Waterloo Veterans and Citizens Solemnly and Splendidly Pay Tribute.

SERVICES WERE IMPRESSIVE

Graves Decorated and Addresses are Made in Eulogy of the Heroes.

With the sun shining through the silvery cloud with just enough brightness to make its rays enjoyable, with the wind blowing a gentle zephyr which only added to the delightfulness of the day, with all nature in its grandeur assisting in silence to add to the success of the commemoration of the day, and with the citizens, in general, helping in every possible manner to make the annual anniversary a suitable one, Memorial Day was duly celebrated in Waterloo yesterday. The business houses in almost every case were appropriately decorated and the members of the Robert Anderson Post, Grand Army of the Republic, were made to feel that every person in the city had an interest in the day's program.

The sun rose bright and early and forecasted a beautiful day. Early in the morning the committees whose duty it was to decorate the graves gathered at the G. A. R. hall and in company with the school-scholars, went to the cemeteries of the city and placed floral offerings on the graves.

The parade formed on Commercial street at 1:30 p. m. It proceeded over Fourth street bridge to Lafayette, on Lafayette to Fifth, thence to Jefferson, thence to West Fourth, on West Fourth to Commercial street, then to the opera house. Everything was carried out with perfect order and the ones who had arranged the details, accomplished quite a successful task.

The parade consisted of the following:

- Marshal Sweltzer.
- Platoon of Police.
- C. B. Stillson, marshal of the day.
- Waterloo concert band.
- Co. B., 53rd I. N. G.
- Grand Army of the Republic.
- Womans Relief Corps.
- Mayor and city council.
- Speaker of the day.
- Patrol.
- Chief of Dunham.
- Department.
- Citizens.

The opera house was crowded from orchestra pit to the topmost gallery with people, young and old, who had gathered to listen to the program and address by City Collector Ben F. Swisher.

The program at the opera house was as follows:
Overture "National Air" Waterloo

THE WEATHER.

red. The company then enjoyed an impromptu musical program and it was nearly supper time before the old soldiers went home.

Thus, another Memorial day has come and gone. Since the last Memorial Day, six members of the local post have passed to the great beyond and naturally as the members gathered again yesterday, the one question was, "Which of us will not be here next year?" The ranks are thinning out with a rapidly increasing per cent, the latest statistics showing that in this country, some one of the veterans of the civil war, passes away every eight minutes. At that rate, it will be but a short time until the ranks are completely vacated, but the members live in hope that in the great beyond, they can answer the assembly call, never again to be separated.

Those who in the past year have answered "taps", are:

Peter Dorlan. Enlisted in Co. I, Third Iowa Cavalry on June 6, 1861. Discharged Sept. 9, 1862, on account of injuries. Died, June 3, 1905. Aged 65 years.

Joseph Bruner. Enlisted in Co. B, Eighth Illinois Cavalry on Oct. 3, 1864. Discharged July 17, 1865. Died Oct. 28, 1905. Aged 72.

W. S. Stokes. Enlisted in Co. I, One Hundred and Fourteenth Illinois cavalry as sargeant. Discharged at the close of the war. Died Nov. 10, 1905. Aged 62 years.

C. C. Bennett. Enlisted in Co. E, One Hundred and Eighty-fourth New York infantry on Sept. 3, 1864. Discharged June 29, 1865. Died March 17, 1906. Aged 58 years.

Frank M. Shoemaker. Enlisted on April 22, 1861 in Co. I, Fourteenth Ohio infantry. He reenlisted in the One Hundredth Ohio later as a captain. He was discharged July 3, 1865. Died May 8, 1906.

W. S. Stewart. Died April 18, 1906. There is no data regarding Mr. Stewart's war life, but it is known that he served his country with credit.

E. G. MILLER CALLED HOME

As Comrades Close Their Tribute to the Dead, Good Veteran Join Ranks Beyond.

FATHER OF STATE NORMAL

Prominent in War and Peace A Honored Life Comes to a Close.

