To-morrow Evening.

Precisely at 6:15 to-morrow evening the little city of Appleton will record among its annals an event full of society damages at $5,000. The deceased lady has the sympathy of the entire community, and if Ira A. Roberts had not made himself scarce he would evidently ere this, have received something more substantial than the universal condemnation of the entire surrounding country. — Appleton Courier.

Boiler Explosion at Osceola.

About noon on Tuesday, November 23d, the boiler in the Eclipse Mills at Osceola, St. Clair county, exploded, killing instantly the proprietor, Mr. Emil Witts, and so injuring Richard Gover (colored) the fireman, that he died a few hours after. It is supposed the explosion occurred from want of water in the boiler. The engine room and a part of the main building, including a vast amount of machinery was shattered into a perfect wreck.

In Memoriam.

WILLIAM STERLZ was born January 29, 1799, at Mt. Sterling, Montgomery county, Ky., where he continued to reside until 1836, when he emigrated to Springfield, Ill., where he married in the year 1839; and it was from here that he enlisted and served in the Blue Hawk war side by side with Abraham Lincoln, with whom he had long been personally acquainted in boyhood. From here he moved to Iowa (then the Territory of Wisconsin) in the year of 1836 when Burlington and Keokuk were Indian towns and trading posts and settled in what is now Lee county, at West Point. He represented this county for three consecutive terms in the Iowa Legislature, from 1839 to 1847, and was elected to the constitutional convention in 1846, and it was through the exertions of such men as he that Iowa has the best constitution and code of laws of any state in the union. In 1830 he united with the Baptist church, since which time he has lived an exemplary christian life, liberal in all his charities, strictly honest in all his dealings.

the business men in the way of advertising and job work. For its subscribers it depends principally upon the farmers. If the business men of a town do not properly patronize the local paper, they cannot expect the farmers to patronize the town. A well patronized local paper is a sure sign of well patronized merchants, and vice versa. A niggardly patronized local paper is an infallible sign that the business of the town is in bad shape.

A practical woman remarked the other day, that she read the advertisements in a newspaper more closely than anything else. "And long ago," she said, I quit buying of those who do not advertise. It seems to me that the merchant who advertises, invites me to trade with him, while the one who do not advertise impresses me with the idea that he does not want my trade badly enough to ask for it. Then too, the merchant who advertises has fresher goods for the reason, I suppose, that he sells more and can necessarily sell some cheaper."

Grand Army Reunion.

If our merchants and business men appreciate a good thing when they see it, they will subscribe the necessary money to secure the holding of the G. A. R., of this district, embracing some half a dozen counties, at this place. As a strictly business investment it will pay ten fold. The amount required is not large, compared with the benefits which will accrue. The reunion will last four days and it is expected ten thousand visitors—old soldiers with their families and friends will be present most of the time. We learn that a soliciting committee will call on our business men soon and if they want the reunion they can secure it. Let us have it by all means.

Our Lecture Course.

The lecture course, gotten up by Prof. Beeson last fall, has proven an immense success. The fourth number of the course of five was the Mozart Symphony, gave employment and advice and was always the friend of the poor and needy. This world of ours seems to have too few men like the late John M. Hoagland.

A McKinley Dinner.

On the 23d of last month, Grandma Steele, mother of John Steele and Mrs. Dr. Everingham, of our city, was 86 years old and instead of celebrating the event at that time, concluded to postpone the affair until the day McKinley was inaugurated as president, which was on Thursday last. It was strictly a family affair, only relatives—children and families, grand children and families, and great grand children were the only participants in the happy event, save and excepting the editor of the RECORD and wife, who have been favored and honored with the friendship of Grandma Steele for the past quarter of a century.

Mrs. Steele makes her home with her son John, on Pine street, and it was here that the party assembled to honor the matron of four score and six years and enjoy with her, a sumptuous dinner of roast turkey with oyster dressing, with a profusion of vegetables and delicacies, including jellies, ices, cakes, etc.

Grandma Steele, as she is affectionately called by all who know her, is as lively, physically, as most women of half her age, and mentally is one of the brightest women with whom we have ever been acquainted. She is a great reader and keeps thoroughly posted on current events, especially those of a political character. Being a Republican she has the utmost confidence in President McKinley and has not the least doubt but what he will lead the country out of the slough of despondency and despair into which it has been thrown by the free trade democracy. We wish the venerable lady many years of happiness, surrounded by living descendants and admiring friends.

Mrs. NANCY STEELE.

