JOURNAL OF THE HOUSE

First Calendar Day - First Session Day

Hall of the House of Representatives
Des Moines, Iowa, Monday, January 11, 2021

Pursuant to chapter two (2), sections two point one (2.1) and two point three (2.3), Code of Iowa, the House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly of Iowa, 2021 Regular Session, convened at 10:03 a.m., Monday, January 11, 2021.

The House was called to order by the Honorable John Wills, state representative from Dickinson County.

Prayer was offered by Reagan Grassley. She is the daughter of Speaker Grassley.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Thank you for bringing us here today.

Thank you for giving these leaders the opportunity to not only serve the state of Iowa, but to serve you.

You are a good father who promises beauty for ashes and joy for our sadness, but we are hurting Father. This world is hurting. We pray that we can learn to love ourselves, and others in this room, more like you.

In a broken world these truths remain; you are pain taker, a way maker, and a chain breaker.

May our lives be a direct reflection of who you are and our service would show your goodness.

We pray that you will continue to protect us and keep us safe.

In your son's name we pray, Amen.

PRESENTATION OF SPEAKER

The Honorable Pat Grassley was escorted to the Speaker's station and United States Senator Chuck Grassley administered the oath of office. Temporary Speaker John Wills presented Speaker Pat Grassley with the gavel and congratulated him on his unanimous election.

Speaker Grassley thanked the House for the honor bestowed upon him and offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY SPEAKER GRASSLEY

Ladies and gentleman of the Iowa House of Representatives, it is a pleasure to be back in this historic chamber with all of you. And it is an honor to begin my second session serving as Speaker of the Iowa House.

First, I can go no further until I say a big thank you to my family here with me today. Especially my mom and dad and my three kids Indee, Reagan and Chance, I could not stand up here today, ready to do my duty for the people of Iowa and House District 50 without your sacrifices and your support.

Second, it's important to me that I thank the Republican House Majority for putting your faith in me once again to lead this caucus. We are coming off a successful election where Iowans made it known clearly and definitively that they want more of the pragmatic, responsible leadership the Republican-led House has provided over the last 10 years.

With House Republicans now representing 97 out of Iowa's 99 counties, we know -- now more than ever -- that we are ready to represent Iowans in every corner of this state. To our 14 new members, welcome. I look forward to hearing the fresh ideas and new perspectives you will bring to the table.

Majority Leader Windschitl, I'm honored to serve with you for another session. I look forward to all we will accomplish together for the people of Iowa.

Minority Leader Pritchard and all of my democratic colleagues, before all the inevitable disagreements that are sure to come this session, let's start by remembering all that we have in common. Like, for starters, our agreement that Iowa is the greatest state in the greatest nation in the world.

While it's the disagreements that will grab the headlines, and the controversies that will captivate social media, we know that much of the work we do in this building is bipartisan. That we can work together for the people of Iowa.

This session, let's show Iowans and the rest of the country that we can express our disagreements passionately and unequivocally without resorting to violence, aggression or contempt.

All of us have just spent time on the campaign trail connecting with our constituents, hearing their concerns, frustrations and priorities. Now it's time to act. In everything that we do this session, we must remember that we work for Iowans, not the other way around.

Last session was unprecedented. Nobody had a perfect playbook for all the challenges and uncertainty we faced.

Despite that, we were still able to pass a responsible budget, accomplish historic criminal justice reform that served as an example for Washington DC and other Legislatures across the country, and provide essential protections to churches, schools, and small businesses so they can remain open during this pandemic.

And lastly, the actions this Legislature has taken ensured that our state was able to hold a safe and secure election with record turnout.

We are entering this session more prepared. Iowans expect us to be here to do the job we've promised to do. And ensuring transparency in the process was top of mind as we prepared to begin the 2021 session.

We are able to build on what worked when we gaveled in last June while introducing new technology and better utilizing our largest spaces to ensure that we can do the jobs Iowans elected us to do safely and responsibly.

In a time of so much uncertainty, Iowans know that they can trust the same consistent, responsible leadership they've come to expect from House Republicans.

Because of that leadership, Iowa was ranked the most fiscally sound, and most resilient state in the country in terms of our budget's ability to handle the pandemic. Our reserve accounts are full, we have a healthy ending balance, and our commitments were fulfilled. For that reason, we are bouncing back quicker than other states.

As we address the budget for Fiscal Year '21, we must continue to provide the same level of disciplined budgeting that set us up for success in years past. We will fund Iowans' priorities, meet our commitments to the taxpayer, and we will do it in a responsible way.

It will be an even bigger task than ever before. But it is our responsibility to use the same common-sense approach everyday Iowans use when they maintain their own budgets back home.