Edward Gee Miller, one of the best and most highly respected citizens of Waterloo, passed away at his home, corner of West Second and Wellington streets, yesterday afternoon at 5:50 o'clock. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis, which Mr. Miller sustained yesterday morning and although the best aid that time and money could afford was given him all day, he quietly breathed his last near the close of the day. At the bedside, during the deathwatch, the members of the family, who sorrowfully watched the work of the death angel. When the final end came Mr. Miller closed his eyes, gave a slight inaudible utterance and passed to that great beyond.

Deceased was born in Cornish, Me. September 3, 1840. He lived in this state until 1851 when he came west settling in Wisconsin where he lived until the close of the war. When President Lincoln issued his appeal for volunteers, Mr. Miller was among the first to answer the call. He enlisted in Co. K, First Wisconsin for a period of three months and at the expiration of that time was discharged. He immediately returned home and organized a company known as Co. G Twentieth Wisconsin and was unanimously elected captain. He went to the scene of the conflict and throughout the war he served his country with the greatest success.

After the close of the war and the mustering out of the company in which he was captain, Mr. Miller was united in marriage to Miss Mary Klinefelter. This was on June 1867. Immediately after their marriage, the young couple moved to Iowa, settling in Lincoln town, Black Hawk county. After residing there ten years they moved to Waterloo, where they have resided continuously since.

Deceased is survived by a wife and four children. The children are: Edward S., of Waterloo; Mary, of Waterloo; Mrs. Wesley Wiler, of Waterloo; and Ellen, of Waterloo. He is also mourned by two brothers, the late C. B., of Waterloo and E. G. of La Verne, Minn. He is also mourned by immediate relatives, Mr. Miller's death is mourned by a host of friends in the city. In the churches, lodges,

Chief Dunham.
Fire Department.
Citizens.

The opera house was crowded from chentra pit to the topmost gallery with people, young and old, who had gathered to listen to the program and address by City Collector Ben. F. Fisher.

The program at the opera house was as follows:
Overture—"National Air," Waterloo concert band.
Call to order by Post Commander, M. Dewey.
Selection—"God of Our Fathers,"—Quartette.
Invocation by Rev. Elias Skinner.
Selection—"Passing Down the Valley," Quartette.
Reading of the death roll, C. D. Becker.
Recitation—"The Unknown Dead," by, Elias Skinner.
Piano duet—"Overture to Caliph of Baghdad," Bertha and Pena Boddit.
Address by City Solicitor B. F. Fisher.
Selection—"One by One They are Dropping," Quartette.
Recitation, "Gettysburg," Reginald Alley.
Music, "America," Audience.
Benediction, Rev. Effie K. M. Jones.
The address by Attorney Swisher which is found elsewhere in this issue, as a masterly discourse. His rhetoric was simple, yet beautiful, his announcement made it possible for him to be heard in all parts of the crowded house and his delivery was slow enough so that the veterans and all here could clearly understand every word. The address lasted nearly an hour and at the closest of attention was given the speaker throughout the discourse.

The quartette was composed of Mrs. Imo Bateman, soprano, Miss Mishler, alto, George Yennay, basso and H. A. Nyder, tenor. Their selections were loudly applauded. Miss Grace Whipple accompanied the quartette on the piano. The recitation "The Unknown Dead" by Rev. Skinner was touching and was delivered in charming manner and was made pathetic by the decorating of a mound on the stage. While he reverend spoke, two little girls, Ruth Earl and Ester Banton, strewed the mound with choice flowers. The V. R. C. also assisted in that part of the program.

After the completion of the program at the opera house, the Robert Anderson life and drum corps, leading a company of school children, went to the Melan arch bridge. Here the beautiful custom of throwing flowers onto the Cedar in honor of the sailors, who have lost their lives during the war was indulged in. The bridge was lined with thousands who watched the children as they cast bouquets into the rapidly flowing Cedar and not a few persons were to be seen in the buildings adjoining the river.

