Subject: Iowa Emergency Response Commission Efficiency Review

The Iowa Emergency Response Commission - IERC's mission is to assist in improving communities' preparedness for handling chemical accidents, promoting cooperation among state and local government and industry, increasing public awareness of chemicals in the community and building information databases.

Employees from several different State of Iowa agencies either serve as commission members or assist in the administrative duties for this commission as required by Federal and State of Iowa statutes. The commission members and support staff pool resources to accomplish the mission of the IERC without a funding appropriation from the State of Iowa. As a result commission members and staff must continually work together to provide the best services using minimal resources.

While the IERC is not offering any immediate suggestions for efficiency improvements we will inform the commission members and staff of your request and will forward any that are offered in the future to the State Government Efficiency Review Committee.

Thank you for asking for the suggestions and please let me know if you have any questions.