As I've prepared for session, I can tell you almost every meeting I've had, regardless of what part of the state they were from or what political party they may affiliate with, the need to increase access to safe and affordable child care is a priority. Any sense of normalcy for our state during and after this pandemic depends on it.

But on this issue, we can't just return to the status quo. Our state was facing a child care crisis before COVID-19 even began. Often times, families are hesitant or outright reject a pay raise because it could result in the loss of their child care assistance.

This is the cliff effect, and it must be addressed because it is holding our workforce and our families back. It is incumbent upon the Legislature to provide an off-ramp from government assistance when it comes to child care.

One final thing I know many of our members heard as they talked with constituents was the absolute necessity to get our children back in the classroom.

Some schools have taken every effort to provide in-person learning. But in some areas of the state, parents and students who wanted to be back in school were met with at best a lack of responsiveness and at worst outright contempt.

Students are being trapped in situations that aren't what's best for them. It's time to empower parents to take the control back in deciding what's best for their child.

Let's be clear, getting our kids back in the classroom is critical to their mental health and wellbeing. This should be one of this legislature's top priorities - to ensure that every family that wants 100% in-person learning has access to it.

I'm eager to get back to work with all of you. Time doesn't stand still during COVID-19. Just like the people we serve, we have a job to do.

So I say to both the Republican and Democratic members of the Iowa House... Let's get to work.

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House... First, I want to thank you for your willingness to serve your fellow Iowans. You have each made sacrifices to be here and it is an honor to serve with you in this Chamber. It is an even greater honor to serve you, my colleagues, as the Speaker Pro Tem. I want to also thank my constituents back home who have provided me with the opportunity to represent them these past 6 years I am grateful for their faith in me to be able to represent their values.

Before I go much further, there are some very special people that I must thank because they make tremendous sacrifices so that I can serve here in Des Moines. They are my wife, Cami, and our three adult kids, Seth, Wes, and Mariah. They deserve a huge thank you from me.

The campaign of 2020 along with the many challenges of 2020 are behind us now. Here in Iowa for the year 2020 we had COVID, Derecho, rioting, and drought and we move from that in 2021 to unity to pull through these challenges. We must set aside our differences to do what is right for Iowan's.

Each of us in this chamber have different priorities and desires that both we and our constituents feel are important. I look forward to working with each one of you to accomplish these priorities in a way that makes Iowan's and each of our constituents be the priority. There will be times that we don't agree with one another, but we all understand that our shared goal is to make the lives of our fellow Iowans better. My hope is that we are able serve the people of Iowa with a government that is smaller and smarter.

Regardless where you stand on many of the issues that we will address this session, we move through those issues to govern our state for our citizens. My goal as a legislator, as is many of you, is to wisely spend the taxpayer's dollar, provide efficiency of government services, advance our freedoms and liberties like the 2nd Amendment and life, and ensure our government works for the people, not the other way around.

May God bless each of you and the Great State of Iowa! Thank you for your attention; it's time to get on with 2021 and ensure Iowa becomes stronger in all ways and Iowa's citizens become freer with their God-given liberties and freedoms.

REMARKS BY MINORITY LEADER PRICHARD

Good morning, Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the Iowa House. I want to give a special welcome to the new legislators and their families. I hope you find your time here rewarding as you serve the people of Iowa. Congratulations on your election.

We are living in tumultuous times and the pandemic has added to the challenges we already faced in Iowa from a shortage of good paying jobs, inadequate access to health care, low public school funding, and ignored environmental issues.

The first priority this session must be working to get the pandemic under control. A failure of leadership at both the federal and state level has already left over 4,000 Iowans dead and our state's response has been greatly inadequate.

Next, we need a robust COVID package focused on long-term recovery efforts to help our economy. We need aggressive plans to help families recover, get kids back in school safely, reopen small businesses, and support our dedicated health care workers who are the front line of this pandemic.

If you look at history, we are not in uncharted waters. Similar cycles have been met by our country in the past. We can COMPETENTLY address the pandemic. We can BUILD our economy, FIX our healthcare system, and PROTECT civil rights. We have the ABILITY and the RESOURCES to solve environmental problems and address climate change. Solutions are within reach. What is needed is leadership. We in this chamber need to acknowledge and address the difficulties that Iowans are facing.

Like many of you, I am deeply disturbed by the riots at our nation's capital and around the country. It epitomizes a lack of respect for our democratic institutions, traditions, and rule of law. Rioters have been motivated by lies contrived for political purposes. Those responsible for the riots, have crossed a line that no American, Democrat or Republican, should ever cross. This breach insults and threatens the very fabric of our democracy.

