Carolina. They emigrated to Illinois at an early day, where the father worked at his trade of wagon-making. In their family were nine children, of whom our subject was the third in order of birth. He was reared in Illinois, and received his education in the common schools. In December, 1880, he was united in marriage, becoming the husband of Miss Elmira Martin, of Grand View, who is a daughter of Joseph and Mary Martin, whose sketch appears on another page of this work. To them have been born an interesting family of five children—Arthur, Edna, Clarence, Morris and Laura.

In his political views Mr. Bridges is a Republican, and an active worker for that party. He keeps himself well informed on all subjects of the day, both local and National. Besides his property in the village of Grand View, he is the owner of 120 acres of land in Woodbury County, Iowa, and in his business has been quite successful. Doing only first-class work in a fair, honest way, his trade constantly increases, and although a young man he bids fair to gain a comfortable competency.

O I. JAMISON, editor and publisher of the Columbus Gazette, of Columbus Junction, was born in Pickaway County, Ohio, Jan. 12, 1845, and is a son of William D. and Isabella (Seeds) Jamison. His father was born in Madison County, Ohio, in 1814, and was descended from Scotch-Irish ancestry, while his mother was born in Pennsylvania, in 1812, of Irish descent. In 1854 our subject came to Iowa with his parents, the family settling in Wapello Township, this county, where his youth was passed on a farm. His primary education was received in the public schools, supplemented by a course in the Iowa Wesleyan University of Mt. Pleasant. In 1868 he secured a position as teacher in the schools of Wapello, and there taught for two years, after which he spent a year or two in the live-stock business in Texas and Missouri.

On the 12th of January, 1872, Mr. Jamison was married to Miss Mary J. Gillis, who was born in Pennsylvania, and is a daughter of Ridgeway B. and Margaret (McBain) Gillis, and a granddaughter of Gen. McBain, of the British army, who fought in the battle of Waterloo. Her paternal grandfather fought in the famous battle of Lundy's Lane as an American patriot. Mr. and Mrs. Jamison have one child, a son, William D., who was born in 1873, is a practical printer in his father's office, and an expert compositor.

Soon after his marriage Mr. Jamison engaged in farming in Wapello Township, carrying on that occupation until 1878, when he again became Principal of the Wapello schools, which he taught from that date until 1883. He then bought the Wapello Times, a weekly Democratic paper, which he conducted at Wapello until 1884, when he moved the office to Columbus Junction, and changed the name of the paper to the Louisa County Times, under which name he published it until Jan. 1, 1886, when he sold it to George P. Neal, the present Postmaster of Columbus Junction. In September, 1887, he again bought the paper, the name of which had been changed in the meantime to the Columbus Gazette, and has since continued its publication. This is the only Democratic paper in Louisa County, and is a newsy, wide-awake journal, true to its name in advocating a just and equitable system of general and local government in opposition to class legislation in the interest of capital, monopolies and trusts, and under the delusive pretense of protection to labor. Mr. Jamison is a thorough Democrat, a fluent and easy writer, and is doing good work in the interest of Louisa County and his party. He has a well-equipped job office, and is securing a fair share of the business in that place.

