loans will have to possess their souls in patience. The First Ward will take care of itself and say for itself who shall represent it in the council.

—From all accounts the burglaries all over the country at present are unprecedented in numbers. The workers seem to be better organized than at any time past for years. The business proceeds in rapid succession from city to city and from village to village. Undoubtedly there is a gang of dangerous Thugs hanging around this city. The police require not to relax their vigilance. It is the plain duty of the city marshal to be on the alert, and instruct the police to overhaul all suspicious looking persons.

—A great benefit has been secured to the poor by the introduction of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, for it now takes only 25 cents to cure a cough, when formerly doctor bills alone amounted to dollars.

—Yesterday evening we happened to drop into Turner Hall, after which we wended our way back to the room where the turning is practiced. There were a good many young men practicing in there. The teacher, Mr. Albert Neusche, reports having about one hundred pupils at present. He performed some wonderful leaps, and in many ways exhibited his muscle and great agility. Mr. Sam Herschler and Selig Greenbaum, Jr., are, we believe, his most advanced pupils. It is a very healthy exercise. There is no better way for a young man to develop himself physically.

Railroadistic.

The pay car arrived this morning. It was easily known before it got within half a mile of the depot, from all the pleasant countenances to be met with. The boys are happy. As a natural consequence, other men will shrug their shoulders with satisfaction too.

Cedar Rapids train twenty minutes behind the regulation time this morning.

During the month of October the C. E. & Q. railroad took out of Davenport about 250 car loads of freight, consisting mainly of onions, potatoes and grain for the south. From the first of this month up to Saturday the same road took out about 50 car loads. The amount would have been greater had the roads and weather been better.

The following tables of railroad earnings in October, and from Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, are given in advance sheets of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle:

W. F. COOLBAUGH.

THE SUPPOSED SUICIDE OF THE BANKER.

Found Dead in Chicago this Morning.

This morning at half past ten o'clock, President Barhydt of the Merchants' National Bank stepped into our office and handed us the following telegram which he had just received:

Chicago, Nov. 14, 10:23 a. m.
T. W. Barhydt:
W. F. Coolbaugh committed suicide this morning.
JAMES D. STURGIS.

COOLBAUGH DEAD!

The report of the death of the great financier spread rapidly throughout the business portion of the city, causing a universal feeling of sadness and grief. W. F. Coolbaugh was long a resident of Burlington, and for many years a prominent banker here, being president of the old State Bank—the predecessor of our National State. He has relatives by marriage in the city, Mrs. M. D. Browning being a sister of his first wife. He was down at Burlington last week on a visit, appearing to be in his usual health and spirits.

Mr. Coolbaugh removed from Burlington to Chicago over ten years ago, and his career since that time is well known to the public. In Chicago he stood higher in the estimation of her citizens than any other of her bankers. His financial opinions were always eagerly sought after and quoted by her newspapers. A conservative Democrat, his opinions upon national politics were held in high esteem by western Democrats. He was also considered worthy of all honor and it at one time looked as if he would be elected Senator from Illinois, as a compromise when Logan was making a bitter fight for a renomination.

LATER REPORTS.

Judge Rorer received a dispatch stating that Coolbaugh had shot himself. Mr. Wesley Jones also received a brief dispatch, and telegraphed for particulars. He received the following answer:

CHICAGO, 1:11 p. m.

To Wesley Jones:
Body found at seven o'clock, this morning, near Douglas' monument. An empty pistol was found near it. He was at the bank, yesterday, and everything is all right, there, though his death has started a run, which will probably subside before night.

J. R. WALSH.

Mr. Walsh is president of the Western News Company, Chicago, and also director of one of the largest banks in Chicago.

The later account given in our regular Press

ANGEL WATCHERS.

BY MRS. H. ABRAHAM DURANT.

Earth hath her mysteries,
'Round which eternal shadows ever blend;
And life is mantled in a darksome guise,
Mortal can never read.

Could we have vision clear,
As one of old, touched by the prophet's hand,
How closely would this world of ours appear Luked to the spirit land!

