REV. I. P. TETER.

From the Ottumwa Press.

The great war preacher of Iowa, Rev. I. P. Teter, was born in Lewis county, Virginia, May 11, 1829. He was the son of James and Barbara (Rager) Teter, now deceased, both natives of the Old Dominion. Rev. Mr. Teter was the fourth son. He grew to man's estate in Lewis county, receiving as good an education as was obtainable at that time. He attended the common schools which existed at that time, securing, however, an excellent education. He determined to become a minister early in life and nothing was done to thwart his ambition. He was married in Buchanan county, Virginia, Oct. 25, 1849, to Miss Rebecca Jackson, who was born July 25, 1831. She was also a native of Virginia and belonged to one of the oldest families in that country. Two children were born to this union. Frank Elbert Teter, of Ottumwa, and Joseph C., of Burlington.

After having become ordained a minister, Rev. Mr. Teter resolved to come west, for a permanent location, and accordingly crossed the Mississippi in 1853, becoming immediately identified with the Iowa conference. In the fall of 1861, having become a prominent figure in society, he was elected to the ninth general assembly of Iowa, as a senator from the Sixteenth district. He fulfilled the duties of his position with the greatest credit, and then the civil war being in progress, became chaplain of the Seventh Iowa infantry; and also of the United States hospital at Keokuk. In this capacity he sympathized with the unfortunate and encouraged the sick and wounded. He was one of the most staunch friends of President Lincoln, and his sermons and addresses in behalf of the great war president won him a wide notoriety. At the time of President Lincoln's death he journeyed all the way to Washington to attend the obsequies.

After the close of the war, Rev. Mr. Teter was honored by being made the presiding elder of the Iowa conference, Burlington district, and spent many years of his life in building up the church in this section. He has been considered one of the most brilliant and intellectual men in the Iowa conference. He was an earnest advocate of prohibition, and by his influence and public speeches contributed in no small degree toward making prohibition one of the state laws. He always took an active interest in all matters pertaining to the general welfare of the state, and labored, many times with but little recompense, for the good of his fellow men. He possessed a keen insight into human nature and made the most of his opportunities of reading and studying. He was a fluent and brilliant speaker with a superior degree of education, and with his magnificent intellect was considered a power in the church work.

Of the years he had labored for his church in Oskaloosa, Ottumwa, and the last two years in New Sharon. He was conspicuous in establishing friendly relations between the two Methodist churches in Oskaloosa, and finally united the two congregations. He then came to Ottumwa, where he staid three years and then the conference sent him to New Sharon in 1898, where he was laboring when the dread fever appeared and ushered him before his Maker.

Universal will be the mourning for the grand old Christian, who has been laboring a lifetime in the vineyard of God. He has won his right to appear before his Maker and ask for the eternal happiness which has been his theme for a half century or more.

AN EDIFYING SPECTACLE.

Newton Journal: The Des Moines papers (after a careful reading of their country exchanges) now say a genuine Spanish bull fight, with ten men to kill one little bull and two or three old spavined, blind-folded horses, to be tossed on the horns of the infuriated bull, and disemboweled, and the other bloody and cruel accessories; is not the kind of a bull fight that is proposed as one of the educators of the Iowa young people at the coming state fair. But rather that a wild bull is to be put into a strongly built pen, and a man enter into it, and with "sheer strength and awkwardness" to catch and conquer the bull. What a grand spectacle this would be! particularly if the bull should happen to get "the edge" on the man, disembowel him with his horns, and prance around the pen with his torn and mangled remains! Wouldn't it be a great educator! From the tone of the papers, it seems the management is bound to have a wild bull on exhibition at the fair—the biggest "bull" they could make would be a bull fight of any kind. Iowa people are not Mexican peons.

PREACHED FORTY-SEVEN YEARS.

Remarkable Career of Isaac Pearl Teter as an Iowa Pastor.

New Sharon, March 9.—(Special.)—The remains of the late I. P. Teter, who died here suddenly of heart failure, were shipped to Ottumwa, where interment was made this afternoon. There was a prayer service and the casket was opened to friends of the family.

Rev. Isaac Pearl Teter was born in Lewis county, Virginia, (now West Virginia) in 1829, and died at New Sharon, Iowa, March 6, 1900, aged 71 years. He was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church in his 15th year and when 22 was licensed to preach. Removing to Burlington, Iowa, he was admitted on trial in the Iowa conference in 1851, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Ames in 1857, and elder by Bishop Ames in 1857. His early appointments were at Troy, Montrose, Winchester, Ft. Madison, Albia, Drakeville, East Des Moines and Sigourney. While there in the fall of 1867 he was elected to the state senate from Des Moines county on the republican ticket, and was an influential member of that body during his senatorial term. In the fall of 1871 he was appointed to the Oskaloosa station, which he filled with great acceptance until his election and commission as captain of the Seventh Iowa Infantry, when he resigned the station and went with the regiment to the war. Some time in 1864 he resigned his place as chaplain and returned to Iowa. But in the fall of that year he was appointed by President Lincoln post chaplain to the military hospitals at Keosauqua, Iowa, where he remained until the close of the war. In this position his active energies were employed continually in ministering to those under his care. The next two years he was pastor at Keosauqua, Ia.; and from 1868 to 1871 was presiding elder of the Burlington district. After his service there he was appointed successively to Mt. Pleasant circuit, Danville, Main St., Ottumwa, Kirkville, Centerville and Albia again. From 1881 to 1891 he was on the Ottumwa district. The following five years, 1888-92, he was pastor of the Simpson church, Oskaloosa; from 1892 to 1896 he was in South Ottumwa, and in 1897 he was appointed to New Sharon, where he closed his long and active career. Thus it appears that he was for 47 years a preacher of the Iowa conference, and at the time of his death he was the oldest active minister in the body. In 1884 he represented his conference in the general conference which met that year at Cleveland, Ohio. His family have all preceded him in death, except his wife, a son and his family in Ottumwa, and two grand-children, the children of his elder son, who died a few years since. One of his children, who died while he was pastor here, is buried in Forest cemetery in Oskaloosa.
