Elder H. January Dead.

Some time ago Mrs. J. W.
Beauchamp was called to Covington Ky., by the serious illness of her father, Elder Huston January. The many Bedford friends of the family will be pained to learn that Mr. January died Sunday, February 11. Mrs. Beau-camp was with him at the time of his death.

Huston January was born in Ohio, August 1st, 1824. His father died when he was but 12 years old, and the partial care and responsibility of the family rested on him. He never attended school after his 12th year, but entered a printing office and by perse application and study he became one of the best scholars in the community, becoming proficient in both latin and greek.

He became a member of the Christian church early in life and began preaching at once, which vocation he followed throughout his life, never faltering in his work, until the last few years, when old age and illness compelled him to lay aside his duties.
He moved to Taylor Co., Iowa, 1864, and preached in this and joining counties for several years. There are many here yet to have listened to and remember well Mr. January's preaching.

In 1873 he was elected by the people to the legislature, and served one term very creditably.
He moved to Kansas in 1877 and in 1883 removed to Covington, Kentucky, where he has lived until his death. His first wife died near Bedford January 1, 1872. He was married the second time in 1876. Of his family there remain his wife, three sons and a daughter. One daughter died long since.

Hay Wanted.

The Free Press will take hay (ever preferred) on subscription for a short time. Those farmers had rather pay their subscription in this way can do so. Bring without delay.

An Even Trade.

Walke and N. J. Levine have every thing we used, not owned and controlled by the monster trust.

New Partnership.

We would call the attention of our many patrons to the large display ad of Woodbridge & Duck of their partnership sale in this issue. At the prices quoted it will interest parties needing these goods to give it their special attention. In connection therewith we are glad to welcome Mr. Duck as a business man and citizen among us. We clip the following from the Jackson, Michigan, Daily Patriot:

"E. Duck & Co. will dissolve partnership in a few days, the former retiring and J. B.
Glasgow continuing the business.
Mr. Duck will leave in about two weeks for Bedford, Iowa, where he will shortly be joined by his wife and children, who are at present visiting in Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Duck expects to go into business in his new western home, and that the same success which has attended him during his business career in Jackson, may follow him westward, is the hope of his hosts of friends. In social, church and business circles alike he will be greatly missed by his associates and co-workers."

Epworth League Social.

Last Friday night the cosy home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd, three miles southeast of Bedford, was the scene of merriment and happiness. A large number of young people, members of the Epworth League, drove out to Mr. Boyd's in sleds. The crowd was a most jolly one, and the evening was most pleasantly spent in music and games. One of the most interesting features of the program was the magic lantern entertainment given by Geo. Lindsay.
Some excellent views were shown upon the canvas. The guests returned to Bedford at a late hour, voting Mr. and Mrs. Boyd charming entertainers.

A Citizens Ticket.

A few republicans have thought it best to run city affairs into politics this year, and will nominate a ticket next week on strictly party lines. There are a great many citizens of Bedford, regardless of party, who would much rather see the matter kept out of politics. A number of these have expressed the opinion to us that they would support a citizens ticket nominated by a mass convention of Bedford citizens. We think this the proper thing to do, and a citizens caucus called at once. The appointment of a citizens ticket