We, mortals, see it not,
Yet, sometimes on imagination's wing,
We almost reach that realm of living thought,
And hear its music ring.

Who hath not heard the rush
Of voiceless wings—some holy, thrilling power—
Steal o'er the heart, within the solemn hush
Of evening's pensile hour?

Who hath not heard a strain,
That seemed to float from some fair world afar—
Like that once heard upon the star-lit plain,
From golden gates ajar?

How some blessed dream,
Whose broken memories awake our tears,
Sweet voices come at times, across that stream,
That bounds this vale of years!

What shining watchers wait
Around us from the cradle to the grave?
How oft our erring steps, from dreadful fate,
Their hands of mercy save!

We never are alone—
E'en when we bow beside our voiceless dead;
For there is with us many a guardian one,
With voiceless, loving tread.

When earthly hopes depart,
And death hath marked our treasures for decay,
They bring bright visions to the lonely heart,
Of loved ones passed away.

Unweariedly they go—
Unseen amid the shadows, by our side;
And all their patient love, our souls shall know,
Beyond the misty tide.

CLAYVILLE, Washington Co., Pa., November 12th, 1877.

—Babies ought to be well taken care of, for their system does not allow the slightest neglect. If your baby suffers from colic or bowel disorders, procure a bottle of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, a simple but always reliable remedy. Only 25 cents.

Police News.

Addison Morris, late cook at the Lawrence House, was arraigned for disturbing the peace. Mr. Morris says he only asked his pay; that he was no monkey, although he was black. Mr. Lawrence has a different story. He says Mr. Morris used rather indelicate language in the dining-room and brandished his brawny arms in a manner that looked rather dangerous. Two dollars and costs.

Miss Minnie Walker, stand up! Charged with drunkenness. Guilty or not guilty? She was guilty. She was on the Fourth street bridge, but thought she was on the Mississippi bridge. That was why she howled as she did. She thought she was going to fall over; was very sorry, though, for disturbing the whole neighborhood. Sentence deferred.

...this is all we can find in this charge
 a breach of national faith. The same is true about making 93 cents a dollar, well known abroad, if not here, that if it is remonetized in the United States, its value will go up. The present depression is due to demonetization in Germany and country than any other cause. The Anglo-an government is now anxiously awaiting action in this matter, as it will affect them very much. The 93 cent argument has no value. At the silver dollar once become a tender, and it will not be quoted at 93 to be deceived by such assertions; they are intended to effect the covering up of a position.

The Handicapped Nations.

A writer in an English magazine contends the whole business world, for the twenty years preceding 1873, was squandering money under the influences of flush times, and has become poor, and must be many years in recovering real prosperity. One great difficulty which weighs heavily upon the European nations, and which will make their recupera-tion slower than that of the United States, is the burden of their immense warlike establishments in time of peace. The following table shows the state of things at a glance.

	Population.	Army in peace
Britain.....	34,000,000	132,884
France.....	37,000,000	437,703
Germany.....	43,000,000	439,630
Austria-Hungary.....	36,000,000	278,470
Italy.....	27,000,000	214,667
Spain.....	5,500,000	40,000
United States.....	38,000,000	25,000

It is very gratifying to our nation as far goes, and it will probably count largely in its favor. Still, it must be admitted that we are about the most extravagant and reckless people on the face of the earth, and unless we have learned something from the experience of the hard times, and have become more economical individually, socially and municipally, we may yet be distanced in the race for pre-eminence by such nations as France and Bel-

...estimated at three-quarters of a million to a million and a half. Mr. Field himself estimates the loss at about one million dollars on the stock.