G BARSTOW WILLIAMS, a prominent farmer residing on section 11, Columbus City Township, is an honored pioneer of Louisa County. He is a native of Fayette County, Ind., and a son of Robert and Elizabeth (Wright) Williams, who were born in the State of New York. The father was a farmer by occupation, and migrated to Indiana about 1815, settling in Fayette County, where he entered 160 acres of land, and improving it made it his home until 1828, when he sold out and bought another farm, upon which he resided until 1836. Emigrating to Iowa at that time he became one of the early settlers of Louisa County, where he bought 160 acres of land in Wapello Township, where he resided until his death, which occurred in 1855, at the age of seventy-three years. The mother having died in 1824, when our subject was seven years old, Robert Williams was again married, becoming the husband of Elizabeth Hart, who was also born in the Empire State. Mr. Williams reared a family of twenty children, ten of whom were born of his first union, namely: Mary, who became the wife of Aaron McCrae, and after his death married Nathaniel Dunham, is now deceased; Sarah married George Jones, of Connersville, Ind., and both have passed away; Wright, who died in Louisa County, was Judge of the County Court, served as a member of the Legislature, aided in framing the Constitution of the State of Iowa in 1846, and his death occurred in 1857; Dennis, who had served as Recorder of Louisa County, died in Missouri in 1873; Electa became the wife of Leonard Robinson, and both are now dead; Amelia married Thomas Stockdard, and both are deceased; Mercy became the wife of William Nicholson, and both are also deceased; Zebina, who died in Kansas in 1871, was formerly a prominent citizen of Louisa County. The above-mentioned children were born in New York, and after Mr. Williams removed to Indiana the following children were born: G. Barstow; Charles, a resident farmer of Putnam County, Mo. By the second union there were: Robert, who died in childhood; Cynthia became the wife of Robert Gregory, and is a resident of Colorado; Sarah is the wife of James Hickler, of this county; Louie Ann is the widow of a Mr. Alexander, and lives in Wapello; Louisa, deceased wife of Mr. Jillett; Emeline, wife of Mr. Weston, of Wapello; Oliver, deceased; Marietta died in childhood, and two other children died in infancy. The father was a member of the Christian Church, and a Whig in politics. Conservative, yet just to all, he was not only honored as a pioneer, but was highly esteemed as a citizen.

G. Barstow Williams, our subject, was born on the 12th of September, 1817, and was reared upon a farm, receiving his education in the common schools of a new country. With his parents he migrated to Louisa County, Iowa, in 1836, and entered a claim on section 33, Columbus City Township, of 200 acres, which he partly improved. At that time the nearest settlement was the Swank settlement in the Mississippi bottom, from which he was twenty-five miles distant. Several times he had great trouble with the Indians, who were very numerous in those pioneer days. During his first winter's residence in Louisa County they stole all his provisions and his only coat, and he was forced to walk twenty-five miles in his shirt sleeves through the biting cold. At another time an Indian stole his mittens, but Mr. Williams gave pursuit, chased him to his home, and took the mittens by force. In order to make a livelihood he was forced to cut rails at fifty cents per hundred, but the hardships and trials which come to those who make homes in a new county were endured with patience, and his hard labors were at length rewarded. He lived upon his first claim for about three years, and afterward purchased of his brother Zebina 191 acres on section 11, Columbus City Township, which still continues to be his home.

On the 14th of November, 1837, Mr. Williams was united in marriage with Miss Ann Hall, a native of Pennsylvania, and established his bride as the mistress of the pioneer cabin. By their union six children were born: Wright, a physician, now residing in Putnam County, Mo.; Lucy, wife of Elijah M. Strauser, of Newtown, Mo.; Warren, a stockman of the Indian Territory; Thomas, who is engaged in farming in Edwards County, Kan.; Millie, wife of Joseph Caldwell, Jr., of Colorado, and Alice, wife of Jacob Getts, whose home is in Edwards County, Kan. In 1853 death visited the pioneer home, and took as its victim the wife and mother. Mr. Williams was again married in 1854, becoming the husband of Cordelia Spafford, a native of Potter County, Pa., and by their marriage four children were born: Augusta, who is now the wife of Ed Watts, a resident of Cairo, Louisa Co., Iowa; Elizabeth, now deceased; Frank, proprietor of the Parker Mineral Wells, of Potter County, Pa., and Lawrence, whose home is in Columbus City, Iowa. The mother of these children departed this life Sept. 23, 1866, and Mr. Williams was the third time married, May 27, 1869, the lady of his choice being Eliza Rhodes, who was born in Hanover, Ohio, and is a daughter of Jehu Rhodes. The lady had formerly been married, and was the widow of B. F. St. Clair. Two children had been born of her former marriage, only one now living, Harry, a telegraph operator, of Bloomer, Miss. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are the parents of two children, Nellie and Arthur, both at home.

