equilibrium, and the outcome is a purification of the air.

The larger participation of men in the life of the home, will be the evangel that shall add to their splendid heritage the saving grace that comes from their final coronation with what Tennyson calls "childward care."

It remains forever true that not until the duty of Christian citizenship becomes part and parcel of the daily religion of the household, shall we have reached the level of the simple demand made by the Gospel, and the household includes women!

The new impulse in our politics is sharpening the perception of the people concerning the sacredness of law. If any man in a prohibition state points out that "prohibition does not prohibit," he ought as an American citizen to be ashamed to admit it, for after all what does such a declaration mean? It has been well said that it involves nothing less than the red hand of the saloon anarchist at the throat of the government.

The influx of an illiterate foreign population is the chief menace of the republic. There should be held before them the inducement of mastering our language, and they should be hedged away from the ballot-box by a probation of at least five years.

Our contention is and will always be that woman is, first of all, a daughter of God, whose powers of thought and action should be left free that she may know the truth; and that next she is a daughter of humanity, whose relation to the state should be equal to that of her brother man.

What the world waits for is not the new woman alone, but the new man. We need a new man in the editor's sanctum who will not dip up beer along with his ink; a new man in the pulpit who will recognize the right and the sore need of the church to the complete participation of women in all its exercises and its

Another good man has finished his pilgrimage on earth, and has gone home to his reward. He triumphed over every foe. Even the grave had no terror, and death no sting. This is according to the promise, "I will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on me, because he trusteth in me." So the death of a christian is a peaceful translation.

Joseph F. Randolph was born in Butler Co., Ohio, May 15, 1809. He came to Iowa and settled in Henry Co. in 1852. In 1857 he represented this county in the state legislature, and bore an honorable part in the work of that body. He married Sarah Woodmausee, for his first wife. Seven children resulted from this union. Columbus, William, Daniel, Thomas, Anna, Benjamin and Julia. These are all living except Benjamin who died in the army, and Julia who died in girlhood. Anna is the wife of Mr. J. D. Bartlett living at Pleasant Hill. Mrs. Randolph died in Dec. 1854. In 1856 he married Mrs. Rebecca Gardner, formerly Miss Rebecca Payne. One child, a daughter Nevada, now Mrs. M. E. Witte, blessed his union. Mrs. Rebecca Randolph died in Aug. 1885. Mr. Randolph was converted when he was ten years old, and joined the Methodist church of which he was a worthy member for more than seventy-six years. He was an ordained minister of that religious body for a short time. On account of a throat trouble, he gave up preaching regularly, but pursued the work of a local preacher until he was too old and feeble. He died at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Witte, Dec. 3, 1895, at the good old age of 86 years, 6 months and 18 days. The funeral was held at the home of Dr. Witte, Dec. 5, 1895, and he was laid to rest in Forest Home Cemetery to await the further blessing of God.