Accidents were numerous, and scarcely one of the firemen escaped without bruises. The following are the known casualties: Charles A.
 Dudley, of San Francisco, but formerly a member of a Chicago fire company, which he was assisting to-night, killed; a watchman in the building, name unknown, killed; Lieut. J. H.
 Shauenberg, fireman, injured dangerously, internally; Francis Flannagan, internally hurt;
 R. C. Payne (colored) fireman, head, severely;
 Jerome Bayley, pipeman, badly about the face and hands. The following are missing: John R. Eouke and Eugene Sweeney, pipeman, are supposed to be in the ruins, but possibly may be alive; Pat Smith, an employe, was hurt badly by a falling timber which struck him on the head. The injured are more or less burned. The injuries, however, result largely from the falling stairs and elevator, which fell on account of the breaking of the rope. Three men were under it and two were probably killed. Three hundred and fifty persons are thrown out of employment by this disaster, and of them 150 are women employed as dress makers, fitters, etc.

Later Particulars.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Sloan's Insurance agency reports concerning the loss by fire last night, that the building is estimated by Architect Bauman to be damaged less than one hundred thousand dollars; insured for two hundred thousand dollars in the New York agency. The fire broke out a second time early this morning in the basement, where were stored a large quantity of package goods, and it became necessary to flood that part of the store. Besides Dudley, who was reported killed last night, the only other man known to have fallen a victim to the flames, is D.
 Rourke, a fireman, who fell with the stairs from the third story to the basement, and whose body has not yet been found. Five men are badly injured, but none it is believed fatally hurt. The insurance is placed at $935,000. Boston companies have $85,000 risks.

W. F. COOLBAUGH.

Reminiscences of His Stirring and Eventful Career.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—The life of Hon. W. F.
 Coolbaugh, who was found dead this morning, has been a stirring and eventful one. Born in Pennsylvania in 1821, he moved from his farm home to Philadelphia, and thence to Burlington, Iowa, where from 1842 to 1850 he was proprietor of a mercantile house. In 1850 he organized a bank, and, becoming interested in politics, was successively made state loan agent, delegate to the democratic convention in Bul-timore in 1852, where he voted forty-nine times for Stephen A. Douglas, state senator for eight years, delegate to the democratic convention at Cincinnati in 1856, and came very near being elected to the United States Senate.
 He was a war democrat, and afterwards a warm personal friend of President Grant. He moved his banking house to Chicago in 1862 and immediately became prominent in banking circles, and a recognized authority. He was a warm personal friend of Stephen A. Douglass, often extolling the virtues of the deceased statesman, and it was an act of peculiar fitness that he should die at the foot of Douglass' statue.

Chris Bathman, Esq., went through yesterday with a carload of fine horses, amongst which was the famous trotter, Strader. He won several races this season. His time is 2:20.

The pilfering of dinner buckets is reviving as labor increases in the streets. Mr. Frederickson, foreman on the Division street works, lost his dinner bucket yesterday.

Mr. J. W. Giles, whose accident has been chronicled in these columns, is reported as not improving. On the contrary grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

The Danish people of this city are having a sort of revival, this week. During the evenings they hold prayer meetings at the different Danish residences and on next Sunday they intend meeting in the Swedish Methodist church.

There are several complaints about boys playing up around Fourth and Columbia streets. In many instances horses have been frightened and their drivers too. Those boys belong to some of the schools in the vicinity. They ought to be looked after, so that all complaints may be uncalled for.

Secure seats, at Washburn's, for to-morrow night's concert.

The cause of the suicide of W. F. Coolbaugh, in Chicago, is generally attributed to family troubles. He left a note to his wife, saying that he was tired of life. He was subject to fits of depression, and dreaded the loss of his health, which had failed rapidly of late. It is thought that Mr. Coolbaugh will be buried in the family lot at Burlington, where his first wife and children are buried.

Another swindle was perpetrated, yesterday, on a granger, to the tune of one hundred dollars. He gave one hundred dollars in greenbacks in exchange for one hundred dollars in gold, thereby gaining fifteen per cent., as he thought. He saw it and then again he did not; the gold was brass, that was all there was of it. Who comes next? The old game works well. This affair ought to be put in the hands of the Marshal.

