jones, of Kane county, Ill., and they have six children: Anna S., Jennie A., Wilfred L., Evan M., Mary A. and Thomas L.

Joseph Davis, an old settler and farmer now residing on section thirteen, Liberty township, was born in Adams county, Ohio, August 7, 1819, and is a son of William and Nancy (Zumalt) Davis. His father was engaged in farming in Polk county, Iowa, at the time of his death, which occurred in 1875. His mother died in 1887; both perents were of Welsh descent and members of the Church of Christ.

Joseph Davis was born in Adams county, Ohio, and received a commonschool education in a log school-house in Rush county, Ind. He remained
