at Odd Fellows' hall. Visting brethren fraternally invited.

—The census enumeration gives Hannibal a population of 12,500. Keokuk has a population exceeding that of our neighbor by 2,000.

—M. Speisberger & Son are making improvements to their room in the way of additional shelving to accommodate their increased fall stock.

—A number of girls in the city have the habit of humming some tune quite audibly just after passing gentlemen on the street. They are soon marked.

—Soda water, cold and the best at Surry & Co.

—At to-night's performance at the opera house the curtain will not rise until 9 o'clock in order to accommodate those wishing to see the fireworks display.

—Smoke Radasch's "Orchestra."

—Horace Washburn, one of the early settlers of Lee county, died at his home in Argyle, Wednesday night, aged seventy-five years. His funeral occurred yesterday afternoon.

—Julius Huggins, cook at the Hotel Keokuk, and Miss Libbie Hammond were married, last evening, by Rev. John Burgess. The bride is but fifteen years of age.

At Quincy, to-day, will occur the political shoot for the American Field by fifty. A $150 silver cup, won in this "ratic" June 19, by John Bonecamp. Several local sportsmen will be in attendance.

—Lelsy's new beer "Pochette" in individual packages. Telephone 84.

—Almost any afternoon this warm weather, if you are on the Keokuk and Hamilton bridge, you may see about a dozen large turtles sunning themselves on a log, stranded just south of the west approach.

—The funeral services of Edward, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bragman, occurred at the family residence, No. 220 South Eleventh street

—A paper in a neighboring town the following concerning youths that are unfortunately every community: "There are young men in the city who cling long to the secret detective, but they are no more fitted for the position than they are to preach the gospel. One of them is now languishing in the city prison and it will cost him $50 to get out. He is not qualified to use the plasters than to be a detective."

—Wednesday's Hannibal surprise party was given last evening at the residence of John Tracy, south side, in honor of Mr. Bradley and Miss Kittie Bal Keokuk, who is visiting Mrs. J. S. Taylor. It was a pleasant affair, and the young men entertained their "stormers" in an agreeable manner. The evening was spent in music, games, conversation, etc., and at a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served.

—Give Geo. Radasch a call at his garage.

—At the next meeting of the council, an ordinance will be passed wherein certain things are asked of the city by the Keokuk Union company. The company will vacate all of Water street, south side of Johnson and the side of Bank streets and the street extending out to the Wabash grant. Space is also asked to be left apart for a track through the yard of the St. L., K. & N. W. railway. The company wish that trains be permitted to run at a rate of six miles an hour between Orleans and Bank street, eight miles an hour south of Bank street. The company agrees to maintain a roadway thirty feet wide, between the depot building and the bluff.

As a representative member of the legal profession of Lee County, the publishers of this ALBUM take pleasure in presenting the portrait of Mr. Hughes in this work.

HON. HORACE WASHBURN. The subject of this biography is one of the honored old settlers of Des Moines Township, where he has carried on farming successfully for the last thirty-five years, and is consequently one of the familiar landmarks in this section of the Hawkeye State. He is an extensive land-owner, having at the time of coming here purchased 900 acres, which was then wild and unbroken. He has since that time been actively engaged in its cultivation and improvement, and now has 360 acres of the finest land in this part of the country, the larger part of which is under a high state of cultivation.

Mr. Washburn is a native of Canada West, and was born in Leeds County, April 13, 1815. His father, Ebenezer Washburn, was a native of Vermont, and came of an old family who were prominent in the early politics of the United States. His father took him to Canada when a boy, and he remained there until he was married to Miss Hannah Sexton, also a native of Vermont, of German descent and New England parentage. They remained three years in Canada after their marriage, and until after the birth of their son, our subject, when they came back to the United States, crossed the Mississippi, and settled in Lee County, Iowa, where the decease of the father occurred in Des Moines Township. The mother died in 1845. They were most excellent and worthy people, and highly respected wherever they made their home.

Horace Washburn came into Iowa in 1842, making his first location in Charleston Township, this county, but shortly thereafter removed into Des Moines Township, which he has since made his home. He had received careful training from his excellent parents and had acquired habits of industry and economy, and, after coming here set himself industriously to work to establish a home and to become a man among men. His efforts, especially as regards the latter, were attended with success. One of his first ventures was the erection of a sawmill, with a grist attachment. This he had operated only a short time when it was destroyed by fire, and involved great loss to Mr. W. He soon, however, recovered from this disaster, and then turned his attention to the pursuit of agriculture, in which he has been fairly successful.

Mr. Washburn was married at Nauvoo, Ill., to Miss Caroline Mott, a native of the Dominion, and of the same county as himself. She remained with her parents until she became a young woman, and came with them to Iowa. She became the mother of six children, four of whom survive—Lydia, George, Martha and Horace M.; the deceased are Tabor, and an infant unnamed. The faithful wife and mother departed this life at her home in this township, in about 1856, on the 10th of March. Mr. Washburn's second marriage was solemnized with Miss Lydia A. Hutchinson, a native of Ohio, and of this union have been born six children—Caroline, Sarah, Esther, Harry, Clara and Maria; one is deceased.

In politics Mr. Washburn was formerly a Republican, but considered that he had reason to change his views, and now casts his vote with the Democratic party. He has represented his county in the State Legislature for one term, with great credit to himself and satisfaction to all concerned. The family occupy a fine homestead, everything in and around it giving evidence of taste, culture and ample means. Mr. Washburn is a striking example of what a young man with strong hands and habits of industry may accomplish. He has been mainly self-educated, and has made the most of his opportunities in life. All honor is due him for what he has accomplished, and for surmounting difficulties which would have dismayed many a man with less courage and determination.

WILLIAM WILLIAMSON, a prosperous merchant of Primrose Village, in Harrison Township, has been a resident of this section for over twenty years, and in that time has built up for himself an enviable reputation as a