One of the parties interested in the big Omaha sensation (where the paramour got two bullets to nurse—and a family up to that time always happy was broken up), passed through here night before last on her way to her home in Pennsylvania. A gentleman belonging to this city had a conversation with the lady. She said she never would live with her husband again, but that she would not desert the gent that carries the bullets for her sake. A clear case for a divorce lawyer.

The city marshal on yesterday showed one of his many good traits, in a way that only himself could do it. It happened in this way: A South Hill street car driver did not happen to notice two ladies that were trying to overtake the car, when fortunately the marshal put in his appearance. He shouted. We thought there was a boiler explosion. Still the driver seemed indifferent. The marshal ran. We thought no man could run so fast. He overtook the car, but the driver did not stop, till he got to the crossing. The marshal said, "Stop right there in the mud." The driver had his way though, and the marshal went off on his ear.

lington and Northwestern railway, were removed from Hedge's block to the old Diamond Jo Line office, northwest corner of Front and Jefferson streets. The local offices were also removed to the same building, so that all the officers of the road, from General Superintendent Cameron down to the station agent, will be found there henceforth. This will be a great convenience to the road as well as to the public having dealings with the officers.

Police Court Items.

Judge Stutsman, presiding.

"Henry Jones, you are charged with intoxication." "Not guilty, sir." But he was guilty. Five dollars and costs, or to jail.

"Ebenezer Smith, were you drunk last night?" "Well, your honor, if you let me go this time, I will at once don a red ribbon." "Too late, Smith; five dollars and costs," said his honor.

The Judge then assessed all the drunks, six in number, at five dollars and costs. Two or three paid the tax. The balance went to jail.

One man was arraigned for breaking into a freight car in the C. B. & Q. yard. He just wanted a free ride. Judging from all the points in the case, the judge thought he was not a professional tramp, but he was considered a vagrant. Two dollars and costs.

One of the number of drunks spent a year in Ft. Madison, and just got out on yesterday. He acknowledged making a misstep, but promised reform sincerely if his honor would let him go, but justice was meted out.

Mr. Gorham of Gorham & Munday, returned yesterday from Galesburg, where he has been attending to some business in connection with his new hotel up there for the last few days. He reports the burg all serene.

Mr. Lyman Cook left for Chicago, last night, to attend the obsequies of the late W. F. Coolbaugh.

Messrs. John and Frank Norton, John from Paris, Illinois, and Frank from Farragut, Ia., are in town. They look hearty as ever. Will be here for a few days.

Mr. Thos. Taylor, advance agent of Bang's Combination, called on us to-day. His company will play "The Soldier's Trust" in Union Hall, Nov. 22.

Mr. Geo. S. Sydney, Business Manager of Lewis Morrison's Dramatic Company, supporting the great actress Rose Wood, in her play of "Frou Frou," is in the city, to-day. He is a very genial man, and represents a company that stands high in the estimation of the Burlington public.

Mr. T. W. Lockwood related his experience in a few stirring remarks at the Red Ribbon meeting, last night.

—Confectioners are already conning over Christmas designs.

—Mendelssohn Quintette Club Concert at Union Hall to-night.

—But few persons now wear the old-fashioned open-in-front shirts.

—Attention is called to Dr. Aiken's card (read it) in another column.

—Plenty of fresh oysters at Peter Berens.

—A new barber shop, and only five cents for a shave are among the latest rumors.

—Keokuk Constitution: "Buckwheat has appeared in Burlington, and more scratched tickets are voted than ever." Oh, what a lie!

—The ball given by the cigar makers, last night, at Veteran Guard Hall, was largely attended and afforded much pleasure to all present.

—Mr. N. S. Dauth missed his step the other evening while attempting to jump on to a high sidewalk, and got a bad sprain. He is getting along well as could be expected.

—The pipe layers of the water works are today laying pipes in the street crossings, which they necessarily passed over when the rest of the street was being done.

—Mr. W. F. Coolbaugh's real estate was valued at $1,000,000 and he held stock to the amount of $450,000 in the Union National bank of Chicago. He will be buried in that city Saturday at eleven o'clock.