Immediately after the conclusion of the program at the opera house the old timers gathered at the G. A. R. hall where the Lincoln Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. served refreshments. Coffee and sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served to about one hundred.

DAVITT'S LIFE IS ENDED

Notable Career of Irish Statesman Ended Yesterday by Death After Long Illness.

[By Associated Press.]

Dublin, May 30.—A notable career closed tonight when after a long and painful illness, Michael Davitt died in the presence of his oldest son, Michael, and his two daughters, who had devotedly attended him throughout his illness and of many of his most intimate friends. Mrs. Davitt, who had been in constant attendance on her husband until a few days ago, when she herself was taken ill, lies prostrate in the same hospital, too weak to leave her room. She has not yet been informed of her husband's death.

Davitt retired from representation of South-Mayo in the parliament in 1899, but to the last took keen interest in the politics of this country.

Death was due to blood poisoning which followed an operation for necrosis of the jaw bone and spread so rapidly that all efforts to stay its course were unavailing.

KILLED IN A BAD RUNAWAY

A Former Waterloooan Meets Violent Death at His Home at Greenfield, California.

Word was received in this city yesterday of the violent death of R. S. Curtis, of Greenfield, Cal., a former resident of this city. The news was received by Mrs. J. Sid Anderson, a sister of the deceased.

Death occurred last week and was due to a runaway. The particulars have not been received by the Waterloo relatives and nothing is known of the accident, except that death was instantaneous.

Mr. Curtis was well-known to the people of Waterloo. He lived here several years and always was held in high esteem. He was a coachman for Dr. Shannon and during his residence here, always took great interest in horses. He was industrious and possessed an amiable disposition which made it easy for him to make friends. He left here a year ago and had, since then, been making his home with relatives on the coast. He was sixty years of age.

The remains were placed in their last earthly resting place in the cemetery in Greenfield, last Monday.

Deceased is survived by a wife and four children. The children are: Edward S., of Waterloo; Mary, of Waterloo; Mrs. Wesley Miller, of Cedar Falls and Ellen, of Waterloo. He is also mourned by two brothers, as follows: C. B., of Waterloo and H. of La Veurne, Minn. Besides the immediate relatives, Mr. Miller's death is mourned by a host of friends in this city. In the churches, lodges, and throughout the city in general, his friends are counted by his acquaintances, all of whom mourn his sudden death.

During his life in Iowa, Mr. Miller was employed as a railway mail clerk. While he made his home in this city, he had a run on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, between Marion and Chicago. He was known as one of the best in the service and his friends in that branch of the public service will be among those who mourn his death.

Established Iowa Normal.

Throughout his life, Mr. Miller was an ardent republican. He always took an active part in politics and was numbered among those who refused to stoop to anything underhanded. He was honored by the people of this district thirty years ago, by being elected as senator from the district. While in Des Moines, he made an unusually brilliant record. He was a man of convictions and when he took a stand for any question, he fought until the battle was either honestly won or hopelessly lost.

The one thing for which Mr. Miller will be remembered, and which was always cherished by him, was that he played in getting the Iowa State Normal school at Cedar Falls started. He drew up the bill and was the foremost worker in getting it through. He was often referred to as "The Father of the Normal School" and many years have gone by Mr. Miller has watched the progress of that institution with a zealous eye.

In the present Cummins-Perkins contest, Mr. Miller affiliated with the Sioux City aspirant. Only Tuesday evening, he attended the meeting of the Perkins republicans and at that time was in his usual good health. His loss will be a serious handicap to that division of the party.

For years Mr. Miller was a prominent and faithful member of the First Congregational church. He always was in his pew at service and was an ever-faithful man in the work which he so loved. He was one of the few who took his religion into his everyday life and his philanthropic, generous disposition has won for him the good will of many. While he always took a prominent part in every forward movement, he did it quietly and unostentaciously and never had a word to say about what he did.