The riot in DC reminded me of El Salvador after their civil war. Early in my army career, I was stationed there. I witnessed a country torn apart by hate, violence, and mistrust. Their society was broken and crime was rampant. There were two competing police forces, one loyal to the former regime and one dominated by former rebels. What I remember most vividly are the stories of the atrocities, and the pain from years of war and loss. It is up to us, the newly sworn leaders, to protect our country from a fate of further division.

As a 25 year army veteran, I was outraged by the contempt shown for the ideals I have spent my adult life trying to protect. I spent a tour in Iraq, and I know an insurgency when I see one. On Wednesday, a Confederate flag, a BANNER OF OPPRESSION and TREASON, was paraded through the US Capitol. Explosive devices were placed at both the Democratic and Republican Party headquarters. People were killed, needlessly, including a police officer.

As an elected leader, I am disgusted at the reaction, or rather, the inaction, of many of my Republican colleagues in Iowa. For too long, politicians have not only enabled, but served as a willing partner, in the spread of misinformation about election fraud.

Silence is deafening. If you can't condemn this violence against our democracy, what will you condemn? Until you have committed yourself to truth and democratic ideals, you lose any moral high ground that you may try to claim.

I believe that truth and justice are the pillars of our democracy. As leaders in this great state and nation, I also believe it's a fundamental responsibility to strengthen, not weaken, those pillars.

But the insurrection has exposed deep cracks in those pillars that can't be fixed without change from our leaders.

- When the QAnon conspiracy is held out as truth and leaders claim that Covid-19 hasn't killed anyone, truth is the victim and more Iowans die.
- When the Governor defends those who question the legitimacy of our elections, a crack develops in the pillar of TRUTH.
- When a member of this chamber peddles election fraud conspiracy theories, and has written that Republicans will prevail because, in his words, "our side has the guns," there is another crack to the pillar of TRUTH.

This behavior threatens our democracy and our society. It must stop.

Now, in a new year and a new term, it is time to mend the wounds of a fractured country. We are the leaders who must work together to restore faith and hope in our future. We can do this together. We must for the sake of our democracy heal this country.

I challenge each one of us in this chamber to be the leader the moment requires. Put country and state before party politics, be true patriots. Be honest to constituents. Deal in truth, not the politics of fear and internet conspiracies. Help turn the tide. Do your part to strengthen our democracy.

I look forward to serving with you.

Representative Windschitl offered the following remarks:

REMARKS BY MAJORITY LEADER WINDSCHITL

Ladies and gentlemen of the 89th General Assembly, congratulations on your successful elections and welcome to the Iowa House. Running for elected office is not always an easy decision, and as we all know getting elected can be even more difficult. Thank you for your willingness to serve the people of Iowa and thank you also to your support teams back home. I for one know I could not do this job without the support of my wife Ivelisse or our daughters Anna and Addy. Thank you, ladies, for all you do to allow me to serve. I would also like to thank my constituents back home for giving me the privilege to be their voice in this building. I would also like to thank the House Republican caucus for trusting this knuckle dragging Marine to be their Majority Leader. It is an honor to serve all of you.

Our great country and state are going through extremely unprecedented times right now, and it is incumbent on all of us, as leaders throughout our state, to come together and embrace our shared values. We must lead by example and show Iowans that despite political differences we can work together for the betterment of those we serve. We have all witnessed the dysfunction that often comes out of Washington D.C., let us endeavor to not fall into the same partisan gridlock. When we see injustices let us all call them out together, put partisan ideologies aside, and move forward towards a solution.

We have a great deal of work ahead of us and I look forward to working with all of you to accomplish good public policy for all Iowans. Over the past ten years House Republicans have demonstrated to Iowans that we know how to responsibly budget and govern, this year will be no different. We have worked through many challenging issues over the years, some more difficult than others, including a global pandemic. At the end of the day we have proven that we know how to improvise, adapt, and overcome.

This last November, Iowans sent a clear and resounding message to their elected officials. They want less government, not more. They want more freedom and less restrictions. They want their tax dollars to work for them, not against them. As we move forward this session let us strive to advance policies and budgets that restore Iowan's freedoms and gets government off of their backs. The election proves that Iowans believe in the policies that House Republicans have pushed forward. Policies like lowering taxes, providing resources to our educational institutions, restoring Second Amendment freedoms, protecting the unborn, balancing the budget, and so much more. House Republicans have received the message loud and clear and we will continue to provide Iowans with the governance they deserve.

Speaker Grassley, Leader Prichard, I look forward to working with you both. House Republicans stand ready, willing and able to advance Iowans priorities. May God guide us in all that we do for the people of Iowa.

The work is before us, let us get to it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

On motion by Windschitl of Harrison, the House was recessed at 11:12 a.m., until 2:00 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The House reconvened at 2:16 p.m., Speaker Grassley in the chair.
