who moved to Winterset a few years ago, is sorely afflicted with an incurable tumor and has been confined to his home for the past six weeks. His daughter, Mrs Crumbaker, from Lorimor has been with him for the past week, and Mrs. Fletcher of Jefferson township, is with him much of the time.

We understand that one of the buildings which caught fire at Saturday morning's fire was condemned by the deputy fire marshal, when here a few weeks ago. There are some other of the same kind of buildings around town, which he objected to, are only awaiting a like opportunity.

L. A. Loomis of Barney, became violently insane last week, and was taken in charge by the authorities, and brought to Winterset on Sunday. By some means he escaped and was recaptured Monday morning. The insane commission investigated his case Monday and the sheriff immediately started with him for Clarinda.

Lee Hull came to town from Florida last week, and is spending a few days in the city, looking after the business of Cole & Hull. He will be married at Ida Grove before he returns to his home, to Miss Whinery, who will be remembered as the leader of the singing during the tabernacle meetings held here about one year ago.

A letter from Mrs. Culy Hircock, of Wichita Kansas, emphatically denies that Kansas has "burned up": that while the drouth has been severe, the farmers by the use of silage will have ample feed for their stock, and the farmers of the state are in good shape. From the same letter, we learn that W. L. Van Horn & Son are now located in Wichita, in the real estate business.

Hon. W. P. George of Ames, Iowa, was in Winterset and surrounding territory two days last week. Mr. George recently sold his fine farm in Story county and was looking for land. He was a member of the house during the 24th session of the legislature, chairman of the committee on supervision of internment.

Illustration will be held at Valentine, Nebr., lying east of that city, containing two or three townships. He says that he thinks a person will stand about one chance in ten to draw anything, but that it is worth while to try. He will be glad to aid any of his old friends who wish to make the try. Drawing will take place immediately after the 25th. He will be glad to render any aid in his power. His address is Wood Lake, Nebr.

Death of Capt. J. M. Browne.

Capt. Browne, so long and well known to the people of the county, died at Indianola last Sunday. He came to St. Charles, this county, in 1855, and engaged in the mercantile business, in which he was eminently successful. He took great interest in political matters and was a hard fighter. He was loyal to his country in secession times and raised a company of volunteers, which became Co. F, 39th Iowa, and was elected captain of the company. On returning from the army, he was elected representative from Madison county in the eleventh general assembly. He was always consistently loyal to his own township and town, and the local candidate of his party received his earnest support. In 1884, he was induced to run for county supervisor against Mr. Duncan, a very popular man and then incumbent of the office whom he defeated in one of the most hotly contested campaigns ever waged in the county. A few years ago, Mr. Browne removed to Indianola. His funeral occurred at Indianola yesterday.

SHORT COURSE MEETING

Prof. Houser to Give Address on the Occasion of County Fair

The meeting of the county agricultural society held for last Saturday, was well attended by the directors, being only seven present. The object of the meeting was to take action relative to the disposition of the proceeds of the sale of the land. We understand that the directors are about twelve hundred dollars in debt after the debts are paid. It is proposed by some that the directors should add to the sum already on hand to complete the chautauque. It is thought that a farmers' short course should be held there in December. The directors present to discuss the short course and the hand must know soon. It is thought that the directors are to get a suitable building for it in. It was thought by the directors present to postpone the action for one week and secure a larger attendance at a meeting called for Saturday, at which time the directors of the agricultural extension of Ames, will be present to address the people. All the directors of the county agricultural society are urged to attend the meeting and it is supposed that the directors will be on the disposition of the land in the hands of the society. It will be necessary that the meeting not be delayed if we expect to have the short course a success.

Miss Lola Turk left for a visit in Des Moines.

Death of Capt. J. M. Brown

Capt. J. M. Browne, one of the pioneer citizens of Iowa died at his home in this city Sunday afternoon, October 5th, from the infirmities of old age.

Captain Browne was 93 years old and had lived in Iowa 58 years. He was a member of the Eleventh general assembly from Madison county in 1865-1866 and had lived in Indianola seven years.

When the war opened Capt. Browne organized Co. F. of the 39th Iowa infantry from Madison county and at the organization was elected captain. He was wounded at the battle at Parker's cross roads and shortly after resigned and was retired from service because of his injuries. He then returned to Madison county, engaging in the mercantile business at St. Charles where he lived until removal to Indianola, when he retired from active business life.

Capt. Browne was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, July 11, 1829. In 1850 he moved to Ohio and in 1855 emigrated to St. Charles in 1855 emigrated to St. Charles, Iowa. The widow and three children, Walter of St. Charles, Iowa, Kenneth and Agnes of this city survive.

The funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. E. E. Douglass, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of this city.

old world is a world of changes truly we do not know what it may bring forth, and on our journey along our Pilgrim way sunshine shadows fall, and today is not same as yesterday. Tomorrow come with its changes but our hearts are sad in parting with our brother and sister; yet we have learned to look unto the hills from whence cometh our help, our help cometh from the Lord, that notes the sparrow's and hears the young ravens when they cry.

We, as members of the First Home, shall ever praise the Lord. He directed our paths hither and touched brother and sister Lamm the way to the Land of light and and for over two years we have had their blessed fellowship and our hearts have burned within as along the but this morning they separate account of changes in the method of managing the financial affairs.

