

Standard Form For Members of the Legislature

Name of Representative Blackwell, Jacob W. Senator _____ Represented Madison County, Iowa

1. Birthday and place 10 Dec 1814/1815 Hackathstown, New Jersey

2. Marriage (s) date place _____

3. Significant events for example:

A. Business Admitted to the bar in Pennsylvania in 1838; in the Legislature he was active in establishing a College of Law at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa

B. Civic responsibilities _____

C. Profession Lawyer

4. Church membership _____

5. Sessions served 12th General Assembly 1888

6. Public Offices

A. Local local city solicitor (Iowa);

B. State _____

C. National _____

7. Death 25 Feb 1906 Long Beach, New Jersey; buried

8. Children John H., Mrs. Charles Baker

9. Names of parents John Blackwell

10. Education _____

11. Degrees _____

12. Other applicable information _____ Democrat

- He came west to Iowa where he settled first in Muscatine in 1842
- He later moves to Jackson County, Iowa settling at Audra, Iowa where he remained until 1864
- In 1864 he moved to Iowa City, Iowa where he took an active part in public and professional affairs.
- He practiced law for nearly 30 years
- He died at the home of his son.

5-MAN WINS

Captained by Otto Dahner
Bowling Contest.

The hottest bowling matches of a team, captained by and a team captained by in a five man match, by score was as follows:

Dreyer's Team

432 501 499
575 545
—
2,552

Dahner's Team.

514 493
530
468 515
—
2,520

MARRIED WEDNESDAY EVE

Spanogle and Roy T. Lee in Marriage at Lichty Home.

Wednesday evening Rev. C. C.

IOWA CITYMAN DIES IN EAST

Jacob Y. Blackwell Former City
Attorney—Dies in Branch
Park, N. Y.

Jacob Y. Blackwell, formerly city solicitor of Iowa City, whose only daughter, Mrs. Charles Baker, still lives here, died at the home of his son at Branch Park, N. J., Feb. 25, at the advanced age of 94 years. He is survived by his two children, J. W.
Blackwell of Long Branch and Mrs.
Charles Baker of this city. He was the son of John Blackwell and was born at Hackettsburg, N. J., in 1812. He was admitted to the bar in Pennsylvania in 1838, and coming west, practiced law at Jackson, Iowa City and Andrew, Iowa, for nearly thirty years.
He was city solicitor here for several terms. He was a member of the Iowa legislature in 1867 and 1869 from Jackson county. During his long residence here he was a staunch democrat, having cast his first vote for Andrew Jackson in 1833.

WM. LEIGHTY GOES NORTH

Resident of Scott will Start Shortly for Canada to Take Large Farm.

Dr. Price's CREAM BAKING POWDER

Improves the flavor and adds to the healthfulness of the food.

Amusements

"Johnny" Scores Heavily.
When Johnny Comes Marching
scored heavily this afternoon, matinee performance in the Col-

1. pretty girls, in unusual and costumes of the martial days
"60's" (when the crinoline and moved and had its be-good singers and funny com-the comic opera is the ement of the best features in its and pleased mightily.

will be seen tonight on the same

er Niagara Falls."

story that is highly interesting at the same time consistent and ending in thrilling scenes and colored climaxes—an immense investiture—new mechanical

NOTED PIONEER IS CALLED HOME

HON. JACOB Y. BLACKWELL AN-SWERS SUMMONS.

Former Member of Iowa Legislature —Was One of the Fathers of S. U. I. College of Law.

Mrs. Charles Baker received sad news yesterday when came the announcement of the death of her father, Hon. Jacob Y. Blackwell, formerly of Iowa City, who passed away at the home of his son, John W. Blackwell, at Long Branch, N. J., on Feb.
25, at the age of 92 years.

Mrs. Baker is the only other child of this beloved and gifted pioneer.

A Noteworthy Career.

Mr. Blackwell was born at Hackettstown, N. J., where he spent his early years. He was admitted to the bar in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1838, came west to Iowa, where he settled first in Muscatine. There his first child, Mrs. Baker, was born.

Later he removed to Jackson county, to Andrew, then the county seat.
He remained there until 1864, when he removed to Iowa City, where, for five years, he took an active part in public and professional affairs.

He was City Solicitor two terms, and, in the fall of 1867 was elected to the lower house of the General Assembly of Iowa, as the colleague of Hon. John P. Irish. He took an active part in the session that followed in establishing the University of Iowa college of law, and the Circuit court, in both of which acts he took great and proper pride.

Mr. Blackwell was a staunch, but conservative democrat, in politics.
He was a man of upright character and exemplary habits in public and private life.

(bama) Herald of recent date has this to say of the production:

MAN'S HEART IN RIGHT PLACE

MOTORMAN ON INTERURBAN PRAISED.

Shows Kindly Disposition When Cruelty Would Have Been Easy and Almost Natural.

Passengers on the Interurban train, arriving here at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Friday, tell a pretty story that illustrates that a railroad man's heart—at any rate, one motor-man's heart—is nearly in the right place.

The train in question was all but brought to a standstill after it came to the bridge crossing the Iowa river, northwest of the university. The passengers, surprised at the cessation, got out on the platform and looked for the anticipated blockade.

They found nothing at first, but finally discovered a hunting dog in front of the car, being pushed along foot by foot. The animal would stop, receive a little shove, advance, return and take another easy jolt, and so on, until the bridge was crossed.
This modus operandi was kept up until the bridge was entirely crossed and then the dog scampered off, while the car sped on its way.

The passengers spoke many kind words of the motorman, whose good heart would not let him drive along at breakneck speed, until the dog was safely out of harm's way.

They commented upon the fact that many a motorman would have gleefully put on full "steam" when he discovered a dog on the track, and would have taken much joy out of plumping into the animal, and hurling it forty feet into the air—the further, the better, according to many men's way of thinking.

TODAY'S MARKETS.