—Burlington Lodge No. 20, A. F. & A. M. Regular meeting Friday, Nov. 16, at 7½ p. m. Visitors invited.

W. E. WOODWARD, Secretary.

—Says the Monmouth Review: "A nail manufacturer of Reading, Pa., is in correspondence with parties in Monmouth with reference to removing his works here. It is not Beynon, nor is he of the Beynon stripe."

—Big fall in eggs, yesterday. One of the inhabitants of Dutchtown in attempting to board a freight train, at Agency avenue, missed his steps and was left sprawling in the mud. He carried a basket of eggs. There will be little chickens around there in the spring.

—Quite a ripple of excitement was raised about nine o'clock last night on Washington street. Two women were buggy riding and just as the moon was eclipsed they drove against the sidewalk. Those eclipses are dangerous when girls are driving fast. At any rate they toppled over into the gutter.

—The weather to-day is well calculated to make the hearts of the ladies glad. They can do all their shopping without their feet getting muddied, as the street commissioner is doing a most commendable thing by cleaning all the crossings down town.

—The sand boxes on the the street cars are working satisfactorily. It is only recently they have been used in this city, but their utility is evident to any person riding down hill on the cars. The sand is dropped on the track by means of a slide. It is used only when the track is slippery.

—In noticing the cuts in the Police News our attention was drawn to one in particular—the Cree Indians, about to have one of their dog feasts. It represents the squaws on the eve of the celebration, doing the slaughtering. They are wielding immense clubs, and of Root. She left, and soon returned with the required order, upon which she received the goods. But the transaction was looked upon with suspicion, and on investigation it was ascertained that Mrs. Root didn't give any such order and had sent no messenger. A policeman was called upon the scene. He recovered the goods. Caroline claims that another girl gave her the order. We understand there will be no prosecution.

Railroadistic.

Robert Harris, president of the C., B. & Q., passed through Burlington yesterday on his way to Chicago. He has been inspecting the road as far west as Omaha. He was accompanied by his brother, from Keokuk, and T. J. Potter, Supt. of the B. & M.

The C., B. & Q. force are engaged in digging a ditch down in the yard to lay a gas pipe. They are about erecting a large lamp on the south side of the Cedar Rapids platform. It is something that is much needed in that locality. We are glad to see such a good work in operation.

The Oquawka Spectator says: "The morning train from Burlington, on the Galva route, connects at Sagetown with the C., B. & Q. train from the east and west, and arrives at Oquawka at 7:40."

The Leader has this to say about the railroad rupture at Des Moines: "A result of the bad feelings engendered by the struggle between the two ends of the old Des Moines Valley Road is, that the Des Moines & Fort Dodge Road, or northern end, has transferred its carrying business to the C. R. I. & P., taking it from the K. & D. M. end and C. B. & Q. We understand that this business amounted to about $50,000 a year.

KEOKUK RAILROADS PULLING UP STAKES.

Keokuk Constitution: "Yesterday afternoon a rumor gained an extensive circulation which was to the effect that the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad had bought the Des Moines and Ft. Dodge road, and there were many speculations as to how this sale would affect the K. & D. M. Many theories were offered, one being that it would cut off a great deal of business from the K. D. M., another that it would eventually lead to the track between Keokuk and Ottumwa being taken up, as this portion of the road, it was said, was losing money all the time. There was another report which said that the Des Moines and Ft. Dodge had cancelled its joint freight tariff with the K. & D. M., and would give all of its business to the Rock Island road in the future.

A Constitution reporter hunted for the truth of the matter and by interviewing the K. & D. M. officials found, first, that they had heard of the reported sale, but did not believe it; second, that there was no foundation whatever for the taking up of the track story; third, that the joint freight tariff would be cancelled to-day, and in future the D. M. & Ft. D. would throw all the business they could to the C. R. I. & P., which would, of course, affect the business of the K. & D. M. to a certain extent. That is about the truth of the matter in a nut shell."

Lucius Pease, an old resident of Kirkwood, was run over and killed by the cars at that place last Wednesday noon. The passenger