Grandma Steele, as she has been lovingly designated for many years by all her acquaintances, passed away on last Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of her son John Steele, Esq., on Pine street, this city. She was the mother of Mrs. Dr. Everingham, Mrs. Sussie Vallient, Messrs. Levi, John, Winfield and Henry Steele, all well known in Bates county. She was 86 years old in February last, but celebrated the event on March 4, the day Mc-Kinley was inaugurated, by an elaborate dinner, an account of which was given in the RECORD at the time.

She was, up to the time of her last illness, as well in mind and body as the average person of sixty, and took great satisfaction and pleasure in the society of her children, friends and neighbors.
 She was a woman of strong mental faculties and during her later years was a great reader of politics and current events, and as a result was thoroughly posted on all the leading questions of the day. She was taken ill less than a week previous to her death with a low form of fever with pneumonia symptoms and although she had the best medical care and nursing, she gradually failed until the end came on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She has gone to receive the award of a well spent life of over four score and six years.

Her remains were laid to rest yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Oak Hill Cemetery, by loving hands, where they will await the resurrection morn. What an incentive to an upright, honorable life, was the lifework and death of Grandma Steele. We shall not soon look upon her like again.

OAK HILL CEMETERY

"Nancy F., wife of Col. James M. Cogswell, died June 16, 1860 in the 63rd year of her life."

The above inscription on a plain marble slab for seventy-six years has marked the final resting place of the first body to be buried in what is now Oak Hill Cemetery. The burial of Mrs. Cogswell, wife of a pioneer resident of this community, took place on June 17, 1860, as Civil War clouds gathered. The plain marble slab, secured at Independence, Mo., was placed on the grave some time after this date, and due to the unsettled conditions of the impending civil strife the stone was never set as originally intended and still lies flat on the ground.

There is much history of the community to be learned by a stroll thru Oak Hill Cemetery with Sam White, who has served since 1882. Mr. White, now 80 years of age, carried in his mind the locations of the grave sites of hundreds of residents of the community, long since departed, and can give off-hand a brief life summary of many who helped to make Butler and Bates County history. Mr. White has resided on the same tract of land adjoining the cemetery since June 1, 1867.

Referring again to the events leading up to the last sad rites of Mrs. Cogswell and to those which established beautiful Oak Hill Cemetery, we find the following facts set forth in an article which appeared in an early edition of the old "Bates County Record":

"Some time during the autumn of 1856 when Butler was laid out as the county seat of Bates County, an old gentleman from Jackson County, Mo., by the name of James M. Cogswell, purchased 240 acres of land east of and adjoining the town and built his house, a common frame with a large old-style chimney. Here in this house in the month of June 1860, Nancy F. Cogswell sickened and died. As there was no cemetery then within several miles of Butler, he selected a spot for burial about one-fourth of a mile northeast of his dwelling. The place was covered with young oak trees. Here in this secluded place on a beautiful summer morning, the 17th day of June, while the wild bees were humming among wild prairie flowers that grew everywhere about in rich profusion, did Col. Cogswell with his family and a few friends, lay to rest his good wife.

In due course of time, others of the vicinity who lost friends were by the courtesy of Col. Cogswell, permitted to bury them in the grove, near the grave of Mrs. Cogswell. As he was quite an old man, it was the intention of the Colonel after death, to be laid here beside his wife. But how uncertain are human affairs and expectations! The war coming on, Col. Cogswell, with all the other people of Bates County, were compelled to leave the county. He, with the rest of his family, moved to Otterville, in Cooper Co. One day he went out of his home and stayed longer than usual. As he was old and feeble, a search was made and he was found in an adjacent corn field, stone dead, and now lies buried in Otterville."

Soon after the war his estate was administered on by James F. White, and his land was sold. The people of Butler realizing the need of a tract of land for a cemetery, purchased ten acres of it, including the grave of Mrs. Cogswell, the north fourth of the N.E.N.E. of Section 22, Twp. 40, Range 31. The city employed Mr. Samuel Wade, a surveyor, to plat out five acres, the west end of said tract, into cemetery lots, which is now called the old cemetery. Later the Council employed Mr. M.L. Wolfe, then the county surveyor, to plat and lay out the east half of the said ten acre tract. The plat was destroyed by fire when the Walton Opera House burned. In 1868 when Col. Cogswell's land was sold, Capt. E.P. Henry bought the 30 acres immediately south of the old cemetery, and afterwards sold the same to the Fair Association.

