GENERAL LEAKE DIES IN CHICAGO

Former Davenport, Vet- eran of the Civil War, Is No More.

General Joseph B. Leake, former Davenport, is dead at his late residence, 218 Cass street, Chicago. He was 85 years old.

The deceased was the oldest member of the Chicago bar and was in active practice until a few months ago.
His name stands first on the present record in the United States district court of attorneys in the Chicago district, as he was the first lawyer to have his name go on the new set of books following the destruction of the old one in the Chicago fire in 1871.

From 1879 to 1884 General Leake was United States district attorney in Chicago. During the civil war he was one of the youngest brigadier generals from Iowa. He was lieutenant colonel in the Twentieth Iowa infantry and later was promoted to brigadier general.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the late home in Chicago. The body is expected to arrive tonight in Davenport, and the interment, which will be private, will be in Oakdale cemetery Wednesday. Dean Hare of Trinity cathedral will read the prayers at the grave.

GOLDSTONE BOND CASE IS SETTLED

The final chapter in the Archie Goldstone bond case was written by the Scott county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon when that body agreed to recommend to the governor that the interest that has accrued since the bond was forfeited be remitted to Max Rueben, Goldstone's bond-man. The costs of the case, however, the board decided should be paid.
These amount to $48.33. The interest amounts to $35.10.

County is Reimbursed.
Scott county will be reimbursed to the extent of $942 for keeping Edwin J. Kahl at Mercy hospital since he was injured in an accident at the Golese Brothers' stone quarry in October, 1910. Kahl has had two insane hearings during his confinement at the hospital. The costs of these hearings will not be charged against the estate. The man recently was awarded a $20,000 verdict for personal damages caused by the loss of his sight in the accident.

GIRL OF FIFTEEN IS MARRIED HERE

Groom Arrested by Irate Father Who Finally Gives Consent.

In company with Deputy Sheriff George H. Brown of Henry county, Ill., a 15-year-old Mexican girl, Peasida Serbera, and Pedro Mendez, together with the girl's father, walked into the office of County Clerk Harry J. Mc-Farland this afternoon and asked for a marriage license.

The groom had been placed under arrest at Cambridge after he had eloped with the girl. The father who had halted the ceremony in the Illi-
