come during the spring vacation of the University law school

—J. Christian of Howard looked in on us yesterday. He has a host of county seat friends who are glad to see him around again even though it be with crutch or cane.

—The handsome term report filed with Supt. Phillips, and the verbal report brought by a school official concerning No. 5 Milford, testify to the superior work done by Miss Carrie Newton as teacher in that district, and its appreciation by the patrons.

—J. M. Hawthorn went to Marshalltown yesterday to get some castings for a mill he is completing in the Harrington place now owned by Fay and Ashford. Mr. H. has had excellent luck the past year in sinking wells and putting up satisfactory windmills.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carmody from Colo., who are about to begin house-keeping in their new home north of the creek in this city, bought a very fine outfit of furniture at Belknap's. Mr. B. observes, however, that he is prepared to meet the needs in his line of several more newly married couples.

—Mrs. J. M. Shankland of Des Moines this week gladdens with her presence her friend since childhood, Mrs. Clara McCail. The many ladies who have been privileged to meet this pleasant visitor at the Women's club and elsewhere hope her visits to Nevada will henceforth be frequent.

—Hon. W. K. Boardman, wife and daughter came up from Des Moines Saturday night. Mr. B. after receiving the warm congratulations of friends upon his reappointment as dairy commissioner returned to Des Moines Monday morning. Mrs. Boardman left about the same time to visit relatives at Lyons. Upon her return from this visit Mrs. Boardman will reopen the home on Main street which has been closed during the winter.

...in sympathy because of the storm's proximity.

The furniture business of R. K. Thompson at Linn and 7th streets has during the past week been transferred to Mr. S. A. Belknap, who recently moved to Nevada from Marshall county and who evidences his appreciation of the opportunity thus afforded. He has received a large invoice of goods and invites patronage with a stock that is all new, well selected and ample. Mr. Belknap shows himself the type of merchant to command and deserve trade, and he will doubtless enjoy a very liberal degree of patronage.

Col. L. Q. Hoggatt died last Wednesday at his home in Ames and was buried Friday. He was about 81 years of age, was a veteran of the Mexican war, had served in the Indiana and Iowa legislatures and as sheriff of Story county, had been a notable leader in the Greenback party, and was at all times rugged and outspoken. He was a man of information and ability and would have been a conspicuous character in any community. It is not possible for anyone of the writer's generation to do Col. Hoggatt justice; and we shall not try. We hope, however, next week to be able to give something from some one competent to pay tribute to this most worthy pioneer.

The program for the Story County Teacher's meeting to be held in Colo., March 21, 1896, is as follows: At 10:30 a. m., Primary, Country and Principal's Round Table. 1:15 p. m., Vocal Solo—Gertie Belt; Paper—Reading, and How to Teach It, Mable Gates; discussion—Nettie Patton, Florence Gladstone. Paper—Direct Questions, Herbert Hardy; discussion—Ira Scott, L. T. Weld. Recitation—"Ben Hur's Chariot Race," Ella A. Hopkins; Violin duet. Paper—History and Johnson; discussion—W. O. Pat

Weaver at the last term, being conditioned upon agreeing to care perpetually for the monument and the building. Under this condition the city council on Monday evening formally adopted this action, assuring that the building but all details are hereafter to be arranged. Its style and cost, how much, if any, money is in sight ought to be considered, the building and how small a sum, if needed, should be raised. It suggests problems which will probably concern the authorities for a time, but will in the end be solved doubtless by the greatest and most lasting benefit to the city and its people, the improvement, which, we hope, will be found a notable public result of the good work which has for many years been going on in the upbuilding of the city. It is gratifying that such a result has found appreciation; and it owes it to itself so to use the success to fall that the Nevada building should continue to be known abroad as one of the noblest institutions of the sort in the West.

Council Proceeds

The old city council met last evening. Mayor Gates presided, present but Lockwood, Patrick. The annual report of the finance committee was read and adopted but its usual was not ordered. The Lake Shore Foundry of Cleveland for $2,110 for the water works extended. The new members of the first ward, Melan second, Dillin of the thirty of the fourth, were in. The new council on electing Mr. Hix temporary man F. L. Thompson. Other officers selected were A. Boynton street commissioner, E. Brooks sexton, O. I. S. announced standing con

South-East New Albany.

This part of the county is enjoying fine spring weather with a few exceptional days.

J. A. Waltz and family moved to Thompson, Iowa, the fore part of the week, where they will make their home in the future. The best wishes of their neighbors attend them.

D. Gearhart still has the well drillers at his place. The hole is down something like 300 feet and no water yet reported.

Roy Carver was home on a furlough the fore part of the week.

Most all of the school ma'ams out this way are making arrangements to be in Colo next Saturday to attend the teachers meeting which is to be held there.

Ira Mason, of Sherman township, was among the many callers out his way Monday.

It is reported that there will be some court proceedings in our neighborhood during the next week. If said reports are true we will tell you all about it in our next.

Miss Hattie Brouhard, of Colo, will teach the Dalton school this spring. Miss Brouhard comes highly recommended as a teacher and will no doubt give general satisfaction.

C. V. Graves will keep bachelors hall during the summer. Of course some of his lady friends will drop in occasionally and help him out, for instance in harvest and threshing time.

Wm. Sawtel was a south-east New Albany visitor the first of the week.

Mrs. M. Whitehead, of Rhodes, held services Sunday afternoon in the Warrington school house, and in the evening at the Kennedy school house.

School will commence Monday, April 20, in district No. 7, with Miss Florence Gladstone as teacher.

A number from these parts attended the Masonic dance in Colo last night. A young man has his eyes in mourning.

Ames Watchman.

Wesley Keltner and better half note the arrival of a girl to make merry for them during their journey in this world, Tuesday of this week.

The city council at their session this week appointed Cal. Giddings clerk and made Dr. Kaynor street commissioner for the coming year. Both are excellent appointments.

The funeral of L. Q. Hoggatt was held on Friday last as announced would be the case, the sermon being preached by Rev. Dows, of Iowa City. The remains were escorted to their last resting place by Masonic members of this place and a number of brethren from a distance, who thus showed their appreciation of the man and his order.

BIGELOW & SMITH.

This is the middle of March and yet that hard storm has not yet put in an appearance and some are predicting that the last of the month will go out like a lamb taking it for granted that it came in contrariwise. Be it as it may there is plenty of time to get up a regular old fashioned blizzard.

aker.....Chas. Lincoln has been promoted to the rank of corporal in the regular army....The home of Wm. Scott in Franklin township was entered by burglars Sunday and several articles of clothing appropriated.....M. Hemstreet returned Friday from his hasty trip to Colorado....The hold over and retiring officers of our city government banqueted the newly elected officers Monday evening.
