life! Truly, "in the midst of life we are in death."

William had many warm and devoted friends, a large number of whom, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, attended his remains to their last resting place on Sabbath last. Rev. Jos. Gassner delivered a funeral discourse on the occasion, at the residence of the parents of the deceased.

How blessed are they whose transient years
Pass like an evening meteor's flight;
Not dark with guilt, nor dim with tears;
Whose course is short, unclouded, bright.
O, cheerless were our lengthened way,
But heaven's own light dispels the gloom,
Streams downward from eternal day,
And casts a glory round the tomb.
Then stay thy tears—the blessed above
Have hailed a spirit's heavenly birth;
Sing a new song of joy and love,
And why should anguish reign on earth?
Fairfield, March 9, 1857.

All one can see of the graves is one headstone leaning against a tree. It says:

JAMES, son of J. and Jane PARK, died June 26, 1854, aged 11 yrs. _____, 28 days.

"The corner showing the months is broken off. Also against the tree is a footstone with initials J.P. In the grass nearby is a sandstone marker lying on its side. Mr. Messer says there were 5 or 6 graves when they moved there when he was a little boy. The stones have gradually fallen over and most of them carried to a fence row or something such.