For forty-seven years Mr. Williams has been a member of the Christian Church, in which he holds the office of Deacon, and is one of the earnest and untiring workers. His wife, who is a most estimable lady, also belongs to that denomination. In his political views he is a supporter of the Republican party. For fifty-two years he has been a resident of Louisa County, and is a pioneer in every sense of the word. He has aided in the development of the county, has transformed the wild and unbroken prairies into farms of the greatest fertility, has aided in every enterprise for the good of the community, and has always been ready to advance the educational, social and moral interests. As a citizen, he is reliable and trustworthy, as a neighbor and friend, is hospitable and kind, and as a father and husband, is loving and considerate. His life has been a blessing to the community, and we are pleased to record his sketch among the other pioneers who have placed Louisa County in the front rank in the great State of Iowa.

Mr. Williams is at this time (1888) the oldest living settler in the county. He still has in his possession the stump from which he cut the first tree with which he built his first camp fire after his arrival here, on the 4th of July, 1836.

WILLIAM J. CRAMMOND, agent for the Council Bluffs Insurance Company, a resident of Columbus Junction, was born at Putnam, Washington Co., N. Y., on the 31st of October, 1845, and is a son of James B. and Sarah R. (Calkins) Crammond. His father, who was born May 7, 1815, at Putnam, N. Y., was a son of James Crammond, who emigrated from England to America in 1814, and settled in that city. The mother was a native of the Green Mountain State, though she early became a resident of New York, and her death occurred at Columbus City, Iowa, in 1858.

In 1855 our subject came to Iowa with his parents, the family settling at Columbus City, Louisa County, where Mrs. Crammond died Sept. 10, 1858, and where the father worked at his trade, that of carpenter and joiner, until within a few years, since which time he has been engaged in farming near Cairo, Marshall Township, where he still resides. William J. received a common-school education, and in December, 1863, enlisted in the late war as a member of Company C, 11th Iowa Infantry. He had previously offered his services, but on account of his insufficient age had been refused admission to the ranks. He served in the Army of the Tennessee under Sherman, and was mustered out May 17, 1865. While in the hospital at Keokuk during the war, he attended commercial college, thus securing a business education, and on his return from the army learned the harness trade at Columbus City. One year later he went to Kossuth County, Iowa, where he spent a year on a claim, living in a sod shanty, and enduring more privations than he did while in the service. Provisions were scarce in the country and could not be had either for love or money, even when most needed. While living in his shanty Mr. Crammond paid $11.50 for 100 pounds of flour, and $3 per bushel for corn. One year on the claim satisfied his desire for that sort of life, and at the earliest opportunity he returned to civilization, becoming a resident of Dakotah, Humboldt Co., Iowa, in April, 1867, where he worked at his trade of harness-making for six years.

In 1873 our subject left Dakotah, and went to Algona, Kossuth Co., Iowa, where he again engaged in farming, but owing to the grasshoppers having destroyed his entire crop, he became discouraged, and abandoned that occupation at the end of one year, and returned to his trade, going into business on his own account, and continuing for about twelve years, during which time he was successful in accumulating a good property, consisting of 120 acres of good land in Livingston Township, Kossuth County. In April, 1887, he located at Columbus Junction, forming a partnership with Andrew B. Shipman, who was also a soldier of the late war, Ancestry.com. 1850 United States Federal Census [database on-line]. Provo, UT, USA: The Generations Network, Inc., 2005. Original data: United States of America, Bureau of the Census. Seventh Census of the United States, 1850. Washington, D.C.: National Archives and Records Administration, 1850. M432, 1,009 rolls.

Description:
This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1850 United States Federal Census, the Seventh Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1850 Federal Census.