The Bates County Fair Association maintained a race track and fair ground on this tract of land purchased from E.P. Henry for a number of years. November 12, 1881, the Fair Association resolved to discontinue exhibitions on this land and to convert the tract into a cemetery, and to form a joint stock company for that purpose. June 7, 1882 Articles of Incorporation of the Oak Hill Cemetery Association were adopted, and the ground passed to the new organization.

The corporation, composed of prominent residents of the county of that day, was capitalized for $2,500.00. Shares had a par value of $125.00 and twenty shares were issued, one share to each of the following gentlemen: John A. Patterson; Anthony Henry; T.O. Boulware; S.P. Day; T.J. Day; A.E. Beatty; J.S. Wright; J.R. Simpson; H.M. Cannon; J.E. Clark; F.J. Tygard; George Myers; John B. Newberry; T.D. Rafter; R.G. Hartwell; J.N. Bradley; T.W. Childs; A. Bermerman; J.T. Smith; and J.R. Jenkins. The first board of directors of the corporation was composed of J.R. Jenkins, T.J. Day, H.M. Cannon, R.G. Hartwell, J.T. Smith, J.R. Simpson, and A. Henry.

It might be interesting to note at this time that of the twenty original stockholders of the Oak Hill Cemetery Association, only two survive. They are T.J. Day and J.T. Smith, both of this city.

At a meeting of the stockholders February 19, 1883, a resolution was adopted to convey the cemetery to the City of Butler, with the provision that each stockholder retain one block of ground. The deed was executed March 29, 1883 by J.R. Jenkins as president of the Association.

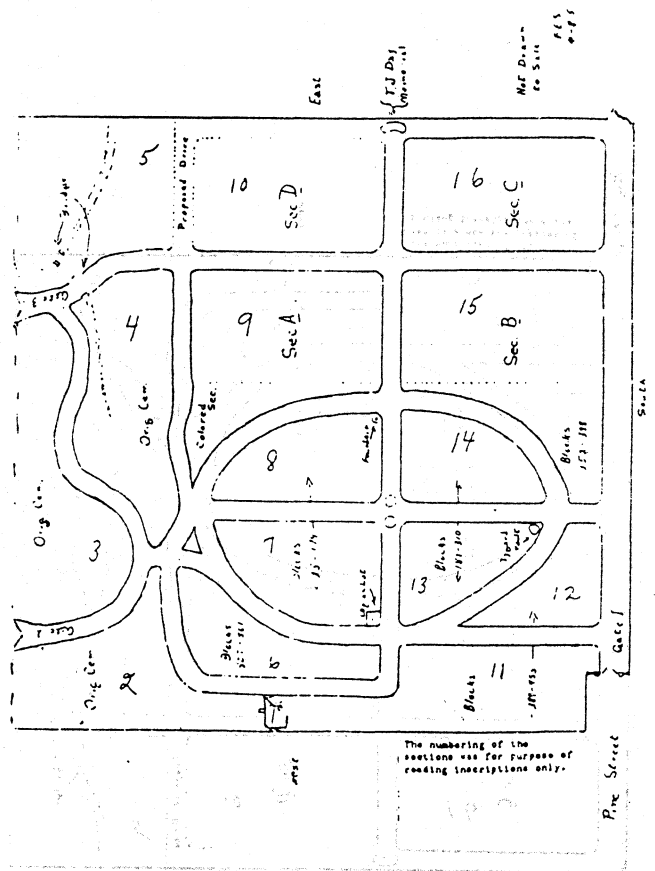

Oak Hill Cemetery today contains the mortal remains of more than four thousand persons, and there are thirteen hundred unmarked graves. Some of these buried here were prominent men and women of their day, who took leading parts in the upbuilding of this and other communities; others were little known perhaps, outside their own families. But all these departed sleep the everlasting sleep in beautiful Oak Hill."

The above article was written in 1936. It states there were approximately 4000 burials in Oak Hill at that time. A low estimate of burials is 125 per year. Therefore adding 125 burials per year for more than forty years more, would mean more than 9000 burials made in Oak Hill.

In 1964, a new tract, Baby Land, was developed. In the early 1960's a beautiful fountain was erected near the south gate. In 1965 a five acre tract of land was purchased on the west side, which has made a beautiful burial plot adjoining the existing cemetery.

Reading of inscriptions in the cemetery to make permanent records of our pioneers, who established and developed our county, have been made in the past. Now in 1979, the whole cemetery will be read to bring all records up-to-date and continue the preservation of history.
