31 EXPLANATION

32 The inclusion of this explanation does not constitute agreement with 33 the explanation's substance by the members of the general assembly.

34 BACKGROUND. Current law provides for veterinary medical 35 services that include diagnosing or treating an animal's

1 injury. The services are required to be provided by a 2 veterinarian holding a license or temporary permit issued by 3 the Iowa board of veterinary medicine (Code chapter 169).
4 Certain exceptions apply which allow other persons to provide 5 limited services, such as persons performing accepted livestock
6 management practices (Code section 169.4).

7 BILL'S PROVISIONS. This bill provides an exception for 8 a person certified by the Iowa department of public health
9 as an emergency medical care provider (Code chapter 147A)
10 when diagnosing or treating a police service dog acting under 11 the supervision of peace officer (e.g., county sheriff or 12 deputy, police officer employed by a city, or member of the 13 department of public safety). The police service dog must 14 be injured while on duty, the injury must be severe, and the 15 veterinary medical services must be necessary to immediately
16 stabilize the police service dog's condition for a later
17 diagnosis or treatment by a licensed veterinarian or temporary 18 permit holder. The bill provides that an emergency medical 19 care provider is not required to diagnose or treat a police
20 service dog, cannot provide such a service prior to diagnosing
21 or treating a human at the scene of an emergency, and is not 22 civilly liable as a result of an act, omission, or decision
23 made when diagnosing or treating the police service dog.