Deceased was a member of Robert Anderson Post, Grand Army of the Republic, Masons and Loyal Legion, the last being an organization of commissioned army officers.

The funeral arrangements have not been made, but the services will be held at the house, probably Saturday afternoon.

Lucas, Monroe and Wapello), in 1874; was married to Miss Sarah A. Benton, niece of Senator Geo. G. Wright, Dec. 10, 1849. They have three daughters, the two eldest of whom are married and gone from the parental roof; the youngest is yet with the parents in their beautiful and finely furnished home.

Hon. Martin Luther Edwards was born at New Milford, Litchfield county, Conn., Nov. 6, 1810; removed with the family to Wanoick, Orange county, N. Y., in 1821, and to Canfield, Mahoning county, Ohio, in 1826. His early advantages for education were only moderate, but well improved. He also engaged, when young, in the avocations of life; worked with his father at chain making and painting; taught school and read law as the years passed along; went to Indiana, in 1837, and engaged in the business of raising silk; became a minister of the Universalist denomination, and preached from 1841 to 1851, a part of the time in Ohio, and a part in Henry and adjoining counties, Iowa. On his removal to Iowa, in 1847, he settled at Mt. Pleasant, where he now resides; was elected judge of Henry county, Iowa, Aug., 1851, and served four years. He was admitted to the bar of the same county in 1864, but being otherwise engaged, has practiced very little. As member of the city council and mayor of Mt. Pleasant, as well as trustee, secretary and member of the board for the Insane Hospital of Iowa, through many years, he has done a noble work. He has a mild and even temperament, is active and accurate in business, and reliable and faithful in trusts committed to his care. He was married in June, 1844, to Miss Lucy Loring, daughter of Hon. O. R. Loring, of Washington county, Ohio. They had no children that lived to any age, and his Lucy left him for the land beyond time's troubled tide, May 29, 1870. He now has a comfortable and quiet home, and calmly waits the rewards of the better world.

Hon. Edward Gee Miller was born in Cornish, York county, Maine, Sept. 3, 1840. He early attended school; but obtained the best help from the instructions of his well cultured step mother, during vacations; removed to Dane county, Wis., in 1851; attended school winters, and worked on the farm summers, until 1858, when he entered the state university at Madison, in which he remained most of the time (teaching school winters) until April, 1861, when he enlisted in Co. K, 1st Wis. volunteers; was appointed to recruit the 20th Wis. volunteers, May, 1862; raised a company and was commissioned captain the following August, a position he held until mustered out, July, 1865. On his return home he was appointed deputy clerk of the county court in Madison. In 1867, he was married to Miss Mary J. Klinefelter, and removed to Lincoln township, Black Hawk county, Iowa, where he often held county and town offices, and in 1873, was elected state senator from his district, for the full term of four years. He is a prohibitionist, is in favor of woman's suffrage; but not in favor of the restoration of the death penalty. His mother, Sarah Gee, who died when he was four years old, was an English lady, with "blue blood" in her veins, and second cousin to Lord Byron. He has a plain but comfortable residence, a noble wife, three children, one gone (not lost), and two living; a son and a daughter.

Dr. Edward H. Hazen was born in Elyria, Ohio, April 12, 1834. His early advantages for education were good and well improved, and he wished to complete a full college course; but being physically frail, this object was abandoned for a more practical course of study, mixed with manual labor, tending to develop physical strength. At length he studied medicine in Ohio, and attended medical lectures at Ann Arbor, Mich., in the winter of 1860-61; joined a Michigan regiment in the early part of the war, was honorably discharged, and entered the regular army as hospital steward, and served in the general hospitals three years, under surgeons Porter, Summers and Page, was discharged June 22, 1865; attended the medical college in Cleveland, Ohio, and graduated therein in the spring of 1866; practiced one year in Buffalo, N. Y.; came to Davenport, Iowa, in 1867, and opened an office and attended to general practice; but made a specialty of diseases of the eye

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.