We can but feebly express our heartfelt thanks for your constant kindness for your loving care, and for your sympathy in our sickness, and for your christian helpfulness and forbearance with us in our faults, follies and blemishes.

Our sincerest and best wishes ever follow you to your new fields, sweet memories of these bygone days filled with loving ministrations your willing hands, shall abide with us.

CHILD KICKED BY HORSE.

Harlan, the little 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Jones, 7 years old, south of town was kicked by a horse in the face last Thursday.

The horse was loose in the lot, it is thought the boy was walking with his head down, and was directly behind the horse. The horse being shod, the calk struck the side of his nose almost severing nostril. His left eye is swollen and is black and blue. Had the horse been farther away it might have resulted more seriously.

of justice of the peace for many years, being the present incumbent in the office, his decisions being strictly fair and impartial. He has also been a delegate to the county conventions of his party and is a stalwart republican, earnest and unfaltering in his allegiance. For ten years he has served as a school trustee and the cause of education has ever found in him a stalwart advocate. Fraternally he is connected with Milo Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and Indianola chapter, R. A. M. No history of this county would be complete without mention of M. H. Wilson, who for more than a half century has lived within its borders. His name is synonymous with all that is upright in citizenship and honorable in one's relations with his fellowmen. He has been straightforward as well as active and energetic in business, and has won not only a comfortable competence, but also an untarnished name. He is, therefore, classed among the representative residents of the county and one for whom his fellow citizens have most sincere respect and regard.

JOSEPH M. BROWNE.

Joseph M. Browne is now living retired in Indianola, but for forty years was closely associated with agricultural and mercantile interests in St. Charles. The rest which has come to him is well merited, being the direct result of close application and indefatigable energy in former years. Now in the evening of life he is living at ease in the midst of many friends who entertain for him the kindest regard and good will. He was born in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, July 11, 1820, and has therefore passed the eighty-eighth milestone on life's journey. His father, Mather Browne, was a native of county Tyrone, Ireland, and came to the United States in 1798, taking up his abode in Pennsylvania, where he followed the occupation of farming. In his business affairs he prospered, becoming quite well-to-do. He married Miss Jeannette McCaskey, also a native of Ireland. Both were members of the Reformed church and Mr. Browne gave his political support to the democracy. He died at the age of fifty-five years, while his wife has also passed away. They were the parents of nine children.

Joseph M. Browne, the youngest of this family, spent his youth as do most farm boys and in the public schools he acquired his education. He afterward engaged in teaching for three or four years and later clerked for a time in stores. He afterward embarked in merchandising on his own account in Pennsylvania, and in 1855 he came to Iowa, settling at St. Charles, where he established a store, which he conducted for more than forty years. In 1895 he retired and removed to Indianola, where he now resides. As the years passed he won a gratifying measure of success and made judicious investments in real estate, now deriving a good income from two farms in Madison county, while he also owns property in Indianola.

In 1852 Mr. Browne was married to Miss Mary Stilling, of Union county, Ohio, who died in August, 1881. They had three children, of whom one is living. Walter, a farmer residing in Madison county. In January, 1885, Mr. Browne was again married, his second union being with Jennie Watt, who was born in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. They have two children: Kenneth, who is farming, and Agnes J., who is attending college at Monmouth, Illinois.

The parents are members of the United Presbyterian church and Mr. Browne belongs to James Randolph Post, G. A. R. He is entitled to membership in this organization from the fact that he loyally served his country in the civil war. He enlisted in August, 1862, at St. Charles, as a member of Company F, Thirty-ninth Iowa Infantry. He organized the company and went to the front as its captain. While he never needlessly sacrificed his men he inspired them with his own zeal and valor. At the battle of Parker's Crossroads in Tennessee on the 31st of December, 1862, he was seriously wounded. He then resigned his commission and returned home but after partially recovering from his injuries he again went to the front and resumed his command. He found, however, that he was unfit for duty and was obliged to give up his position. In politics he was originally a whig and was identified with that progressive movement which resulted in the organization of the republican party. Long prominent as one of its leaders, he represented Madison county in the state legislature in 1866. His life has been an active and useful one, characterized by fidelity in every relation, whether in social circles, on the field of battle or in the pursuits of private life, whereby industry and enterprise have won for him gratifying success. He now receives the veneration and respect which should always be accorded one of his years whose life has been long and whose days have been honorably spent. He has for fifty-three years been a resident of this part of the state and has witnessed much of its growth and development, while in the work of progress and improvement in many ways he has borne his full share.

JOSEPH LYBRAND BOYER.

Joseph Lybrand Boyer is now living retired in Indianola, for his business activity and perseverance in former years secured him the measure of success which now enables him to enjoy the comforts of life without further recourse to labor. He was born in Kalamazoo, Michigan, January 8, 1842.

His father, Jesse Boyer, was a native of Chester county, Pennsylvania, and a son of Andrew Boyer, who was of German lineage. That the family was founded in America at an early period in the colonization of the new world is indicated by the fact that Andrew Boyer lived here prior to the Revolutionary war and at its outbreak espoused the American cause, joined the army and was in camp during the memorable winter at Valley Forge. Jesse Boyer learned and followed the carpenter's trade and also engaged in farming. He became one of the pioneers of Michigan, settling in that state in 1834, after which he devoted his attention to farming, his brother having entered land for him there. He was for eighteen years a resident of that
